

Description - This is a story about a female cyborg who is sent to the past to get male sperm in order to save a future with only women on earth because a plague killed all men. This is not a terminator parody, but it has some elements.

It doesn't have any dialogue because she doesn't speak, she is on the past to achieve her objective only. So the scenes will have some sort of FemDom fetishe. Even when fucking, she will have a mean face.

Lydia Ann's Mission to Save Mankind

In the distant future, a plague killed all the men and the world is left with only women.

In order to save mankind, the scientists create a time machine to send someone to the past to get samples of sperm.

Because of the radiation the machine creates, it's impossible to send a human back, so a cyborg was created to use the machine.

Inside this bright light a sexy woman appears. Lydia starts scanning the guy ( it is a human male with lots of sperm and sees that he is not aroused. Then she scans the front page of the magazine and her boobs and ass increase size (
