1. Introduction

This Privacy Policy explains what data is processed when you use the KidsEdu app.

2. Data We Process in the App

KidsEdu does not directly request personal data such as name, email address, phone number, or location.

The app stores local, device-based functional data, for example:

- game progress (sessions, answers, scores);
- daily rewards and challenge status;
- premium access state (for example temporary unlocks).

This local data is used to run the app and support the learning experience.

3. Third-Party Services

Depending on the app build configuration, KidsEdu may use Google services:

a) Google Play Billing (subscriptions)

If a user starts a subscription, payment is processed by Google Play.

The app does not process card details directly; it only receives purchase state needed to activate premium access.

b) Google AdMob (rewarded ads)

For temporary unlocks, the app may show rewarded ads.

AdMob may process technical data/identifiers according to Google policies. The app declares the AD_ID permission.

c) Firebase Analytics and Crashlytics (monitoring)

In builds where monitoring is enabled, technical data and usage events may be collected for performance analysis and crash diagnostics.

d) Google Play Games Services (optional)

If this feature is enabled and the user signs in, scores may be submitted to Play Games leaderboards.

4. Permissions and Device Access

The app does not request sensitive permissions such as camera, microphone, contacts, or location.

5. Children's Data

KidsEdu is intended for children and is designed to minimize personal data collection.

Monetization features (subscriptions/rewarded ads) are intended to be managed by a parent or legal guardian.

6. Data Storage and Retention

Data processed by third-party services is handled by those providers under their own policies.

7. Data Sharing
