Townsend Sorghum Mill

Townsend's Sorghum has been produced on the same farm in Jeffersonville, Kentucky since the late 1800s. Townsend's Sorghum is currently being produced by the fifth generation, Danny Townsend. Danny took the reins of the family business in the mid-1980s. Since that time, Townsend's Sorghum has helped revive and grow Kentucky's sorghum industry. The Townsends also raise fruit and vegetable crops and honey.
