

Anis WAHABI

Resume

Anis is a highly qualified accountant and auditor, with 21 years of professional experience in accountancy, financial management, financial audit, and business consulting for public and private-sector companies, financial institutions, government, and international organizations throughout Africa, North Africa, and the Middle East. He is Certified Public Accountant; member of the Tunisian Certified Public Accountants Institute; former member of the National Council of Taxation and participated in the drafting and discussion of the National Budget Law. He has significant experience with investment and development projects financed by international financial institutions (USAID, World Bank, EU, UNDP, UNFPA, UNICEF), including the design of preparation of operating and financial management manuals for IFI-financed projects as well as project audits in Tunisia, Algeria, Mauritania, Lybia, Ivory Cost, Niger, Mali, Senegal, Djibouti, SAR, Egypt, Lebanon and Yemen.

Anis is specialized in is member of the National Council of Public Sector Accounting and President of the Tunisian commission responsible for the preparation of state accounting standards. He managed the first experience of preparation of the financial statements of the Tunsian State in 2020 and accompanied the International Cocoa Organization in his migration to IPSAS.

Anis has a large experience in both public policies design and assessment. His credentials include in Tunisia studies on assessment of tax system; assessment of local tax system, assessment of NGO's public policies and activities, diagnosis of the accounting organization and financial management of local authorities, assessment of national policy on waste management. In other countries, his experience includes mid-term review of the public financial management reform plan (PREM) in Mali end the assessment of the organization of local governance ministry in Libya.

In the field of decentralization, Anis has participated, as an international consultant in public finance sector and local governance with World Bank, SKL International, USAID, CILG VNG and International Office Law, in many works related on legal, organizational and financial issues, such as the drafting of the new code of local collectivities, the drafting of the implementing decrees of the new code of local collectivities related to the accounting system, assets registry and local governments financial audit the proposition of a charts of accountants of local collectivities, a study on redrafting the local tax and funding system, a drafting circular on assets registry of local governments, a study on Positioning Towards Land Value Capture and Provision of Data for the Global Compendium in Selected Countries, a study on strategic development of the HILF and Reform on local governments equalization. He participated also on the drafting the decentralization road map on financial issues in Libya.

Anis is the author and/or supervised several papers on decentralization issue and has participated in in several seminars on the issue of decentralization and public finance.

He is also author of several books in NGO management, IPSAS and IFRS.