

1 - What do you want to have in your life? (be specific, where with whom)

Money: house near krakow, a place in more sunny country. black audi r8, black and gold mustang shelby, Crimson lamborghini aventador svj. Could eat steaks everyday, pool. Traveling to more sunny and exotic places instead of seeing those gray, depressing, dirty towns. Great and fun thing I want to do is to change places for some months like going to and staying on Hawaii then to cold north Finland and working from there. Not worrying about spending too much on fuel. Going to shops for some even small things that can improve my look or day to day life and not paying much attention to cost.

People: I want to provide for my family and for those I love. Being the man achieving goal after goal and going through challenges with chin up, being unfazed after short term fail. Being financially free, not being depended on going to 9-5 job. Brothers that cover my back. I would be with my wife who supports me on the journey so when I need 100% of power to succeed and I am on 95% she gives me that 5% needed. Being a barrier a safety net for my family. People seeing me and instantly respecting me if they like me or not. Having 4+ children and building the bloodline

Physique: I want to be big and lean enough to be confident that I don't have worse physique than any other man. Not feeling clearly worse. Getting to professional fight tournaments.

2 - How will you know you achieved this? What will you see hear smell taste?

I would sense the happiness of my loved ones who surround me every day.

My peers instead of assuming I do dumb boring things and not taking my advice would be going and trying to imitate me and gaining my attention.

Most importantly: Struggling more to have a place for cars then getting ones 🕶️. I would look at my past and my start and where I am now and feeling the injection of pride

3 - What will happen if you get this result? How would your life change?

I could start buying things that would highly increase my day to day life. I would feel more power and Energy throughout the day. Results I achieved would drive me further for bigger goals.

I would have money to provide for other. Right now I am selfish by being selfish since I am aware I cannot just donate 1 million dollars on charity or buying operation for urgent help needed for family.

I would have more opportunities to expand with my image since I would have 1000x more power to influence others.

4 - What will happen if you don't get it?

Shit hole. I would have to agree that going and completing uni then going to normal job like my peers was the right thing to do. I would be constantly not being able to afford things I want and have to skip them. I would feel of being average instead of shining when going through normal place/driving

5 - What do you get to have by remaining the same person?

Not being able to afford what I want. Being stuck to 9-5 job, worse condition, less Energy.

Family not happy as I want them to be. Bigger and bigger bills struggling to pay them. God not being proud 6 - How do you know it's worth getting? What's so special about that?

Because these are one of those goals when I was a little kid: When I grow up I will be able to afford and drive mustang etc. So I guess its about damn time to get one. Its worth getting since being young rich is worth every hour of work when I picture this in my mind. God gave me opportunity so I am gladly going for it. Proving myself I can do great things and not being average

7 - How will this affect your life? Family, business, job, friends, etc.

I would be authority. Having a strong voice in conversations. People would feel more safe, happy around me. Old friends I knew calling

8 - What will be different as a result of having this?

My day to day life will be completely different of being able to focus on my business fully with. Bigger Brotherhood. I would have built character that opens door for bigger and better things like resilience to fear. Day number 1125 of feeling fear - who cares check. My health will be screaming of being pleased with healthy food and strong physique. Winning pushes you for more winning
