

Good Evening,

We're Exalted Guy Interactive and we're currently seeking a publisher for our latest game that's currently in the Greenlight process called, Interstellar Logistics Inc.

Interstellar Logistics Inc. is an action puzzle game. The player shoots an object from Point A to Point B using the gravity of planets, stars, and black holes while hitting certain points along the way. There's a lot more to the game, but that is the basic idea.

This is a PC game that we're going to be submitting to Greenlight and Kickstarter on March 5th. We have sent this press kit to all the media sources we have contact with. This will allow everyone a week between now and our submission to Greenlight and Kickstarter. The beta version of the game has only 50 levels, so far. We ask that when you complete your play through that you hold off posting your review until March 5th. On the 5th we'll be sending you a link to both our Greenlight listing and Kickstarter page.
