

Subject: Product of Dr. Dovlatabadi

I am Dr. Terry Treadwell, at the Institute for Advanced Wound Care, in Montgomery, Alabama. I am the one who has been testing Dr. Dovlatabadi's wound care product. He approached me a few years ago asking if we could try his topical gel on hard-to-heal ulcers and wounds. Since we are always looking for something better, we agreed. I am sure he told you the gel is his mixture of natural products. He has added zinc acetate to see if that would help with third party reimbursement. I was not involved in the composition of the product, just the testing of it. We have used it on a number of patients with various ulcers and wounds with good results. I am attaching a PowerPoint file to give you an idea of the success we have had with the product. All these wounds and ulcers were unresponsive to other therapies. Much to our delight, all responded to this product and went on to healing. It seems that acute wounds respond somewhat quicker than chronic wounds, but that is generally to be expected. During the course of therapy, we did not have any infections or other complications. All patients liked the product. Several patients who have returned with other problems have specifically asked for his therapy. Currently, we are treating patients with chronic venous disease and lymphedema with the product. It is healing ulcers as well and have a dramatic effect on the hypertrophic skin changes seen in those long standing diseases. We have plans to evaluate the product on other acute and chronic wounds and ulcers. I would be happy to discuss our use of the product with you if that is something that would be of interest. This product seems to be a cost-effective, different approach to treating hard-to-heal wounds.

Terry Treadwell, MD, FACS, FAWC
Medical Director,
Institute for Advanced Wound Care
Montgomery, Alabama