Basic Elements of Theater

Activity 6 “Match Maker” (10 minutes)

Learners must match column A with column B. Draw a line to link the term to its meaning.

A Audience Story Setting Performers Dialogue Design	B The place, space, and time that the story happens in. (Present, Past, Future, Rural, Urban, Indoors, Outdoor.) The visual elements of the production (sets, props, lights, sound design, direction, and costumes) A narrative or account of events, real or imaginary, that follows a sequence of actions involving characters and situations. (Simple, Complex, Funny, Tragic, Ironic ...) The words spoken by the performers which can be scripted or improvised. (Excited, Calm, Angry, Sad, Happy, Worried...) The group of viewers or listeners of a work or production. The people, and creatures telling the story Human, Animal, Real, Imaginary, Protagonist, Antagonist...)

The teacher may ask the following processing questions:

1. What are some key similarities and differences in the way actors perform in film versus theater? How does the audience experience these performances differently in each medium?
2. Consider the role of the audience in both film and theater. How does the presence of a live audience in theatre impact the performance and the actors' interactions? How does the absence of a live audience in the film affect the storytelling and the actors' performances?
3. How do films and theater productions reflect and sometimes challenge cultural norms, values, and societal perspectives?

DAY 2 - 5

ACTIVITY 7 “The Laban Movement” (20 minutes)

The teacher will briefly explain Laban Movement Analysis (LMA) as a framework for understanding and describing movement.

Four basic movement components:

1. Body
2. Effort
3. Space
4. Shape

For this activity, you'll focus on exploring the Effort component.

Effort qualities	Elements
Space	Direct	Indirect
Weight	Strong	Light
Time	Sudden	Sustained
Flow	Bound	Free

(Kindly refer to the link in the learning resources. The teacher may search the Internet, or YouTube for other reference videos)

Laban's Eight Efforts is a classification of movement qualities that help describe and analyze how movement is performed. These efforts are based on combinations of four basic components. Each Effort is a distinct combination of these components, resulting in eight distinct movement qualities. Here's a brief explanation of each Effort:

Float: This Effort combines Light Weight, Free Flow, and Sustained Time. Movements in this Effort are gentle, flowing, and continuous, often characterized by a sense of ease and grace.

Punch: Punch involves Strong Weight, Bound Flow, and Sudden Time. Movements in this Effort are sharp, forceful, and energetic, with clear and direct initiation and abrupt stops.

Glide: Glide combines Light Weight, Bound Flow, and Sustained Time. Movements in this Effort are smooth, controlled, and sustained, with a sense of steady continuity and fluidity.

Dab: Dab involves Strong Weight, Free Flow, and Sudden Time. Movements in this Effort are quick, light, and spontaneous, often characterized by flicking or brushing actions.

Wring: This Effort combines Strong Weight, Bound Flow, and Sustained Time. Movements in this Effort are twisting and wringing in nature, with a sense of compression and release, like wringing out a cloth.

Slash: Slash involves Light Weight, Free Flow, and Sudden Time. Movements in this Effort are fast, expansive, and cutting in nature, often resembling slicing or striking actions.

Press: Press combines Strong Weight, Bound Flow, and Sustained Time. Movements in this Effort are slow, gradual, and deliberate, involving a sense of pushing, pressing, or squeezing.

Flick: Flick involves Light Weight, Free Flow, and Sudden Time. Movements in this Effort are light, quick, and flickering in nature, like a sudden release of energy.

These Eight Efforts offer a way to analyze and understand the qualities and intentions behind different movements, providing a valuable tool for dancers, choreographers, actors, and anyone interested in movement expression.

(The teacher can ask the entire class to stand together. Call out an Effort quality (e.g., Light, Indirect, Sustained, Free) and ask participants to collectively move in a way that embodies that quality. Encourage creative interpretations).

C. Developing and Deepening Understanding
