

SL: Why you can't attract beautiful women

It's not because you're ugly.

It's not your personality, and it's not women's fault either.

The real reason why girls say 'no' to you is because no one respects you.

I know it hurts to hear, but you can ignore the truth or listen to me.

You see, unlike us, women are born with value - their absolute beauty.

While men start with nothing and build their way up to achieving everything.

This is what makes you respectable.

And those 10/10 you want to date only date guys they respect.

That's how it always worked, and it will continue that way.

The truth can be denied, but not avoided.

If you want to be That Guy with a 10/10 girl and have all your friends asking you for advice...
