

Stapy Project: Summary

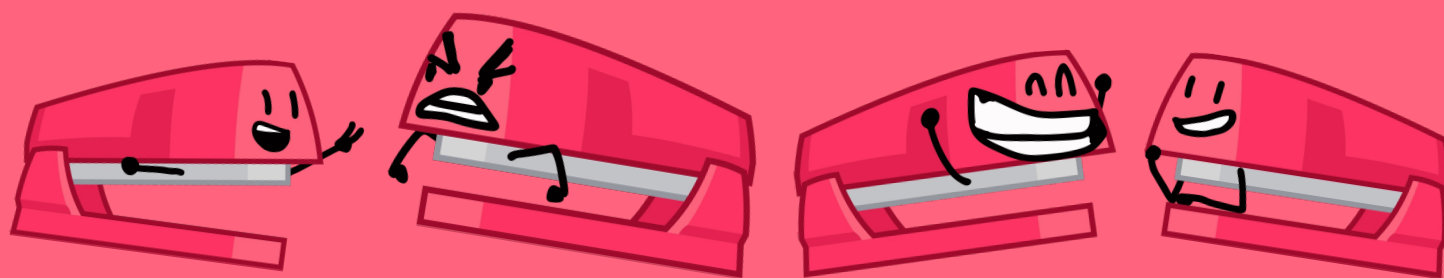

The Stapy Project is a project dedicated to advocate the BFDI character Stapy to become a very well-known and popular character within the object show community and across the internet. We, as a group, believe that Stapy needs the love that he truly deserves rather than being obscure, because we think that he follows the standards of the underrated character terminology and he is a fun character to acquire knowledge of. We are here to make Stapy a great character again and become a good character for people in the OSC or new object show fans to look up to, enjoy, and relate to!

Stapy is a male contestant who competed in the fourth season of Battle for Dream Island (BFDI), Battle for B.F.D.I. (BFB). Stapy competed on the fourth team, Free Food, carrying on his team to victory and helping them, until his elimination in the ninth episode, "This Episode is about Basketball". As a result Stapy has been quite vague, even after failing to rejoin in Battle for B.F.D.I.'s eleventh episode, "Get to the Top in 500 Steps", with 1,701 votes, rats! Stapy had an opportunity to escape the E.X.I.T. in the sixteenth episode, "The Escape from Four", only to remain trapped in the E.X.I.T. for the rest of the season up until his escape on Battle for Dream Island's fifth season, Battle for Dream Island: The Power of Two (BFDI:TPOT).

In the eleventh episode, "Out Of The Blue", Stapy had a big role in escaping and assisting his group to help everyone escape Four's pocket world. In the twelfth episode, "What's Up Bell's String?" Stapy, along with the rest of the EXITors had an opportunity to join the season as a contestant, although not as a debutant due to having competed in the past. In the thirteenth episode, "Category One" Stapy failed to join the season, with 8,742 votes. Just like how he had failed to rejoin Battle for B.F.D.I. and escape Four, aw seriously!

To make up for Stapy not being able to compete once more, the Stapy Project has come to make sure Stapy becomes one of the most favorable contestants in the OSC. And protest everyone to give Stapy the appreciation that he truly deserves!

Stapy Project: Rules

As a fun project that's dedicated to making Stapy become an interesting character, we really want people to behave when it comes to taking part in the project.

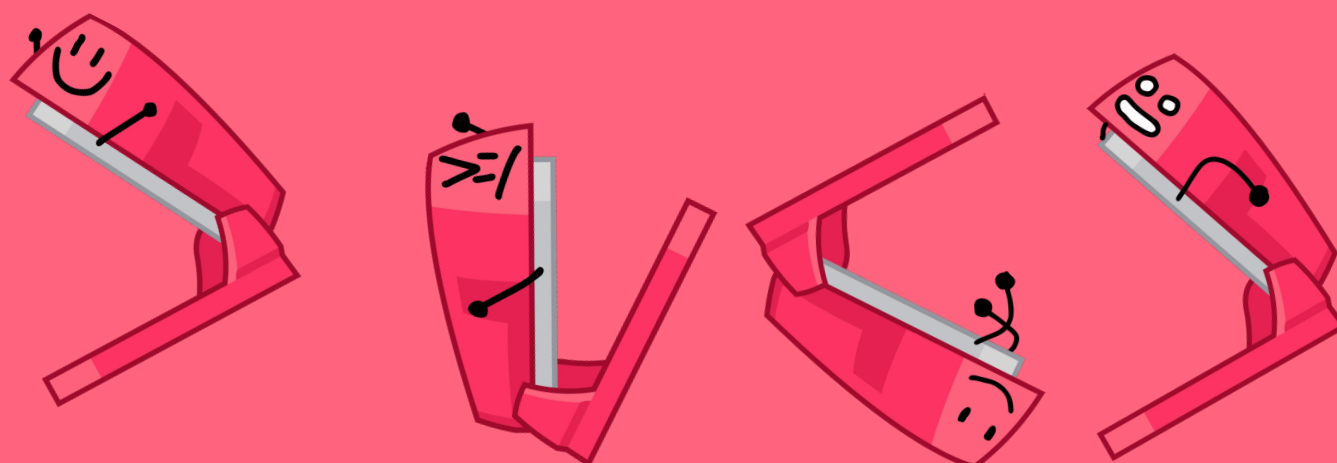

The Stapy Project accepts

- Contributing through creating fan projects.
- Voting for Stapy in favor of joining or saving in case he gets the chance.
 - Advertising the project for anyone to learn.
- Supporting the Stapy character to receive future merchandise or awards.
 - Supporting Stapy in general. ^_^

The Stapy Project condemns

- Forcing people or being angry at people for not liking Stapy.
- Creating propagandas to manipulate votes in support of or against Stapy.
- Real-life vandalism to promote the Stapy Project regardless of your stance.
 - Taking the Stapy Project too seriously or politicizing in general.
- Compelling the jacknjellify team to place Stapy in any BFDI episode projects.

Please behave if you take part in the Stapy project. We wish the best of people outside the project and as a group we want to try our best to make Stapy a fun character to look up to in the object show community. We will appreciate your consideration for taking time to read and we hope for the best outcome in this project!

Stapy Project: Misc

The Stapy Project is very supportive of how you interpret the Stapy characters. Whether it means pairing Stapy with other characters, making your own interpretation of how Stapy would be like if he were to be a human or anything, and your opinion for Stapy or the project in general.

As a social project, we want to not only advocate for Stapy's popularity but we want to be interactive regardless of anyone's status as a fan of Stapy or not. We welcome everyone who wishes to help us make this project a reality and we really hope for the best! We accept submissions for everyone to submit many requests for the project so we as a project can make Stapy popular. Be sure to DM the Stapy Project account on either platform!!

*"I may have made my team lose, but I've redeemed myself and helped my new friends.
Now let me help a new team achieve victory!"*

—Stapy, "What's Up Bell's String?"

