

I prefer m/m but I also do w/w and m/w (Prefer to play male but can play any identity) if we double up!!

They will be rated out of 3 stars the more stars the more I want to do that one.

Updated: 07/02/26

★★★SK8: Muse A works at a skate board shop and loves to skate, even going to late night secret (and maybe illegal?) skating races. (WIP)

☆☆☆To be free: Muse a works in an office (accountant, secretary, insurance, it, etc). They make good money and have a nice, if not boring life. Muse b on the other hand is barely scraping by. Working many jobs and traveling while job hopping. They call themselves a free spirit but really they are just bad at settling down and feeling comfortable. The two end up meeting and Muse a wants Muse bs care free life while Muse b wishes he felt Safe enough to settle down.. Probably start with Muse b showing Muse a how to have fun and explore while the two get close enough that one day Muse b realizes he is safe and can settle down for him. (I'd like to be muse B but play either)(Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★★Steampunk slice of life: Muse a is a travelling salesman. He lives in a travelling shop with a small home above it and he travels the dystopia world. There are a few big city's and there are the badlands with Clans and small towns. He has been many places. He is now visiting Newlend the newest and biggest city which is where he meets Muse b. Muse b can be a customer, traveller, heir, government, police, dancer, escort, peasant/homeless, or anything really!!! (I am muse A 8 times out of 10 but I got ideas for B)(Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★★Treasure in a royal tower: Muse A and B are detectives at a castle in a snow storm where they must find the treasure and interview suspects. (Original by Mercury The Witch inspired by nancy drew)

★★★Last train to blue moon canyon: Muse A and B are detectives on a train that used to belong to someone who is believed to be a ghost. The host disappears and they are not stopping. When muse a and b find the host they find out how to also find the train owners hidden treasure. (Original by Mercury The Witch inspired by nancy drew)

★★★Ghost dogs of moon lake: Muse A and B are detectives at a cottage in the woods of moon lake. There are rumors of ghost dogs and they must find the real reason they arrive and interview suspects. (Original by Mercury The Witch inspired by nancy drew)

★★★Wavelengths: Muse a is a radio host in a small town music store. Muse b works any of the following (bartender, flower shop, Cafe, book store, dispensary) and listens all of the time. Simple slice of life romance cliché (I am muse A)(Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★★Empire records: (this can be double and/or a poly thing but more than 2 ocs are needed) all ocs work together at a record store. There is the cashier, the manager who runs the financial side, the dj and radio host, and as many stockers or more as needed. The group are a close group of friends, however they fear going out of business and need to turn things around. (Romance added and more ideas to come. I'd like to at least be the dj at minimum.) (Inspired by the movie of the same name but I have not watched it yet.)

★★★Given (Band rp): (this can be double and/or a poly thing but more than 2 ocs are needed) Muse A and B are childhood friends in their late 20s to early 30s. They are close and in a band together they have worked on since school. (and crushes on each other) Muse C is a friend or neighbor or something else to A or B and is about 20-25. They are newer in the band but very good too. Then C meets D who they fall for fast for their voice and invites them to the band. Slowly the two couples end up together (or possibly all 4 end up poly if wanted)

★★☆SummerWeen: It is the annual time of summerween for the town muse a and b live in. Which is mid june when they do halloween things and have a big festival. This can be wholesome or there is a murder mystery at the festival or in town in general!! The festival has rides, games, food, haunted houses, costumes, and fireworks at night.

★★★Firewatch: muse a has had a rough few years since turning 22 (or older). So they decided to take a summer job away from everything. In a large national park called haven Cove, he works as the Southside watch tower ranger. He watches for ruckus, hazards, law breaking, and of course fires. Muse b is the north side worker who has worked here year round for a long time. They chat over walkie talkie and have to spend the summer alone yet semi together. (I can be either)(Original by Mercury The Witch inspired by the game "Firewatch")

★★★Slice Of Space Life: Muse A is a human adult anywhere from 19-30 who lives alone in an apartment. They just lost their job and got dumped along with having no family left alive (or interested if Muse A was disowned) In short their life is going down hill and all they got going is living alone. Well soon there is an alien invasion and they some how find an alien gun. This is all new to Muse A but they are a video game and sci fi movie lover so the idea of doing something with aliens was cool to them. They used the alien gun to fight some of the invasion before stealing a space ship and it auto piloted them to a new planet. The planet has an amazing city that it took them to before the ship died and couldnt run anymore. Soon Muse A stumbles upon Muse B a travelling mercenary/hitman who lives in a space rv and takes many small hit jobs. Muse A asks Muse B to help them stop the invasion of earth and Muse B finds them adorable and wants to help for free (or not for free?) They work together and possibly fall in love. Or Muse A gives up on earth and moves in with Muse B and they do more slice of life living! (Original inspired by the game High On Life with a hint of cyberpunk by Mercury The Witch)

★★★Away: Muse A lives in a hidden community out in the desert of Nevada called Away. It is a big empty area where a community lives in their rvs and pop up home trailers. People come and go while some stay. Muse A grew up there as a child and is now an adult (19-26+) still living there. It is all they really know and they love it. Muse B is running from something and stumbles upon Away. (This is based on life is strange 2 and can be a romance of a new person and someone there or could be a more platonic and familial idea if you base it off the game like Muse A having kids or something. Open to a lot with this)

★★★The Stranger By The Shore: Muse A lives on an island (japan or usa or somewhere else) and has since their parents kicked them out for being gay. They have found a small found family at a food shop that serves as a hotel and run away home allowing short term tenants and long term. Muse A is a long term tenant and works there as well to help pay for their expenses. Muse B can go a lot of ways. If we go mostly based on the move A and B meet when a bit younger before B had to move away. As soon as B is 18-23 they come back to the island to stay with A and move into the shop and work too. This is mostly slice of life unless you want to mix other things in. They can be same age or have up to a 6 year age gap and can be talked about privately. This can also have drama of losing family and grief or other issues going on. (This is based on the movie anime of the same name, is only mlm or wlw and I want to be Muse A most times but can be B as well!) .

★★☆You're live: Muse A lives on college campus and is another face in the shadows. Muse B is the cool kid, riding a motorcycle and wearing a leather jacket. Muse B is also in a band that plays almost every party and liked by all. Unknown to anyone on campus though, the anonymous host of the big radio station nearby is Muse A. What happens when Muse B is trying to get on air and meet the host? (I want to be muse A but can be either)(Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★☆Internet fame: Muse A is a famous (Cosplayer/streamer/youtuber/etc) while Muse B is a simple fan. Muse B's biggest passion is going to conventions and some times even staffing them. At a current con muse A is trying to hide from fans and stumbles into an open hotel room at the convention. Inside is Muse B, who is a big fan but doesnt want to blow this chance. Maybe Muse B puts Muse A in cosplay to hide them and go around the con as a normal person. (Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★★Zombie apocalypse!! I like doing at least 5 months to 20 years into the apocalypse (Though 2-10 years in is great) Some plot ideas below and most can be mixed together. (Original by Mercury The Witch)

First day and Muse A and B team up.

Enemies before the apocalypse stuck together now.

Muse A is immune and hiding from bounty hunters and government. Muse B is a normal person trying to protect them.

Muse A is awful at survival and surprised they have lived this long. Muse B has been trained by a paranoid doomsday parent before this.

Lovers separated at the start of the apocalypse trying to find each other (Could be a side rp as well)

Muse A lives in a community closed off. Muse B is a traveler living in the center of this mess. Muse B is delivering things to the community and meets Muse A who wants to leave.

Muse A is in deep trouble as a drug delivery person for a bad cartel. Muse B is a bounty hunter looking to take over the cartel.

Muse A has just moved into the closed community (Or underground bunker) while Muse B is a staff there (security/raider/janitor) and is assigned to show them around.

★★★Cyberpunk Slice Of Life: Two Muses in a cyberpunk world!! Many choices such as mercs, shop owners, toys, dancers, nomads, corpo, robot/android, engram, anything!! Can be more romance and slice of life or more action and fighting or mystery even!!

★★★True colors: Muse A has been able to read peoples emotions and feelings since they were a child. They see the aura and at times even hear their thoughts. They tend to hide away and try to be alone to avoid being overwhelmed by others feelings. Muse A lives in a small apartment with barely any tenants which they prefer. Muse B moves in next door and immediately likes Muse A and wants to befriend them (or impress/woo them) (Id want to be muse A)(Original by Mercury The Witch inspired by the game "Life is Strange: True Colors")

★☆☆Im mad at disney: Muse A and B both work as characters at Disney. They are decent friends (Or enemies forced together) (Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★☆Kissaphobic: muse a has been scorned so many times, family, friends, lovers you name it. Now they live for themselves and took time to love themselves. They gave up on love and has been happy with life. Until Muse b. The sweet ball of hope and optimism. (Can be roommates, best friends, coworkers, neighbors, store neighbors) Muse b sees the good in everyone and maybe had a leas bad life or had a bad one and pushed through. They care for Muse a and want to slowly win them over and prove that love is real(Original by Mercury The Witch inspired by the song "Kissaphobic")

★★☆Lets run: Muse a has spent their life fighting to be accepted and struggling with other issues. They were dealt a bad hand and had been dealing with it with a high head. Muse b is new in town and neighbors in the apartment by Muse A. Muse b can have a great up bringing but have homophobic parents or had a bad life they ran from too. Muse A takes Muse b under their wing. (Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★☆Hanahaki Disease cliché of when someone loves someone else and it goes unrequited flowers begin to grow in their lungs and chest. They hurt over time and coughing gets worse and hurts too Petals can come up with blood when coughing as it gets worse. If they dont confess before they take root completely they will die (or confess too late and end up terminal) (not 100% original)

★★★Falsettos: muse a and b are gay lovers in the 80s facing the backlash of an unaccepting world. Worse one of them ends up with a new diseases. (Original by Mercury The Witch inspired by the play flasettos)

★★★RENT: (double up!!!) A group of friends living in New York in the early 90s. Can be exact to rent with all characters and plots or a simplified version. Muse A and b just started dating as a perfect couple both having aids but one worse than the other. Muse c and d are neighbors who have crushes and aids but don't know and c is scared to commit to d. (Original by Mercury The Witch inspired by RENT the play)

★★★The Accidental Spouse: muse a is disabled and Muse b is a friend or neighbor who had started to help them out. Soon moving in to help and be closer. But now everyone believes they are dating and they kind of act like it. (Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★★If I could turn back time: (tw: su*c*de) Muse A is depressed and not okay mentally. They finally go through with their plans and are soon gone. Muse b knew them some how but didn't know the struggles. Either they just care in general or was in love with Muse a. They beg for something to change it when an angel shows up and grants their wish turning time back to two weeks before the event happened. They now need to change muse a's mind . (I'd wanna be muse A please) (Original by Mercury The Witch)

☆☆☆Original hogwarts au

★★☆Soulmates: Muse A and Muse B are soulmates. Ideas below for this.

The world is black and white until meeting your soulmate

Soulmates have matching tattoos they are born with or get at age 18-21.

When you write on your skin it appears on your soulmates skin too

Feel each others pain

☆☆☆On The Seas: Muse A is a pirate on a small and kind crew that is about stealing from the rich capital and give to the poor slums. Muse B is a poor person looking to join a crew and run from their life. Muse B is now on Muse A's crew and ready to start a new life. But they have a secret, Muse B is a merperson who can be on land when dry. They have hid this all their life but now being so close to water, can they? (Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★★Heathers AU: Muse A is a no one in school (Senior year to college 18-28) in the 80s(or any period really 50s-2020s). Then there are the Heathers the popular girls who pick on everyone. For some reason they have began adopting Muse A into their group. Until it is revealed it was all a prank, so Muse A is left alone crying and meets Muse B. The kid who has a vengeful spirit and a love for Muse A. Will they go on a revenge spree or can Muse A help Muse B get better? (Original by Mercury The Witch inspired by "Heathers: The musical")

★★★Cry Baby: It is 1955 and Muse A is a greaser and Muse B is a square. They attend the same university and everyone talks about how bad Muse A is. A smoker, drives a motorbike, parents were in jail all their life. And Muse B happens to be the good kid who has to tutor them. But will Muse B learn the pain in Muse A's heart and help care for them? (Original by Mercury The Witch inspired by the movie "Crybaby" with johnny depp)

★★★Love Like You: Muse A has been burned many times and is no longer on the market for romance. They no longer believe in love or happiness and just floats day to day. Muse B is their new coworker who sees light in the world and happiness all around. They have a sweetness to them and an infectious smile. Muse A swore off love but finds themselves falling for Muse B fast and wishing to be happy with and like them. Only problem? The sweetest person ever has the worst partner and won't leave them. (Original by Mercury The Witch inspired by the Steven Universe song "Love Like You")

★★★If Blue Could Be Happiness: muse A is deeply depressed (maybe has other issues too) and feels hopeless. They're in a rut with a dead end job and no friends or family in a new town. Until they meet Muse B the mystery person at (insert cool place to work) they get glimpses of but never get to talk to. They finally meet at a party and see how that plays out. (Original by Mercury The Witch inspired by the song "If Blue Could Be Happiness" and meeting is inspired a bit by Scott Pilgrim)

☆☆☆Titanic Trope: A cliché muse A is high class and muse B is low. They meet somewhere like on the Titanic or my preferred is a train in some kind of steampunk world going to a new city (or already know each other) and go from there. Open to many time periods or our own timeline but it's the higher class rich person who would be looked down on with the poor carefree person trope.

☆☆☆Stuck under the Mistletoe: Muse A and B are not on the best terms but are at the same winter party and under a mistletoe. Will the sparks tell them something. (Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★☆Family Christmas: Cliché Muse A has lied to family about a partner. Now it's Christmas and they need to take someone. So they end up asking Muse B (a friend or stranger) (Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★★Yuletide Lonesome: Muse A is a pagan celebrating Yule while muse B is Jewish. They bond over being left out of the season. (Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★☆All I want for Christmas is you: Muse A is obsessively in love with muse B and wants to win them over this Christmas. (Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★★Last Christmas: muse A got their heart broken on Christmas. It's been a year and they haven't recovered. Muse B is trying to help them see love. (Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★★First time he kissed a boy: muse A was raised in a strict and homophobic home. Repressing his feelings and interests or rebelling greatly but still repressing any gay feelings. He is now an adult and moved out trying to find himself and start a new life. He meets muse B, a very open and in touch with himself guy. (Original by Mercury The Witch)

POLY/LOVE TRIANGLES

★★★Life is strange: muse a and b are childhood friends, well were until muse B moved at 12. Muse a moved on and got a new friend, muse c. Muse c has gone missing right before muse B returns to their home town. Now muse a and b have to look for c (poly or love triangle) (Original by Mercury The Witch inspired by the game "Life Is Strange")

★★★Night shift: Muse a and b have been together since childhood and became partners young. however now in their 20s they have split up. Muse A kept the apartment while Muse b is starting over. Enter Muse c the new partner for b. Muse A is jealous and regrets leaving them . (Original by Mercury The Witch inspired by the song "Night Shift")

★★★cyberpunk: Muse A (MC) is a netrunner and a damn good one too. They work solo and do a lot of work for fixers in night city. Muse B is a joy toy or dancer looking for a fresh start in Night city as a merc, mostly doing netrunning too but also sword fighting. They want to be a part of a group and make friends or more. Though so far they only do solo work. Muse C is a gunner with a short temper and a trigger finger. They have made a name with fixers as well and has worked in a few groups that all fell apart not because of him (Either for real or not for real) All 3 are now paired up for a job and can go from their and falling in love or lust or something?(Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★★Steampunk: Muse A (MC) is the heir to a city that has become big and popular with tall buildings and air ships and trolleys and trains. They lived their all their life and has used a wheelchair since a child due to weak bones and tissue. They want to be independent but it is hard. Their parents have both passed and they are like 20-26 and finally on their own. Muse B is a nomad who was just visiting for their family member who is in the city. But they meet muse A some how and can be fiends or romance or something. Muse C can be a nomad too or a citizen or Muse A's heleper maid person (Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★★Modern Muse A (MC) is a radio host and DJ in a very small town and often gives advice. Muse B and C can work any job in town (Flwoers, tattoo, cafe, book store, bar, in the music shop muse a is at) and both have a crush on them. They don't get along at first (All 3 could work together even or in a mall) and they want to each win muse a heart. What happens when muse a says they cant pick and wants to date both? Can they get over their differences? Maybe even fall in love too?(Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★★Zombies: Muse A (MC) is a lone wolf travelling in search of their sibling and trying to handle the new world. (Can be day 1, a few months, or a few years in) Muse B and C are friends (or dating or enemies teamed up) and have been travelling together for awhile. All 3 meet and we go from there! Bonus idea someone or more is immune (Original by Mercury The Witch)

first day - action filled and fighting

2-10 months - id say very solitary and just romance

1-5 years - communities built and world building and side people (could double up for this)

★★☆Fallout Shelter: Muse A (MC) is the new comer to the shelter. The shelter is big and has many people and many underground things to do and jobs. Muse A has spent their life living out of the shelter and has is glad to try and chill. Muse B and C can have really any jobs in the bunker, one or both could have been born their or also been new recently. They could be friends, enemies, lovers, or not know each other. Muse A can fall for both though and both like Muse A. (Original by Mercury The Witch)

★★☆Winter Cabin: Muse a b c and d (can have e and f for poly or triangles) are all friends and they go to a winter cottage together to celebrate the holidays.(Original by Mercury The Witch)
