Aadit G.

Tutor
San Antonio Math Include

Aadit is part of the BASIS Peoria Class of 2026. His hobbies include reading, watching TV, and playing the piano as well as tennis. He enjoys movies and books, especially medieval-based fantasies, and some of his favorite authors include John Flanagan and George R. R. Martin. He is more of an indoors person and enjoys strategy-based video games. He also likes researching random things and is a part of the debate team at his school. He is fond of physics, math, and architecture and plans to pursue an engineering-based career.
