Names, sorted alphabetically by first name

CS Ed - Week 4 - Worksheet
Groups of 3-4. Estimated time: 2 hours
Due: Oct 6 at noon

To hand in: post doc URL in private breakout channel
(Elizabeth will then share with whole class after deadline)

To edit in Google Docs: Go to File -> Make a copy, then with the copy add your teammates (upper right corner "Share") so you can collaboratively edit. Post the link to your worksheet in your breakout channel. (You may alternatively use OneDrive if you prefer it!)

Assign these roles and record them beside your names above:
- Time-keeper: makes sure everybody on task, on time (if 3 person group, merge with facilitator)
- Facilitator: makes sure everybody gets to speak, reflects on team's process, guides consensus
- Recorder: writes down responses
- Researcher: looks up information

1. Make a plan as a group for completing this worksheet. Change up the roles this week. When will you complete it? When will you take breaks? Etc. [5 mins]

   (Answer goes here)

2. Discuss Elizabeth's lecture. What did you learn? How did it relate to your experiences? [15 mins]

   (Answer goes here)

3. For each of today's readings, discuss: [50 mins]
   (I suggest picking a paper and then answering abc for it, then repeat with next article.)

   a. What did you like about the article? What was insightful?

      (Answer goes here)

   b. What did you struggle with in reading this article? What could have helped?

      (Answer goes here)

    c. Anything else coming to mind about this article?

    (Answer goes here)

4. Relate today's readings to each other [10 mins]

(Answer goes here)

5. Critically discuss the push for CS in the K-12 school system. [30 mins]
    a. Which groups benefit? Why?
    b. Which groups lose? Why?
    c. Who has power/influence? Who makes the decisions?
    d. What disconnects are there between the rhetoric/visions and the reality on the ground?

    (Answer goes here)

6. What would you like Elizabeth to review/discuss at the start of next class?
Post each thing you'd like reviewed/discussed in the #WorksheetDiscussion channel of Teams.
[5 mins]