

Planning to Celebrate Your Learners

Objective

Develop an action plan for integrating celebration strategies into your ongoing teaching practices.

Instructions

1. Make a copy of the Large Cohort Student Tracker \(MAKE A COPY\)
2. Input your learner's names in column A.
3. Add questions that you will ask learners to foster a personalized learning experience in column B.
4. Think about different ways you will recognize each learner for their achievements in the classroom in column C.
5. Mark if you have recognized and celebrated this learner in column D.
6. Complete the rest of the Large Cohort Student Tracker for the following weeks of class.

Example

	Weeks 1-3
Student Name	Question	Recognition	Acknowledged
Sarah Johnson	What hobbies or interests do you have outside of academics?	I would recognize Sarah's achievements by highlighting her contributions during class discussions and awarding virtual badges or certificates for her active participation and insightful contributions.	•
Jamal Patel	What challenges have you faced in transitioning to virtual learning?	I would recognize Jamal's achievements by publicly acknowledging his progress in overcoming challenges and actively participating in group projects. Additionally, I would showcase his work during virtual showcases or presentations.	•
Emily Chen	What are your academic goals for this semester/year?	I would recognize Emily's achievements by celebrating milestones related to her academic goals, such as reaching specific learning objectives or excelling in assessments. I would also provide	• personalized feedback and encouragement to support her continued success in the classroom.

Reflection

How can you ensure that each learner's achievements are celebrated in a personalized and meaningful way to foster a sense of pride, motivation, and belonging within the classroom community?
