

Study this first (if haven't already) - then, translate the sentences to Swedish! (do the exercises on all three pages)

The present	The past	The perfect	The pluperfect	The future
Ron can read Chinese	Dad couldn't start the car	I'm sorry I haven't been able to help you	We wished we had been able to help you	The patient will soon be able to walk again

Translate to English!

The present	The past	The perfect	The pluperfect	The future
Patienten kan gå igen nu.	Tyvärr kunde vi inte hjälpa dig.	Ron har aldrig kunnat läsa kinesiska.	Pappa sa att han inte hade kunnat starta bilen.	Jag kommer att kunna besöka er nästa vecka.

Match up the Swedish and the English expressions.

Study the grammar section/videos and make up answers.

Ex.- Why are you whispering?

• Because somebody might hear us!

- 1 - Why won't you let me go skating?
- 2 - Can't I borrow your car?
- 3 - Why don't you tell your boyfriend to stop calling you?
- 4 - Why do you always lock your bike?
- 5 - Come on! Let's climb that tree!

Answer the questions.

What would you do ...

- 1 if somebody stole your boyfriend/ girlfriend?
- 2 if you saw some of your friends stealing from a shop?
- 3 if one of your friends told secrets about another friend?
- 4 if your friend had too much to drink at a party?
- 5 if you saw a classmate cheating in a test?

And finally; watch this video. Surely, there's something wrong about the way he/she makes his iced tea. Write down, or make a recording where you give some hints and tips about the proper way of doing iced tea. Use as many auxiliary verb as possible. Here are some examples of what I mean;

- you don't.....when...
- you/he/she/one should/should not.....
- you may get a better result if...
- one might add that.....
- usually wewhen we...
- you/one must/must not
- you/one could..
- you can not...
