Chapter One

Acorn kit finally opened her eyes. Her mother, littlefeather, gasped. "Acorn kit! Only a day and you opened your eyes, your beautiful emerald eyes. You're so strong, " Acorn kit giggled happily while she groomed her chest fur embarrassedly. Acorn kit looked around windclan camp through the nursery entrance. " I'm going to explore!" said Acorn kit excitedly. Her mother nodded, " Candle kit is somewhere out in the clearing along with her litter mates. Be careful!" Acorn kit scrambled out of the den, she saw the entrance to the moor, she ran towards it. As she saw the moor her emerald eyes widened. " Woah. this is so... Amazing," She leaped out of the bushes that would cover the windclan entrance. and down then dashed out of the windclan. "Other cats!" she trotted towards them, they were a thunderclan patrol. "Guys, look at this kit. Must be Windclans." Braken tail sneered. Robins claw walked forward bending down slightly to look at acorn paw in a better angle. " It seems small... It looks about a day old, it won't remember us taking her, so.. Take her back to our camp.." Acorn kit gets picked up by the scruff from Oak paw. The tom's sudden grip frightened the acorn kit. " Little feather, little feather, Help!" Acorn kit cried. The three cats would soon reach thunderclan, with Acorn kit asleep from a food frenzy to get her to calm down, they put her in the nursery, with a cat looking like a little feather. After a while, she woke up, and gazed at the almost grey tabby queen in front of her. She looked around, then gazed at the " Little feather! Little feather. You're here!" the cat turned. "Oh honey.. I'm not a little feather. I'm a breeze willow. Your new mother." she smiles warmly. " O-okay... " Acorn kit stammers as she snuggles up with the rest of the litter. They push her away coldly. She walks to the entrance of the nursery and flops down on a small grassy patch, closing her eyes and drifting to a deep sleep.

As the sun flickers through the trees, Acorn kit gets jolted awake by Breeze Willow with a prod of a tail. " You're turning into an apprentice." she sighs. She's too young. They won't listen to me though. I hope she will live as long as she deserves.... Honey star would sit on the top of the high rock. Gazing proudly at the three kits. Acorn kit stares at her paws nervously. "Star Kit, Leaf Kit, Acorn kit, you will now be apprenticed.. Star kit, your mentor shall be Flower jaw. You are now known as Star Paw. Leaf kit, your Mentor shall be Tawny Tail. You shall now be named Leaf Paw. Acorn Kit.." Honey star hesitated, then flicked her tail carelessly. "Stone Heart shall be your mentor. You will now be named Acorn paw." Honey star pressed noses with them all, except for Acorn paw. "Clan, Dismissed." Honey star said with a flick of her tail, but she stayed, her gaze lingering on Acorn paw for a moment, then walking away. Acorn Paw bounded To Stone heart. "What are we gonna do first!" Acorn paw chirped. Stone Heart chuckled. " You're gonna help me get moss for the elders." He responded. Acorn paw complained and complained claiming she was bored, until they found some moss at the root of a tree. "Is it dry? In the rain!" She exclaimed. "Little Feather and I, plus the other litters, always get fresh but wet moss." She bounded. She picked some moss up, grasped it under her chin. "How do you know how to do that? It's an apprentice's job." Stone heart questioned. "Oh I was getting early training because Little father told me I was starting to be an apprentice early, because of a fight with the Thunder clan." Acorn paw chirped as she trotted away happily to the clan entrance. Stone heart stood there, shocked. He shook his head, needing to get the rest of the job done before telling honey star. As He gave the last bit of moss To acorn paw, he went to Honeystar, to explain what Acorn paw said about the battle with windclan.. "Finally! Fresh moss. Acorn Paw, you're a gift from starclan." Feather whisker Yipped as he sat up weakly, as his joint betrayed him.. Acorn paw smiled while changing the elders bedding, grunting as she pulled the old moss away." Heavy. Huh? You sure do seem small.." Stone heart muttered as he entered the fallen tree.

Chapter seven

"Acorn paw, Honey star would like to talk to you. I'll finish this." Stone heart said with a nod. Acorn paw dropped her moss with a spit. And scramble to the leader's den. "Yeah?" She smiled. Honey star flicked her tail. "Acorn paw, please for starclans sake, dont lie. Is Windclan preparing for battle soon?" Honeystar mewed, her gaze unreadable, but her tone filled with worry. Acorn paw recunty aenserd. "Yeah. a night before a gathering. I think the one... Next, I mean.. Wait.. No, it's tomorrow." She would say through licking, as she was grooming her pelt. Honey Stars ear pinned back, with a flick of her tail, she would leave the den." You may go now, Acorn paw." She would sigh, as Honeystar climbed up the high rock, her worried yowl echoed through the camp. "All cats big and small, please gather around for a clan meeting." all of the thunder clan would gather around. "Acorn paw, has told me some powerful news. Windclan will unleash a battle. Acorn paw, thank you for your loyalty to thunderclan. But, she said the night before the gathering, so that means it's tonight, White fang, braken tail, protect the nursery, Queens, you can fight, but be careful, I advise you to protect the kits. But not too much as some apprentices and warriors will help you, plus, I still want you to take care of your kits." she announced. "Appertinces, remember, we don't kill to win a battle." with a flick of her tail, everyone got into position, and pawsteps were heard outside the gorse barrier. All of a sudden, Windclan burst through.

Acorn paw's eyes went wide as she was next to the other apprentices. Other apprentices come hurling themself at the other young windclan felines. Acornaw squealed as she clawed at a white apprentice that was on her, "Traitor!" The white cat snarled as they clawed their muzzle. "I was stolen! I don't know my way back, Candle Paw!" Acorn paw spat. She Kicked candle paw sending her flying away, she landed on Hare stone, who was attacking Stone heart. Acorn paw got up and hid with the other apprentices in the nursery to help out. A couple heart beats later, Yowles of defeat are heard from outside the camp as windclan ran through the camp entrance, and disappeared to the shadows of the forest, their paws thumping on the ground faded away. Acorn paw limped out with the other cats defending the nursery." Thudnerclan, We have won the battle." Honey star yoweld. Everyone roared a yowl of victory.

Chapter two

Acorn paw entered fourtrees, as it was the night after the windclan attack. Windclan looked at her, desperately. Acorn paw followed her mentor, and crouched beside him scaredly. "Why is windclan looking at me like that?" Acorn paw asked. Stone heart waffed his tail over her mouth as the leaders started to speak. "Riverclan is thriving, We have enough fish for days, Moons even.." Bubble star announced. With a flick of his tail. "We have two new warriors, Lilac gaze, and clover heart." as the clans cheered, he would wait until it died down then stepped back on the high rock. Windclan leader, skull star, would step up now. Sitting down proudly, his loud but cool tone rang through the clearing, causing young cats to flinch. "Windclan is well, The moor is clean, like always. Or prey is alright. We have two new apprentice's. Bird Paw and Candle paw." The clans would chant recently. Skull n star sears pinned back. As he walked back with a scoff, the honey star stood up, not bothering to sit. Tail high, chin up, she spoke. "Thunderclan's lovely forest has been fine, It has provided great prey-" A cat from windclan broke him off. "stop glorying about your prey!" the honey star frowned. "Okay, okay. Thunderclan as a new apprentice. Star paw, leaf paw and acorn paw!" all clans cheered loudly, except for windclan. Who stayed in a guilty quiet. As the chants died down, Honey star cleared her throat. "Windclan, as said one of the new apprentices, stole from windclan territory, though they raced the rabbit over the border, which hadn't been marked in at least a couple days." Honeystar mumbled. "Windclan is playing pty, as always. But, it is the end of my speaking, as I have nothing else to share." honey star said with a nod. Stepping back, the Lost star stood up with a grin. "My clan has been powerful, and fine through leafbare. But, we still need more prey, I advise we shall all share hunting ground. It will be better for all clans." The other leaders share glances, with the cat below sharing hushed whispers. "Lost star, we all need out on prey. Although it's a good idea, I shall not accept it." Honey star dipped her head. Bubblestar and skull star nodded in agreement. Shadowclan warriors would hiss. "Oh, Oh.. You shall see then." Lost star snarled. The cloud covers the full moon. "Starclan is angry. We all shall leave!" Bubble star wailed. As clans departed, acorn paw walked next to Robin Claw; "Why does windclan keep looking at me?" she mumbled. Robinclaw sighed. "Nothing. Maybe curious?" Acorn paw nodded. "maybe." she chirped as she trotted next to leaf paw. As they entered camp, an acorn paw circled her moss bed. Then plopping down with a tired huff.

Chapter three

A paw prodded Acorn paw. As she flutters her eyelids open, dawn blinded her. "What?" She would groan. "Assessment's.. Come on. We are waiting for you." Leaf paw murmured softly. Acorn paw stared at leafpaw, unblinkly then got up "Alright.." as they joined their mentors and other apprentices, stoneheart muttered to Acorn paw "Honey star and arctic pounce has gone to the moonstone." She gazes ahead, not really acknowledging stoneheart's comments to the other warriors. "Acorn paw, You shall hunt near the two leg fence, be careful. Leaf paw, you can hunt near sunning rocks. And.. Star paw.. You can hunt at Snake rocks." Tawny tail chipped. As the apprentices departed to their paths, their mentors each followed and stalked them. Watching them hunt. Acorn paw would crouch down low, till her belly fur would touch the ground. Stalking carefully, she got up quite close, then leaped at the rabbit. She struggled as the rabbit ran away, but she was faster. She leaped onto it, putting her fangs into it. As she dug it into the earth, her ears would perk up." Bird.." She murmured to herself, leaping over a branch, grasping the bird into her jaws.

After A while, she evantly got one magpie, three black birds, two rabbits and a couple mice. She went back to the meeting place where everyone was waiting. " Was I late?" She muttered. The apprentice and their mentors stared in shock." You're not late...But how did you get that much prey? That's amazing for your first assessment." Starpaw gasped."We just got back." Acorn paw shrugged. They approached the clan entrance and put their fresh kill in the pile, also bringing some to the elders. As the sun faded, everyone returned to their dens but tawny heart, who was on guard at the camp entrance.

CHAPTER Four

Artic pounce and honey star returned to camp after visiting the moonstone, they got attacked by ferrets and now warning the clan. 'All cats old enough to walk around the camp, But kits, gather around for a clan meeting!' Honey'star yowled. Cats would gather quickly. ' There is a high chance of an ambush. I need all to be ready. Warriors, protect the elderly and queens and around the camp. Apprentices, fight the ones your own size! Get ready!' Honeystar leaped off the rock to help protect the nursery.

They waited for a while. "Nothing is happening?" Tawny Tail yowled. A few heart beats later, white ferrets drew into the camp. Cats flew themselves at them, the tiny bodies lay flat, one after another. A few ferrets still lived. 'I'll take care of them!' Honeystar yowled. She slashed at the ferrets. They all thought It was over. A ferret sized as a new warrior arrived, and pounced onto Honey star. She yowled with pain. Robins Claw threw the ferret off. White'fang digged his jaw into the ferrets throat. It then went quiet. White fang backed away.

'Good.. Job all of you..' Honey star mewed weakly. ' Everyone's alright!' mewed Vine heart. She froze as he saw Honeystar . 'Help me get her to my den!' she mewed quickly. Before she knew it, it was too late. Honey star already lost a life. 'She's on her fourth life,' she mewed firmly. Robins claw, Arctic pounce, and white fang had stared in horror. ' We must protect her at all costs!' Mewed arctic pounce. He was a young but loyal warrior, he always thought he wasn't ready to be a leader- Not even for moons! ' No no.. I am fine!' Honey star snapped. ' I, Honey star, are capable of protecting myself. I am not a kit!' She added on angrily.

CHAPTER five

A couple moons after the ferrets, Honey star died of old age. Arctic pounce, -Arctic star- was the new leader of thunderclan. ' All cats old enough to explore thunderclan's camp! Please gather around for a clan meeting!' He'd yowl. Kits, apprentices, warriors, queens, elders, arrived into the clearing. ' I am sorry to inform you that,' He took a deep breath. ' I... Am becoming a kitty pet. I was once a kitty pet, and I now realise, I shall stay a kitty pet, so no lives, clans, and protection is reliable on me.Robin's claw, will guide you, and I lied. I never got my nine lives, I'm sorry.' Mews of disapproval along with rude tones filled the clearing, queens shoood their kits back into the nursery, not wanting them to be involved. Before a fight that was about to form in the clearing, Arctic star leaped off the rock, and ran through the bramble bush exiting camp.

It was moon high. Vine heart and Robin's claw is at the mother mouth, 'Do not talk until I say so.' Vine heart Murmurs patiently before signalling to go forward. They arrived at the moon stone. Vine heart signed with her tail for Robins claw to go forward. He put his nose onto the cold crystal. Power shifted through him, He got captured into a deep vision. Mist uncovered their old leader. Honey star greeted him. As Well as his kin and friends that have died. Honey star then spoke. 'Greetings. With this life I give you leadership. You will lead the clan through ruff times.' She then took a step back. Spiked paw then went forward. 'Spike paw, I have missed you so much!' Robin's claw cried out. Spiked paw nodded. 'With this life, I give you honesty. You can keep secrets, but some may be too big to hold.' She then flicked her tail. Robin's claws mother, Leaf Badger, stepped forward.

She rubbed her muzzle to his. 'With this life, I give you love. You will love your kin, clanmates and respect them.' She would purr as she disappeared to the crowd again, a kit he did not recognize stood in front of him. 'I understand you dont know me. I was your friend as a kit. Raven Kit. I died saving you, when we were both young in a fire. With this life I give you loyalty. You will respect, understand, and serve your clan. Even if you lose a life.' she leaned in. "Beware of the kits.." she whispered before trotting off. An app he didn't recognize -again- chirped up. 'Hi! I am your apprentice. Thunder paw! I died of a green cough, remember? Anyway, with this life, I give you strength. You will protect your clan and fight for your clan.' Thunder paw chirped. Watermelon' Sun, his old mentor, stood up. 'With this life I give you intelligence. You will know what to do if your clan is in tough times.' The first leader of Thunder clan, Thunder star, stood. Up. 'With this life I give you trust. You should trust your clanmates, but not always. Be careful of your decisions.' One last cat, Shadow Current, stood up. 'with this life, I give you hope. You shall use it to lead your clan. Your name shall be now, Robin Star. Welcome to thunderclan.' Starclan roared his name in a chant, before they all dipped their heads and faded away.

CHAPTER six

It had been moons since robin claw was named leader. The new deputy, Tawny Tail, was sending out patrols. I hope I made the right decision.. She is so loyal, and sweet. But, maybe too sweet... To be a leader. I hope Starclan will approve my choice. Robin Star thought to himself. He walked into his den. His muzzle tucked under his tail, then drifted off to sleep. He was running through the forest, getting chased by foxes. 'argh!!' He yipped. His claws slashed at the foxes. They howled in pain, one flew onto Robin star. It was about to claw his throat, but he woke up. He looked around, dizzy and confused. Tawny tail's small white head poked in the den. 'Robin star? Are you alright? You kept moving, and rustling like a badger crying for food!' Robin star, and Tawny pelt meowed with laughter. 'Just, a bad dream I guess.' Robin star replied, His eyes clouded with confusion. 'Oh, alright. The patrols have gone out to border patrol; and hunting patrols. Fresh prey will be coming.'

Cats walked into the clearing. Leopard melt, Stone Heart and his apprentice Acorn paw all dropped their prey in the fresh kill pile. 'Acorn paw, go give the elders some fresh kill. And Leaf paw, go give some fresh kill to the queens, please.' The apprentices nodded and grabbed fresh kill, and trotted off. 'I got some fresh kill.' Acorn paw mewed, giving each and one of the elders a piece of prey. She stopped at Rat Mouse. 'Can you tell me some stories?' As Acorn paw sat, Rat mouse signed. 'Later. I am tired. I am gonna have a real good sleep after this warm, and fresh. prey.... Sorry acorn paw.' Acorn Paw nodded in acknowledgement. She padded away. 'Hey leaf paw. Wanna sneak outta camp!' Acorn paw mewed with excitement. 'Uh.. Sure, but if we get in trouble, it's all your fault.' Leaf paw mewed, as she and Acorn paw raced out of camp. 'I smell Star Paw and Flower Jaw's scent! Shall we watch them?' Acorn Paw Mewed, Leaf paw nodded in agreement. Although she was still wondering if she should.

They padded off, suddenly stopping. 'There they are, they are training! Let's ambush!' Acorn paw whispered with excitement. She has always wanted to ambush since she was a kit. 'No way. We will get in very, very big trouble. Actually, fine. If you wanna play kit, then let's play kit.' She grumbled. '3... 2... 1.. Go!' Acorn paw mewed, she leaped out of the bushes, jumping onto Star paws back. A yowl from Star paw raced through the forest. 'You're such a mouse brain! I told you, we aren't gonna do that! Stupid fur-ball.' Leaf paw leaped out of the bushes, landing neatly next to Acorn Paw.. 'Acorn paw, what in the world of star clan were you thinking. This is unacceptable behaviour.' Leaf paw watched. I kinda feel bad.. But it was her choice, but still. She is still a mouse brain if I ever saw one.

'Acorn paw, you are officially, stupid.' Star paw and leaf paw laughed at the same time. All the apprentices stifled laughter. Acorn paw's tail drooped. She was a new apprentice, now that happened. Almost wanting to wound them, she raced out of the den. All the way and sleeping under a bush by the fresh kill pile. 'I'm so stupid... The other apprentices will never listen to me now!' She cried. Robin star walked out of his den. Staring at Acorn paw thoughtfully. He padded toward her, then sat next to her. 'I heard what happened. You aren't stupid, I have done something even more embarrassing, so don't worry.' Robin star mewed, his eyes clouded with memory. 'Really? Tell me please.' Acorn paw mewed. 'So, it was my first hunt. And I saw a patrol of the other clan was at the border, I raced towards them, and lashed my paws at them, of course, I thought it would give them a warning. The Windclan leader even had to come out to talk to me. It was so embarrassing.' Acorn paw and Robin star laugh together. 'I guess, I'm not stupid. I just feel so stupid for doing that. Leaf paw, betrayed me too. By not jumping out with me, instead, she called me stupid, and a mouse brain. But star paw and leaf paw told me I was officially stupid in the apprentices' den in front of everyone.' Acorn paw ducked her head into her chest. 'Don't worry, Acorn paw, you can trust me. You will be alright.'

Acorn sat in the apprentice den, looking out towards the clearing with warriors sharing tongues. She felt more brave and loyal since the night before. 'Acorn paw! You're coming on a hunting patrol with us.' Her mentor would call. Acorn paw raced off towards her patrol. 'I can't believe we have to go near the border so much.' Acorn paw heard one of the warriors saying. She opened her mouth, all the scents that ruled the forest possible, she smelt. One particular one she could smell. Rabbit! She darted off into the bushes. 'Acorn paw! Where are you going?' Stone Heart snapped quickly. 'Catching a rabbit!' Acorn paw crouched low. Her belly almost touching the earth. The rabbit froze, Acorn paw leaped forward, and she landed onto the rabbit. Fastly, she dug her fangs into the rabbit, until it was limp. 'Great job Acorn paw, but don't run off like that.' Stone heart exclaimed. Acorn paw nodded in acknowledgement. After a while of hunting, the hunting patrol walked towards the camp. Acorn paw spotted a rabbit not too far away. 'Can I catch that Rabbit?' Stone heart, Broken Tail, and White Fang nodded. She Raced after the rabbit, and she raced over the border. She finally leaped on it. She killed the rabbit, and the patrol gasped. 'Acorn paw, get here, right now.' She raced towards them with the rabbit.

'I, I caught that in windclan ter-' Acorn paw got cut off by a very stern voice. 'Give that prey back.' A patrol with Enchanted oak, Bird paw, Tall foot, and Star current was a tail length away from them. 'This is thunder clan prey. Acorn paw raced the rabbit here, and caught it. It is ours.' Stone heart hissed. 'But it's on our territory. It is ours. So, Acorn paw. Give it.' Enchanted oak mewed sharply. Acorn paw dropped the rabbit. Her paw clutching onto it. 'This is our prey.' She snapped back. Her eyes filled with fury, she grabbed the prey again. Angrily, Enchanted oak's ears pinned back. 'Wait till our leader comes to you.' She spat angrily. The windclan patrol walked away, chins high as if they were royalty. Acorn paw, and the rest of thunderclan's patrol headed back to camp with their prey they caught.

A couple moments after they returned to camp, the windclan leader, Skull Star, and his deputy, Enchanted Oak walked into camp. "No.. Not today starclan help me." Wimperd Acorn paw. "Greetings Skull star. What brings you here today?" Mewed Robin Star in a deep, booming voice as he dropped down from the high rock. Skull star stared at Acorn paw, then Robin Star. "The incident. Acorn paw caught your prey on windclan territory." Skull star muttered. Robin star beckoned Acorn paw with his tail to come over. Acorn paw did one, hard gulp. Starclan.. Oh what do I do? She thought as she slowly trotted to the two leaders.

"Acorn Paw is only a new apprentice, she didn't understand borders, or knew she crossed the borders. Alright? We can give you a shrew, but that's it." Robin star mewed staring coldly at Skull star. "That's not fair, just give us a rabbit, or this will cause something you won't like." Skull star snapped. Acorn paw shot a glance at the thunderclan warriors. Stone heart grabbed Acorn paw and dragged her behind the warriors, then going up to the front again without her. "It's all my fault.." She whimpered. "Fine, but this ain't over. Take a rabbit Skull Star, at least if this happens to us, you give me what I want." Robin star snarled, tail lashing..

Acorn paw layed restless in the apprentice den. Tomorrow was her big day, though she should be excited, but she wasn't. She was scared to be a warrior because of her vigil, she has always been scared of being alone all night. The dawn light shimmerd on her fur, she tiredly walked out of the den. "Bye apprentice den.. You were the best den ever, with less cats to annoy me." She muttered. A mew ringed through the clans camp. "Cats of thunderclan, gather around for a clan meeting." Robin star had called out, sitting proudly on the high rock. Once all the cats gathered around, Robin star took a deep breath. "There are 3 fully trained, reached 10 moons old apprentice's that are ready to become warriors. " Star paw, Leaf paw, and Acorn paw, do you agree to protect thunderclan with all your life?" Robin star questioned. " I do. " They all said. "I hereby name you all. Star paw, your name shall be Star leap, for your swiftness and ability to hunt. Leaf paw, You shall be named leaf heart, for you kindness and respect, and Acorn paw, you shall be named Acorn Claw, for your honesty, and strength you bring to this clan. I now name you all thunderclan warriors." Robin star mewed with pride.. " Star leap! Leaf Heart! Acorn claw!" The thunderclan cats chanted.

Chapter Elght

Acorn claw had a swirl of pride go throughout her chest. Now just for my virgil.. Then I will be a full warrior! " new warriors, listen up. You have to guard around camp. Any ambushes, report immediately. Don't slack off. I mean it." Stone heart mewed sharply. He trotted back into camp nodding to the new warriors. Acorn claw signed. " Let's all go over here." Mewed Leaf heart. " I'm fine over here." Acorn paw mewed back. She turned in the opposite direction and walked away. She walked around the edges of the camp and froze when she heard rustling sounds from the bushes. " Who's there? " She hissed. Arctic star leaped out of the bushes. " Arctic star? The traitor? What in the name of Starclan are you doing here?" Acorn claw snapped. " Acorn paw! Great to see you, I was just erm, watching the clan. And I'm called Frost, now thanks." He mewed blankly. Acorn claw rolled her eyes. " It's an Acorn claw. But as you, a kitty pet, get away from camp." Acorn claw snapped. Frost, The former leader, stared at her in furry. " I am still coming. I need to get back to Robin star. For kicking me out of the clan for trying to murder unhealthy kits. That's why I became a kittypet! So no one would know!" Acorn paw flashed before her. She was indeed one of those kits. Without hesitation, she ran to the entrance of the thunder clans camp and let out a yowl. " Arctic Star is here to kill Robin star!" Before she knew it, Frost pounced on her, more warriors came out of the dens trying to rip off snow Frost acorn claws back.

They were all not able to. Suddenly, Acorn claw was filled with anger, and rage. She twisted and turned and threw Frost off her back into the clearing in front of Robin star. "How dare you come back?" Robin star snarled, he bared his teeth, his hackles raised furiously. Arctic star growled. " No one looked up to me. That's why I left." Snow grunted. He threw himself forward but got banged on the ground by acorn claw. They rolled all over the clearing, but finally, snow yowled loudly. ' Fine fine! I'll go!' He whimpered. He ran off. Acorn claw limped over to the warriors den. Everyone cheered for her. She breathed heavily. " Starclan knows why he came back, for another round." She muttered. Vine heart and Muddy paw ran to Acorn claw. They scanned her body all over, checking for wounds." Oh! My! starclan! Acorn claw, your back.. It's ruined." Vine Heart cried. " I bet it's just a scratch." Acorn mews back. As she turns, she sees a big bloody scar. " Oh.. I don't feel so good.." Acorn heart drops to the ground. Her vision was all back,until she groggily awoke, in a forest like thunderclan, but not exactly. As she wakes up, she realises she's in starclan, Honey star stands in front of her. "Am.. am I dead?" She whimpered. Honey star sighed. " Yes. but you died in history, Acorn paw. But, since your vigil had not been confirmed, you are still named Acorn paw. Unless the higher ranks think you are worthy. But you will stand with me in starclan. Watch over the living clasn, and hunt freely. Walk with me." Honey stars mewed warmly. They walked into Starclan's forest. Acornpaw Leaned Against

Honey star. ``What's My truth? Why did windclan.. Always give me hopeful looks?`` Acorn paw Mummerd. Honeystar Froze, she sat there on a tree, Thunder star, the lead founder psat out his prey, Other past leaders, most of windclan gazed sadly at Acorn paw. Honeystar at infornt of acorn paw, wrawping her tail around her as she sat. " Listen carefully, young warrior." Honey star started. Other apprentices, young warriors, and lots of old leaders, gathered. " I don't know if you remember, But, we stole you. From windclan. You were a lone kit on the moor. We didn't think much of it. Until we came to a gathering while you were still a kit. Windclan was not happy. But.. It was too late. You came as an apprentice." Honey star mummerd. As she told how they found an acorn paw, everyone listened, carefully, but tensely. "Acorn paw, now that I think of it, you can choose your warrior name." Acorn sprang to her paws. "To remember the little feather, I shall choose my new name. Acornfeather." she pulled out her chest with pride. Starclan cats chanted her name. "Acornfeather! Acornfeather! Acornfeather!"

Acorn claws Backstory

Acorn kit finally opened her eyes. Her mother, littlefeather, gasped. "Acorn kit! Only a day and you opened your eyes, your beautiful green eyes. You're so strong," she exclaimed. Acorn kit giggled. Acorn kit looked around windclan camp. "I'm going to explore!" said Acorn kit excitedly. Her mother nodded. Acorn kit scrambled out of the den, she saw the entrance, she ran towards it. She saw the moor. "Woah. this is so... Amazing," She jumped up and down then dashed out of the windclan. "Other cats!" she walked towards them, they were a thunderclan patrol. "Guys, look at this kit. Must be Windclans." Braken tail mewed. Robins claw walked forward. "It's their fault. Take her." Acorn kit gets picked up by Oak paw. Tom's sudden grip frightened the acorn kit. "Little feather, little feather, Help," Acorn kit cried. The three cats go faster. Soon, they would reach thunderclan, with Acorn kit asleep, they put her in the nursery, with a cat looking like a little feather. After a while, the acorn kit woke up. She looked around, then saw the cat that looked like a little feather. "Little feather! Little feather. You're here!" the cat turned. "Oh honey.. I'm not a little feather. I'm a breeze willow. Your new mother." she smiles warmly. "oh. ok." Acorn kit stammers as she snuggles up with the rest of the litter. They push her away. She walks to the entrance of the nursery. And lays there. And sleeps.

As the sun flickers through the trees, Acorn kit gets jolted awake by Breeze Willow. "You're turning into an apprentice." she mutters. Shes too young. Tehy wont listen to me through. I hope sh will live. Honey star sits on the rock. Looking down at the three kits. Acorn kit stares at her paws. "Star Kit, Leaf Kit, Acorn kit, you will now be apprenticed.. Star kit, your mentor shall be Flower jaw. You are now known as Star Paw. Leaf kit, your Mentor shall be Tawny Tail. You shall be named Leaf Paw. Acorn Kit.." Honey star hesitated, then flicked her tail. "Stone Heart shall be your mentor. You will now be named Acorn paw." Honey star pressed noses with them all. "Clan, Dismissed." Honey star said with a flick of her tail, but she stayed, he grazed lingering on acorn paw for a moment, then walking away. Acorn Paw bounded To Stone heart. "What are we gonna do first!" Acorn paw chirped. Stone Heart chuckled. "You're gonna help me get moss for the elders." He responded. Acorn paw complained until they found some moss at the root of a tree. "Is it dry? In the rain!" She exclaimed. "Little Feather and my sisters always get fresh but wet moss." She bounded. She picked some moss up, grasped it under her chin. "How do you know that?" Stone heart questioned. "Oh I was getting early training because Little feather told me I was starting to be apprentice early, because of a fight with thunderclan?" Acorn paw chirped as she trotted away happily to the clan entrance. Stone heart stood there, shocked. He shook his head, needing to get the rest of the job done. As He gave the last bit of moss To acorn paw, he went to Honey star, to explain what Acorn paw said. "Finally! Fresh moss. Acorn Paw, you're a gift from starclan." Feather whisker Yipped as he sat up weakly. Acorn paw smiled while changing the elders bedding, grunting as she pulled the old moss away. "Heavy Huh? You sure do seem small.." Stone heart muttered as he entered.

"Acorn paw, Honey star would like to talk to you. I'll finish this." Stone heart said with a nod. Acorn paw dropped her moss with a spit. And scramble to the leader's den. "Yeah?" She smiled. Honey star flicked her tail. "Acorn paw, please for starclans sake, don't lie. Is Windclan, cooking for battle soon?" Honey star mewed, her gaze unreadable, but her tone filled with worry. Acorn paw recunty aenserd. "Yeah. a night before a gathering. I think teh one... Next, uh, tomorrow." She would say through licking, as she was grooming her pelt. Honey Stars ear pinned back, with a flick of her tail, she would leave teh den." You may go now acron paw." She would sigh, as Honeystar climbed up the high rock, her worried yowl echoed through the camp. " All cats big and small, please gather around for a clan meeting." all of the thunder clan would gather around. " Acorn paw, she told me, windclan will unleash a battle. Acorn paw, thank you for your loyalty to thunderclan. But, she said the night before the gathering, so that means it's tonight, White fang, braken tail, protect the nursery, Queens, you can fight, but be careful. But not too much as I still want you to take care of your kits." she announced. " APpertinces, remember, we don't kill to win a battle." with a flick of her tail, everyone got into position, and footsteps were heard outside the gorse barrier. All of a sudden, Widnclan burst through.

Acorn paw's eyes sgo wide as she was next to the other apprentices. Other apprentices come hurling themself at them. Acorna[w squealed as she clawed at a white apprentice that was on her, "Traitor!" The white cat snarled as they clawed their muzzle. " I was stolen! I don't know my way back Candle Paw!" Acorn paw spat. She Kicked candle paw sending her flying away, she landed on Hare stone, who was attacking Stone heart. Acorn paw got up and hid with the other apprentices in the nursery to help out. A couple heart beats later, Yowles of defeat are heard form outside teh camp as windclan ra. Acorn paw limepd out with teh other cats defending teh nursery." Thudnerclan, We have won teh battle." Honey star yoweld. Everyone mewed happily.

Chapter six.

Acorn paw entered fourtrees, as it was the night after the windclan attack. Windclan looekd at her, desperately. Acorn paw followe dher mentor, and coruched beside him scaredly. " WHy is windclan looking at me liek that?" Acorn paw asked. Stone heart waffedhis tail over her mouth as the leaders started to speak. " Rliverclan ls thriving, We have enough fish for days Moons even.." Bubble star announced. With a flick of his tail. " We have two new warriors, Lilac gaze, and clover heart." as teh clans cheered, he would wait until it died down then stepped back on the high rock. Windclan leader, skull star, would step up now. Sitting down proudly, his loud but cool tone rang through the clearing, causing young cats to flinch. " Windclan is well, Teh moor is clean, liek always. Or prey is alright. We have two new apprentice's. Birdpaw and candle paw." The clans would chant recultntly. Skull n star sears pinend back. As he walked back with a scoff, honey star stood up, not btoheirng to sit. Tail high, chin up, she spoke. " Thunderclans lovely forest has been fine, It ah provided great prey-" A cat from windclan broke him off. " stop gloryiong about your prey!" honey star frowned. " Okay, okay. Thudnerlcan as a new apprentice. Star paw, leaf paw and acorn paw!" all clans cheered loudly, expert for windclan. Who stayed in a guilty quiet. As teh chants did down, Honey star cleared her throat. " Windlcan, as said one of teh new apprentices, stole form windclan territory, tho they race dthe rabbit oevr boreder, whitch haddent been marked in atleast a couple days." Honeystar mummerd. " Windlcan is playing pty, as always. But, it si teh end of my turn." honsey star sai dwith a nod. Steeping back, Lost star stood up with a grinn. " My clan has been powerful, and fine through leafbare. But, we still need mor eprey, I advise we shall all share hunting ground. lyty will be better for all clans." Teh other leaders share glances, with teh cat sbelow share hushed whispers. " Lost star, we all nee dout on prey. Although its a good idea, I shall not accept it." Honey star dippe dher head. Bubblestar and skull star nodde din agreement. Shadowclan warriors would hiss. " Oh, Oh.. You shall see then." Lost star snarled. cloud scoverd teh full moon. " Starclan is angry. We all shall leave!" Bubble star wailed. As clans depart, acorn paw walked next to RObin law; " Why does windclan keep looking at me?" she mummer. RObinclaw sighed. "Nothing. Mabue curios?" Acorn paw nodded. " mabue." she chirped as she trotter next to leaf paw. As tehy entered camp, acorn paw circled her moss bed. Thenm plomping down with a tired huff.

Chapter seven.

A paw prodded Acorn paw. As she flutetrd her eyelids open, dawn blinded her. " What?" She would groan. " Assessment's.. Come on. We are waiting for you." Leaf paw mummerd softly. Acorn paw stared at leafpaw, unblinkly then got up " Alright.." as they rejoind their mentors an dother apprentices, stoneheart mutter dto Acorn paw " Honey star and arctic pounce has goen to the moonstone." She gaze ahead, nto real acknowledging stoenherats comment to teh other warriors. " Acorn paw, You shall hutn near teh tow leg fence, be carful. LEaf paw, you can hutn near sunning rocks. And.. Star paw.. You can hutn at Snake rocks." Tawny tail chipped. As teh apprentices, departed, their mentors each followed and stalke dthem. Watching them hunt. Acorn apw would crouch down low, till ehr belly fur would touch teh ground. Stalking carefully, she go up quiet close, then leaped at teh rabbit. She struggled as teh rabbit ran away, btu she was faster. Sh elepaoned onto it, putting her fansg into it. As she dug it into teh erath, eh rear sperked up." Bird.." Sh emummerd to herself, leaping over a branch, grasping teh bir dinto her jaws.

Afte ra while, she evantly got one magpie, three black birds, two rabbits and a couple mice. She went back to teh meeting place where everyone was waiting. " wwas I late?" She mutetrd. The apprentice and mentors stare din shock." No. But how did you get that much prey. Tahts amazing for yoru first assessment." Starpaw gasped. " we just got back." Acorn paw shrugged. They approphe dteh clan entrance and put their fresh kill in teh pile, also bringing some to the elders. As teh sun faded, everyone returned to their dens but tawny heart who was on vigil guard.

Chapter One

Vixx Ran through the forest, his back bag still on his back. He wouldn't slow down, even though his throat was burning dry. Vixx Panted as he continued running, he heard yelling. Lots. Run like the wind! Run Vixx! He urged in his mind. "Vixx! Where are you!" Someone yelled, tone blank. Ugh, his parents. Vixx didn't like being kept in by them. Why, you may ask? They are overprotective, all because their family is quite famous for inventing a new type of tree, that can be eaten, vixx just didn't understand.. He just wanted to be a normal boy, not someone who was treated like a king, just a normal boy.

A few hours later, Vixx slowed to a stop, and hid inside a tree trunk, as stuff himself in a small gap. A spider crawled on his arm, Vixx did not dare to even make a sound as he heard multiple feet padding the ground, along with shouts. Sweat slid down his forehead when someone flashed a flashlight in the tree trunk, but did not see Vixx in his little tucked away spot. As the feet and shouts faded away, he got out of the tree trunk and began running, not opposite but left, away from where the mob was. He jogged slowly, saving energy.

After just a few minutes, he found a abandoned cabin, door open, no one there, It looked as if it had been there for ages, as if it had survived war.

Chapter one

Sophie sat at her desk at school. Ignoring the snickers from some of the other girls in the classroom. The teacher walks in. and writes, Math teacher, Mrs Stetic. Everyone went quiet. "Morning Class. Get out your pencils and an eraser. We are going to have a test today." Mrs Stetic announced. A collective groan rippled throughout the class room. Mrs stetic gives out test sheets. Once finished, she says, "You twenty minutes start, Now." Sophie starts off swiftly, but stops at 20. Ugh. Fractions... She groaned in her mind. She scribbled a random answer she knew probably wasn't right.

Sophie kept scribbling answers down. Although she hated maths, she was oddly good at it. A sudden, ring crackles across the classroom. Sophie has a sigh of relief the test finally ended. Sophie lined up behind others to wait and put her tests on the desk and left. She walked to her locker, the bell rang. Then the Com turned on: Students and teachers, we have decided to let you go early. Thanks. Remember tomorrow's Parent teacher interviews!" Sophie groaned. She walks out of school. Onto the pathway and pulled out her phone, and didn't expect Bella and her friends, Charlotte, Eva, and Summer to be behind her.

"Hey, Freak. Nice keychain ya got there." A voice behind her sneered. Sophie turned, and saw Bella holding the keychain her mother gave her before she died. "Hey! Give it back." Sophie snapped gripping her phone. "Or what, freak?" Bella laughed. Sophie punched Bella in the face and grabbed the keychain. "That." She said then walked away, as she glanced over her shoulder, seeing her friends glaring at her, while standing over Bella, whom she was now bleeding, she ran. Not wanting to get more involved.

As she arrived to her quiet home, she opened the door with her spare key and went to the kitchen, dropped her bag, then called out, "Daaaaad!" She hummed. No answer. She trotted to the driveway, No car. She sighed. "Not home yet.. Again.." She mumbled before walking to her room. She reached into her pocket, and saw the keychain, and the clip was broken. She opened the keychain, to find her mother's picture imbedded inside. She was smiling softly. "Miss you mum." Sophie whispered.
