

The house

I spawned into the creaky and creepy house. It's raining outside, it's a thunderstorm. I can see a staircase with the window showing moonlight. I'm trying to find a way out, but I can't. I go up the stairs and find a singular room, it's locked, but I find a key on the floor. I open the door and see a white light and just as I'm about to enter, my alarm goes off.
