Subject: Appointment letter for brand ambassador

Dear (mention the name)

This letter is to congratulate you for being appointed as a brand ambassador for our clothing brand (mention the name). we happy to have you in our workspace as we were searching for the one like you who would be the best fit for the next show of ours and for our new dressing line.

Finally, our search has come to an end. We hope to see you soon working with us once the lockdown gets over. As it's not safe to have a photoshoot now at this time of the corona pandemic.

I know you have lots of experience in this field and have done much work with other many brands so we find ourselves fortunate that you have shown interest in our clothing line. It's a privilege for us to know you and your ideas.

As you know we are worldwide famous and have to tour around the world for the poses for our photo-shoot and work due to which your joining has to be postponed now as of the pandemic but once it will be over the HR will send you all the details soon.

For any other help or queries, you can call us at (mention the number) or can send us an email at our official email id (mention the company's id)

We hope and wish that with your contribution we will surely reach the heights of success.

So all the best for your first work with us soon (mention the number)

All the best for your future projects,

Sincerely,
