

Stage Play: पंछी ऐसे आते हैं

Synopsis

Its story of Arun Sarnaik, a smooth talker and wander, who walks into the life of a middle-class family facing an endless problem of setting their simpleton daughter married; get ready for a fun-filled, captivating, enthralling experience.

Character descriptions

Arun: A careless, carefree banjara man, who enters a house of a middle class family through deception. He has an enthusiastic and convincing tone topped with a manipulative personality. He also narrates the story thus has to change between two different characters, a narrator which is his original personality who always thinks “arre kaha phase gya” and “chaliye dekhte hai ab aage ess kahani mein aur kya kya hoga” and into the play character who always does those sweet talks which can gain anyones attention and trust.

Saraswati (Suru): A girl living in the sub urban area in the 70s, who struggles to live by the expectations of society. She is the typical depiction of a girl who is underconfident and sensitive but her heart longs for love. Her character also takes a turn into rebellious mode when she gets fed up with this life.

Anna: A man around 60 years old, who is always worried about his daughter’s marriage. He is the head of the house and a man of rules and culture not to mention that he is way too easy to irritate.

Maa: An old stereotype maa who does household chores, typical 60’s mother. Uneducated and simpleton character, who tries her best to keep the members together.

Banda: Banda is the younger brother of Suru. He is a member of RSS. Funny character to the play who is a little on the father ka chamcha side. He is the kind of guy you don’t wanna mess with cause’ all he can do is create a mess.

Vishwas: An eligible groom. A simple, polite and humble young man. He is educated and does not believe in patriarchal wedding traditions. He has a really calm and soothing tone and is always in his typical “understanding person” mode.
