

AMERICAN ART: 1700-1900

Three things I learned:

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.

Two things I'd like to learn more about:

- 1.
- 2.

One question I still have:

- 1.

VOCABULARY: Circle the right answer

Limner	A Limner is an American colonial period painter of portraits, usually with little/ a lot of formal art training.
Grand Portrait Style	Grand Portrait style is a painting where the subject's personal status was evident / was not important .
Grand Manner Style	Grand Manner Style is a painting which takes for its subject historical events / scenes of everyday life .
Landscape Painting	Landscape Painting was important in the 1800's to provide Americans with maps for the respective areas / a sense of pride in the beauty and uniqueness of America .
Genre Painting	A Genre Painting portrays a scene from everyday life / a battle field ..
American Realism	American Realism is concerned with depicting the idealized / real world.