

Anonymous said...

I made this handy comment template for your readership. Just fill in the blank with an insulting nickname of a local public official, volunteer or otherwise, and we'll call it civil discourse:

_____ should be ashamed of themselves! They're an embarrassment to our community. They must resign now! They're willfully and recklessly endangering children! They want to poison our children! Their kid did something embarrassing and I'm going to tell the world! Their house is for sale and I know why! And worst of all, they're being rude!

No need to thank me. Reading your blog is thanks enough.

October 1, 2014 at 11:33 AM