

Hi Michael,

You have a program that heals people's backs, and it seems like you promote consistency and discipline as the key to the solution as well as your Three Pillars of Success.

And if they are not capable of seeing that solution then it is impossible for them to even attempt it.

So, to get them to see it and buy it, you need a breakthrough that will 2x or 3x your views on your videos and clicks to your website at the same time.

You will also gain an influx of new members interested in your new studio.

And it all comes down to the content in the video and where it next directs the viewer to.

I have that breakthrough solution and there is a sample of it below.

If you want more just respond to this email and I'll add another method where your viewers will place all their trust on you.

All the best,

Riaz
