Book Title, Author, and Illustrator

The title is the name of the book. It gives the readers an idea on what the book is all about. Some books have one-word title while some have a lot of words.

The author is the person who writes the book. He or she is the one who develops the character, setting, plot, and other elements of the story or content for informational text. You will know the author of the book as it is introduced by the word author or written by.

The illustrator is the person who draws the pictures, images, or illustrations in the book. The artwork and design are based on the message of the story. Some books do not have illustrators. In some cases, the author also acts as the book illustrator. The illustrator is usually introduced by the word illustrator or illustrated by.
