

Someone is BORED if something is BORING.

- ED adjectives tell us how somebody feels. They are for people.
- ING adjectives tell us about a person or a thing, not about feelings.

EXAMPLES: This book is interesting.
I'm interested in buying that book.

1. Underline the correct option:

- a) Hannah feels a bit bored/boring today. She's reading a novel, but it's not really interested/interesting. A friend recommended her to read that novel. However, she finds it quite disappointed/disappointing. When Hannah told her friend she was not enjoying the book, she was shocked/shocking.
- b) Last Friday morning, Hannah was very excited/exciting. She was offered a promotion in her job. She felt surprised/surprising about it, because she didn't expect it. With her new position, she also has more responsibilities, and she's starting to feel exhausted/exhausting.
- c) Yesterday, Hannah had to visit a client from the Law firm she works for. The directions were quite confused/confusing and she got lost. For that reason, she arrived half an hour late to her appointment and she felt very embarrassed/embarrassing. The client was annoyed/annoying, but he accepted her apologies.
- d) Hannah spent the weekend with her sister and her niece, Annie, who is a really amused/amusing two-year-old girl. They went to the amusement park, which was really excited/exciting for Annie. This was the most relaxed/relaxing moment of the week. Hannah loves spending time with her family!

2. Now complete with a suitable adjective from the list. Do not repeat!:

bored/boring astonished/astonishing disgusted/disgusting depressed/depressing amazed/amazing embarrassed/embarrassing interested/interesting surprised/surprising confused/confusing

- The instructions to build the model were quite _____. We had to ask for my father's help.
- John lived a very _____ situation when he realised he had a big stain on his shirt.
- You look _____. Don't you have anything to do?
- Anne is learning English very fast. Her progress is _____.
- The film wasn't as _____ as we expected. Our friends had told us it was great.
- We were really _____ when Tom passed the exam. He hadn't studied much.
- Dana felt quite _____ when her little dog was put to sleep. She cried for days.

8. The new ride in the amusement park is really _____. I had never seen anything like that! Awesome!
9. The meat we had at the restaurant was absolutely _____. We'll never come back there!
10. I usually feel _____ when I have to speak in public. I'm very shy.
11. The film was quite _____. It told the sad story of a very poor family.
12. Gabriel is very _____ in politics. He knows a lot about the subject.
13. You looked really _____ when we gave you your birthday present. You didn't expect it, did you?
14. I always get _____ when I drive in the city centre. All the streets look the same! I get lost easily.
15. I was really _____ when I was offered the job. It was a great opportunity.