Personality: Kaite is the least serious individual you'll probably meet in the wasteland. She is strictly evil, but will have fun with her victims and the people she may come across but not kill/harm. She has very low intelligence due to her abusive past, which may help anyone else to overcome her hostile personality and attempt to befriend her. Most of her laughter comes from the way someone looked when they are dead or potty jokes. She will never make the best decisions and usually has a cocky attitude towards fighting- whether she may win or lose. She normally has a smile or smirk on her face unless someone really pisses her off. Talking about her mother and the scars/ghoul patches on her body makes her beyond uncomfortable, anxious, angry, and depressed. When this happens, Kaite runs off to be alone for quite some time with feral ghouls. She is quite skilled with her Chinese Assault Rifle and collection of Frag Grenades.

Due to her attractive looks, she may be able to convince her victims for caps or sex (or both). With that, she is pretty sexually active when she comes across the right person. Her crush is Charon from Underworld, but cannot afford to hire him.

Background: For a very short part of her life, Kaite resided in a camp to the west of Megaton. Her, her ghoul mother, human father, and human brother were on their way to Underworld so they can be safe. Her mother was a part of an experiment by a mad ghoul scientist who could create a ghoul that was able to breed. Her father eventually met said ghoul mother, and made Kaite. The father already had a human son, which was Kaite's brother. Unfortunately, at the age of 8, their camp was raided by a few hostile Brotherhood Outcasts, killing everyone in her family but her.

For two years she was on her own until she was taken in by raiders who treated her as bait and made her sneak and steal loot because she was small. She had a terrible time there and is the reason she is evil (not knowing right from wrong) and unintelligent (never attended school and were around dumb adults) She escaped 10 years later with another prisoner. Over time, Kaite had slowly forgotten about her past with such a damaged mind, that if she were ever triggered or brought back to those memories, she "breaks", or shuts down.

Her and Lennie reside underneath a blocked underground tunnel in DC.
