A Headings are the primary heading type e.g. Introduction, Results and discussion, Experimental

B Headings should always be subordinate to A headings e.g. Synthetic procedures, Materials and methods, Crystallography.

C headings should always be subordinate to B headings e.g. General procedure for synthesis of compound X. The main paragraph text follows directly on here.

The main text of the article should appear here with headings as appropriate.

Conclusions

The conclusions section should come in this section at the end of the article, before the acknowledgements.

Author contributions

We strongly encourage authors to include author contributions and recommend using CRediT for standardised contribution descriptions. Please refer to our general author guidelines for more information about authorship.

Conflicts of interest

Title

Abstract text goes here. The abstract should be a single paragraph that summarises the content of the article

In accordance with our policy on Conflicts of interest please ensure that a conflicts of interest statement is included in your manuscript here. Please note that this statement is required for all submitted manuscripts. If no conflicts exist, please state that “There are no conflicts to declare”.

Data availability

A data availability statement (DAS) is required to be submitted alongside all articles. Please read our full guidance on data availability statements for more details and examples of suitable statements you can use.

Acknowledgements

The acknowledgements come at the end of an article after the conclusions and before the notes and references.

Notes and references

‡ Footnotes relating to the main text should appear here. These might include comments relevant not central to the matter under discussion, limited experimental and spectral data, and crystallographic data.

Formatting – please delete this box prior to submission

- Our template aims to give you an idea of what your article will look like, however the final version will be formatted in our house style and may look different.
- Please consult the Styles menu for recommended formatting for all text, including footnotes, references, tables, images and captions.
- Text should not be wrapped around graphics.

During production:

- Graphics, including tables, will be located at the top or bottom of the column following their first citation in the text. Graphics can be single column or double column as appropriate and require captions.
- Equations will be placed in the flow of the text.
- Sufficient space will be inserted around graphics for clarity of reading; a horizontal bar will also be used to separate all inserted graphics, tables and their captions from the text.

If you are experiencing difficulty using our template, please consult our 'Using the Template' guide, found here.
