

For some class periods, we might finish early or you individually might be finished with your day's assignments and are looking for something to do. When this happens, the expectation is that you will update yourself on business related headlines and news. This is an opportunity for you to explore topics within business that YOU find interesting. Below is a far reaching list of sources of information. If you are completed with your work and I have not concluded class, you are expected to find an article(s) to read. This is not a time to complete work for other classes or play games on your phone. To be successful in business, or any other job field, you must be informed. If you don't believe me, check this out. Additionally, I have included a link to the business section of TED. If you prefer, find a business TED talk that interests you and throw on some headphones!

- Yahoo Finance
- Kiplinger's
- Investopedia
- Forbes
- Wired
- Entrepreneur
- Fortune
- INC.
- The Economist
- Ad Age
- Adweek
- Fast Company
- MSN Money
- CNN Money
- Wall Street Journal
- New York Times Money Section
- Google Finance
- Bloomberg
- CNBC
- Motley Fool
- Business Insider
- Marketwatch
- BusinessWeek
- FT.com

- Seeking Alpha
- Wisebread
- Credit.com
- Learnvest
- Nerdwallet
- I Will Teach You To Be Rich
- Rockstar Finance
- Business TED Talks
- How I Built This- Podcast series