

Photos from the Middle Fork of Taylor Creek Hike on Saturday, October 2

The water levels for Taylor Creek weren't very high this time due to the continuing drought, but the hike, weather and scenery were wonderful; all nestled within towering Zion-Canyon-like walls. We received an unexpected treat when we heard a young woman's choir sing in the alcove. Very nice!

Click on the following links for photos:

Photos from Kolob Canyons - Taylor Creek Trail 10-02-21

Group Photo