

Late-Night “Dorm” Chats: Life, Dreams, and Everything in Between

Remembering WHO You Are
#BigDreamsLateNight | #WhoIAm

Objective

Create meaningful connections and deep reflections with friends and classmates. The questions below are designed to help you explore who you are, uncover your dreams, and celebrate what truly matters to you.

Questions for Reflection

- 1. What experiences have shaped who you are today?
  - How do these experiences influence the goals you set for yourself?
- 2. When you imagine the future, what does a good life look like to you?
  - How does this connect to things you're passionate about?
- 3. What core values or principles do you hold most dear, and how do they guide your choices and relationships with others?
- 4. What's a challenge you've gone through that helped you see what really matters to you?
  - How did it shape what you want to do?
- 5. If you could talk to your younger self, what advice would you give about staying true to who you are and your dreams?

How to Use These Questions

- In a Dorm or Living Room Gathering: Sit in a circle or similar setup, read each question aloud, and take turns sharing. Be open, listen actively, and let the conversation flow naturally.
- On a Group Call or Zoom: Nominate a host to read each question and give everyone a chance to respond. Use the “raise hand” feature to keep it organized or let it be more casual for spontaneous reactions.
- Three-Way Call or Video Chat with Friends: Each person can answer a question before moving to the next one. This setup is great for a more intimate conversation and allows for deeper sharing.
