

Since the arrival of COVID-19 in the Indianapolis area, everything from our way of life to schools, businesses, and restaurants have all been affected. Many of which have had to close, as a result of the fast spreading virus. Thus, leaving thousands of people in need of food, protection and personal supplies. In an effort to help those within our community, the Plug team has come together to introduce Plug Eats. Since its launch, we have had over 350 local families fill out our form seeking assistance for food. Many of these families have between four and seven members. Our goal is to get as many of these people fed as possible in addition to cutting down large gatherings at food banks and other places where they may seek assistance.

We have partnered with DeliverEnd, a company that allows everyday drivers to sign up and help ensure the necessary food and supplies get to our families. This allows those in need to stay at home, reducing the chances of being infected with COVID-19. With many left unemployed during this pandemic, we have allowed people the chance to earn extra money by joining the Plug Eats movement and helping deliver items to those in need.

Plug Eats will continue to run throughout this epidemic and will serve all those in need of food and supplies.

Ways that you can help:

1. Financial contribution - Despite financial uncertainty during this time; no donation is too small as every dollar goes directly to the families affected by the epidemic. Donations can be sent through our GoFundMe page.
2. Food donation - any extra or unused food
3. Publicity (sharing the content) - Even if you're not able to help, you can help us find people that may be interested!
4. Helping find volunteers - We are seeking volunteers (to deliver as well as to complete remote tasks)
5. Vehicles for temporary use - Vehicle will be used at your convenience \
6. Apply at DeliverEnd: to become a Driver to make extra money doing orders
7. Freezer space - Adequate space to store food for distribution
