

Kindergarten at TSRS

Welcome to Kindergarten at Temple Sinai Religious School! If your child is beginning Kindergarten in secular school in the 25-26 school year, read on. We cannot wait to welcome you to one of our Kindergarten programs.

Kindergarten is a special time; a chance for children to begin their formal secular school years, while enjoying the magic of being a 'little kid' for just a bit more.

At Temple Sinai Religious School, we are proud to offer a Kindergarten program that is engaging, joyful, fun, and developmentally responsive.

Engaging

B'yachad is the Hebrew word for together, and it captures the engaging experience of learning in Kindergarten at Temple Sinai - together!

The foundation of our B'yachad program is a Family Experience - with children learning together with their parents, siblings, and even grandparents! Our programming is active, interactive, and easy to bring the learning home.

Joyful & Fun

Temple Sinai Religious School provides a space for families to experience Jewish joy! Our Kindergarten experiences will not only create ‘core memories,’ but will have you laughing and loving being part of a Jewish family.

At TSRS, our core values of significance, belonging, and fun weave their way through all of our learning. Through activities that encourage working together as peers and families, building connection to tradition, and beginning meaningful friendships for both children and their grown ups, B'yachad is a place for everyone to experience joy and fun!

Developmentally Responsive

At TSRS, we believe deeply that children should engage in learning and relationships in a deeply age-appropriate way.

Using the Responsive Classroom approach and expertise about child development, our program is designed to maximize the wonder and wonderfulness of children at every age and stage. Our programming is responsive to physical, academic, spiritual, and social emotional development.

Enrolling in Kindergarten at TSRS

There are 2 options for Kindergarten Enrollment at Temple Sinai! By offering 2 options we hope that you will choose the experience that best meets the needs of your child and your family. Kindergarten is a big year, and Kindergarteners are still very young children.
