1. Comprehensive Needs Assessment

1.1	Please provide a narrative below describing how data was used from a comprehensive needs assessment of the entire school to identify the needs of all children, particularly those who are failing, or are at-risk of failing to meet State academic standards, and how this analysis was used to plan curriculum, instruction and assessment decisions.
Wahoo Elementary School conducted a comprehensive needs assessment as a part of our CIP/Accreditation Process. The comprehensive needs assessment 1) used multiple data points that addressed reading progress 2) included multiple data sources that were disaggregated by gender, ethnicity, free and reduced lunch status as well as participation in special programs (i.e. High Ability Learner, special education, etc.) 3) was part of a systematic continuous improvement and data analysis process and ensures that 5) data is used to modify instruction. 1. 3. Systematic Continuous Improvement Data Analysis Process:

The Wahoo Public Continuous Improvement process is built on the Wahoo Problem Solving Model. All instructional decisions are made based on student performance within our “Core” or “Tier 1” programming. Decisions on the effectiveness of the core and the need for intervention are made through the process of identifying relevant data, analyzing it, implementing a plan of action, and then reflecting upon that plan to monitor effectiveness.

There are three main components of this systematic approach to the identify, analyze, implement, and reflect steps in the problem-solving process. These include an annual review of trends and other data, consistent review of classroom data during PLCs, and building and grade-level review of data at the student level. These reviews provide for a systematic approach to ensuring equity and effective instruction for all students. All data points are established in our Elementary MTSS Reading Decision Rules (attached).

Trend Data- Annual and Review Process

A. During the annual September Continuous Improvement Day, elementary teachers go through a systemic process to review teacher, building, and district data (Fall MAP and Fastbridge) and do three things:

- a. Look at trends over time,
- b. Look at disaggregated data by sub groups, and
- c. Identify strengths and next steps.
- d. Based on this process, staff:
 - i. Revise or approve current district goals as appropriate,
 - ii. Set a grade level SMART goal, and
 - iii. Create a plan for meeting and monitoring the goal.

B. After the winter screening cycle (MAP & Fastbridge), teachers review and update their SMART goals.

Strategies and timelines may be revised based on current data. They look at group and individual student data at these times.

a. Group Data

- i. (MTSS data) Screening data, classroom data and student work samples are reviewed at building meetings and in grade-level PLCs.
- ii. Growth and college and career readiness are reviewed after each NWEA MAP and Fastbridge screening.

b. Individual Student Data

- i. Building and grade-level WEBSS (Problem Solving Teams) meet to review data on specific students and develop plans to meet their needs.
- ii. Growth and college and career readiness of individual students is reviewed after each NWEA MAP and Fastbridge screening.
- iii. For students receiving interventions, Fastbridge Progress Monitoring Data is used for progress and triangulated with other data like (attendance, intervention progress, etc.).

4. Using Data to Modify Instruction

Integral to the entire needs assessment process is using data to modify instruction. The conclusions from the data review process are used to inform district, building, and classroom decisions.

District/Building

- A. Trend data is used to help determine effectiveness and select curriculum. Teachers review data and best practices which are highly critical to meeting the needs of students. In the curriculum review process, these priorities are used to rate materials. Trend data is also used to evaluate the effectiveness of the Core curriculum as a whole and on supporting subgroups (Program Effectiveness).
- B. Trend data is used to identify professional development needs. For example:

- a. Low scores on early reading assessments, led to the decision to focus on Science of Reading (SOR) training as a long-term approach and monthly staff development sessions with K-3 staff during the 2021-22 school year.
- b. Additional training in the Science of Reading (SOR) has been implemented. Staff in K-5 have been completing LETRS and Orton Gillingham training through ESU2 services. This continues through the 25-26 school year.

Grade Level Data

- A. Grade level data is used to adjust pacing, select materials, and work as a team to meet needs. For example, it will be/has been used to:
 - a. Adjust curriculum cards and pacing guides each summer.
 - b. Set up targeted support for students with similar academic needs.
 - c. Select and adjust instructional strategies and approve materials needed to meet individual needs.
 - d. Replace “word walls” with “sound walls” at the K-2 grades based on Science of Reading training and early reading data collected via Fastbridge testing.
- B. Grade level data is used to provide instruction and support for parents. For example, it will be/has been used to:
 - a. Identify topics for Parent Engagement nights.
 - b. Determine what support materials need to be sent home to parents.
 - c. Select books for the library.
 - d. Identify topics for PTO and Title I meeting discussions.

Classroom Decisions

- A. Individual teachers review growth and achievement data as well as classroom evidence to meet individual student academic needs. For example, it will be/has been used to:
 - a. Provide specific support of small groups and guided reading groups.
 - b. Identify appropriate center and seat work activities.
 - c. Communicate with parents on instructional strategies that can be used at home to support student needs.
 - d. Adjust specific lessons to meet the needs of students within the class as a whole or for individual students.

1.2

Please provide a narrative below describing how information from parents and community was gathered to identify the needs of the school. Provide supporting documentation in the corresponding folder.

The CIP Advisory Committee determined that several different data points were needed for a comprehensive understanding of the needs at Wahoo Elementary School. The committee first determined that a parent/community survey was critical. (These surveys are distributed every two years) It was determined that we wanted to have a large number of surveys completed in order to gain the most knowledge from our school families. Therefore, surveys were emailed to all family stakeholders (2023-24 school year) and two strategic follow-up emails were sent as reminders to complete the surveys. The Director of Learning also used School Messenger (school messaging system) to alert stakeholders of this opportunity. The results were very positive and the committee used this information to make adjustments to the plan and make decisions about programming.

During our regular meetings, the CIP Advisory Committee reviewed all of this data to help make decisions about our plan. We found this information extremely beneficial in our long range planning.

Data is also collected on an annual basis from families of students who are participating in the Title I program. A Title I Parent Questionnaire, distributed in the spring of the school year, focuses on program impact and effectiveness, opportunities for collaboration and communication as well as strengths and areas of improvement for our Title I programming. The information collected is analyzed and used to celebrate successes as well as identify areas of improvement.

WPS Title I Parental Involvement Policy (5057)

District Title I Parent and Family Engagement Policy The school district will jointly develop with parents a School-ParentStudent Compact that outlines how the parents, school staff, and students will share the responsibility for improved student academic achievement and the means by which the school and parents will build and develop a partnership to help children achieve the State's high standards.

The written District Parent and Family Engagement Policy will be jointly developed and distributed to parents and family members of participating children and the local community in an understandable format and to the extent practicable, in a language the parents can understand. An annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of the Parent and Family Engagement Policy will be used to design evidence-based strategies for more effective parental involvement, to revise the Parent and Family Engagement Policy and to remove barriers to participation.

The school district recognizes the unique needs of students who are being served in its Title I program, and the importance of parent and family engagement in the Title I program. Parent and family engagement in the Title I Program shall include, but is not limited to:

1. An annual meeting to which all parents of participating children will be invited to inform parents of their school's participation under this part, to explain the requirements of this part, and the right of the parents to be involved. Invitations may take the form of notes sent with students or announcements in the school newsletter. Additional meetings may be scheduled, based upon need and interest for such meetings.
2. An explanation of the details for the child's and parents' participation, including but not limited to: curriculum objectives, the forms of academic assessment used to measure student progress and the achievement levels of the challenging State academic standards, type and extent of participation, parental input in educational decisions, coordination and integration with other Federal, State, and district programs, and evaluations of progress.
3. Opportunities for participation in parent involvement activities such as training to help parents work with their children to improve achievement. A goal of parent activities is to provide parents with opportunities to participate in decisions relating to the education of their students, where appropriate.

6. Strategies to address areas of need

Please provide a narrative below describing how the Schoolwide Plan increases the amount and quality of learning time within or beyond the instructional day.

Wahoo Elementary School is dedicated to ensuring students have an appropriate amount of instructional time and that the time is spent in high quality and impactful learning experiences. WES uses the following strategies and activities to complete this task.

1. WES uses the following strategies to address the amount of time students spend in high quality experiences:

A. Summer School Program

The district offers a summer school program to meet student academic needs. The district summer school program is offered K-5 and focuses on providing targeted math and reading instruction to students not meeting academic standards. This program is taught by highly qualified teachers and includes a thorough process of identification, goal setting for individual students, and the assessment and reporting on academic gains at the conclusion of the program.

B. Reviewing and Updating the School Day Schedule

- a. Wahoo Elementary School staff have reviewed their schedule consistently over the years. They have made the following changes in order to provide more high quality time for students:
 - i. Restructured the reading block to ensure interventions take place outside of whole group instruction
 - ii. Set guidelines for interruptions, parties and other events ensuring that instructional time is not interrupted.
- iii. A common instructional schedule was created for the 2025-26 school year. For instance, reading and math blocks will be staggered at specific grade levels to maximize support from Title I Reading, Reading Specialist as well as Special Education staff.

Next Steps:

- * WES is currently reviewing its daily schedule and looking at other schedules in order to find ways to gain more instructional time. A common instructional schedule would help to maximize this time.
- * The Title I Schoolwide Plan will include a Jump Start Summer Reading Program that will take place prior to the beginning of the 2025-26 school year. Planning for this program begins in March. This program will continue during the 2025-26 school year.

2. WES is working to consistently improve the quality of instruction, thus creating more time for overall learning. The school has done the following:

- A. Hired a Reading Specialist to consistently work with struggling students in grades 3 - 5.
- B. Adopted a district Instructional Model based on the work of Marzano.
- C. Arranged for ESU2 staff to provide Science of Reading Training (monthly K-5)
- D. Ensured that staff get thorough training in the new reading programs.

- i. A full day of initial training
 - ii. Half days for each grade level in October
 - iii. A full day of support in December
 - iv. Half days for each grade level in February
 - v. Summer curriculum work
- E. Paraprofessionals received Science of Reading training during the 2021-22 school year (4 - 1 hour sessions)
- i. Follow up sessions will be scheduled on an “as needed” basis.
