Video of us talking about the past (Lara)	Hi guys! What's up? Today we're going to talk about this place. We are here at Villa Caprile. It was built in 1640 by the marquis Giovanni Mosca and it was used as summer residence. In 1763 Carlo Mosca Barzi and his son Francesco expanded the building and the garden. Over the centuries a lot of important people have been hosted here (in Villa Caprile) such as the composer Gioachino Rossini and the writer and poet Giacomo Leopardi. In 1876 it became an agricultural institute called "Istituto tecnico agrario A.Cecchi".

The gardens are situated on three terraces connected to each other by stairs. In the summer season Villa Caprile hosts the water games that attract a lot of visitors. The second level is occupied by fruit plants. In the third one there is the "viridarium". Then there is the "teatrino di verzura " that is used for little and public events.
