

SHIMMERING SOLIDARITY

GLOBAL RIGHTS SUMMIT

Session Tracks

Track	Goals
A – Cross Pollinate Share knowledge across varied and overlapping grantmaking areas, forge connections, and identify further opportunities.	In these sessions, participants will learn about collaborative, multisectoral philanthropic work across grantmaking issue areas and strategies. (e.g. collaboration across climate justice, migration, youth, peace and security, protection of democratic institutions...). Keywords: learning, collaboration
B – Shimmer Share concrete grant craft: skills, tools, approaches, models, innovations, and lessons learned.	In these sessions, participants will explore promising funding practices and other strategic responses to activate future opportunities and emergent events. Keywords: grant craft, best practice
C – Disorient and Disrupt Build shared analysis about the opposition’s agendas, strategies, funding, strengths, and vulnerabilities. Co-develop progressive philanthropic response in support of effective and promising movements strategies, experiments, and lessons learned for counteraction and community self-defense.	In these sessions, participants will: - develop shared analysis of the anti-gender movement and wider anti-rights infrastructure including funding. - identify and explore effective or promising philanthropic strategies and actions to investigate, disrupt, and expose the anti-rights agenda, including neglected strategic fronts in our responses. - explore ways to invest in, amplify, and empower civil society movements for human rights and democracy. Keywords: counteracting the opposition, movement support
D – Local Honey Hone in on regional collaboration: coordinate regional problem-solving and strategic development across funding sectors, approaches, and practices.	In these sessions, participants will examine how the global anti-rights movement operates within a specific region, and explore innovative and context-specific philanthropic responses. Keywords: local collaboration
E – Another Hive Is Possible Share how we are funding world building work and transformative strategies to develop our visions and movements towards a more just and liberatory future.	In these sessions, participants will share and co-develop proactive strategies, radical reimaginings, and visions for transformation of culture, economy, human rights, and environmental justice. Keywords: liberation, possibility, vision-building, futurism
F – Honeybee Dance Creative and cultural spaces within the summit; a closing party and elements integrated into the larger summit to connect us to what we’re fighting for.	In these sessions, participants and invited artists will use creative and cultural practices to celebrate, connect, recharge, and ground us in the power of this historical moment. Keywords: art, creativity, culture, shimmer
