

AMERICA'S NEXT ~~top model~~ MMA fighter

I'm back, bitches.

I'm Tyra Banks and I've been renewed for a second season.

You may very well shake your head in disbelief, but it's true, baby. I'm back!

Death By Bikini gained four new members after season one. My girls Robin, Camille, Haley and Hunter are already winning fights in the steel UCC cage.

Will Season Two provide DBB with another four members?

I know Kate Upton is already wetting herself with excitement.

Over the next few months I'll be putting young, and not so young, girls through every MMA and bikini test imaginable.

Y'all know some girls will fall short and be eliminated and y'all cannot wait for me to make them cry for their Momma!

Let's make them fight to the death for a place in Death By Bikini. They gotta prove their worth or they can get the fuck outta my line of sight.

Welcome to

America's Next Top MMA Fighter Season Two

Tonight I'll start by introducing the girls who will be competing for the glittering prize of a UCC contract.

Once again I'll be hosting this train wreck of a show. Yes, it's me: Tyra Banks. Sports Illustrated cover girl in 1996, 1997, 2019 and the best in the business.

Last season I enlisted the help of Paulina Porizkova and Christie Brinkley.

For season two I've decided to send out an olive branch to some of the other veterans of Sports Illustrated Swimsuit.

Each episode I'll have special guest judges helping me out with MMA training and photo sessions.

Just who those judges will be is a mystery for now.

All I can say is: "Don't miss an episode or I'll come to your house and take a dump in your laundry basket."

In season one, every competitor was new to the world of MMA and they were all relatively new to the world of Sports Illustrated Swimsuit.

This time around I've spread my wings and I think you'll find a few shock entries.

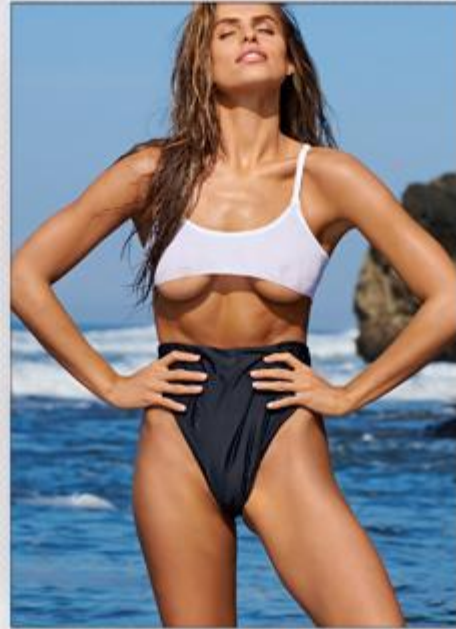

Get ready America! You're about to have your minds blown!

Let's meet our competitors for American's Next Top MMA Fighter, Season Two!

We have seven brand new rookies trying out. These girls are all overflowing with hope. Let's bring them down to size. Crush their spirits!

Anita Marshall 5'11" 42-31-47
Boston, Massachusetts, USA

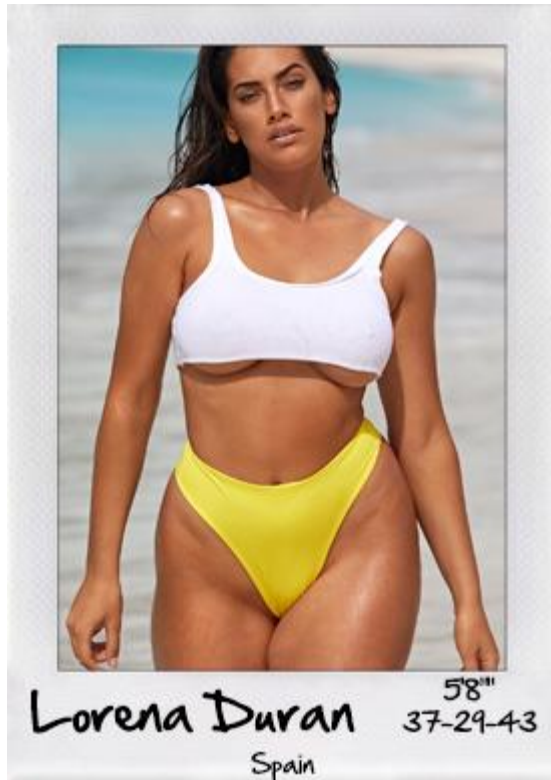

Brooks Nader 5'9" & 128lbs 32-25-35
Baton Rouge, Louisiana, USA

Halima Aden 5'6" & 110lbs 33-24-34
Kakuma, Kenya

Hyunjoo Hwang 5'9" 30-24-35
South Korea

The really crazy shit is that Sailor is the daughter of last season's judge, Christie Brinkley!

Returning to ANTMMAF, we have four girls who missed the cut in season one.

Can they find redemption? Anne was eliminated for cheating in Season One, can I trust her?

We have three veterans to MMA combat. These ladies all fought in the UMMA, but were not picked up by the UCC version of Death By Bikini. Can they reignite their careers?

Finally, there are two competitors who are not officially bikini models. Both have fought in the UCC and one still has an active contract. These two are definite wildcards!

Aly (also known as Alexandra) was dropped by the Raccoon stable after losing her match at UCC VII. She was never really given a chance to shine and Raccoon wouldn't even let her compete in a swimsuit!

Caroline is still active in the UCC and she's officially under contract with the Vassago stable. But after 12 official UCC fights, she's only managed one win. If she wins ANTMMAF will she leave Vassgao and join Death By Bikini?

I have no fucking idea.

You must all watch Season Two of my show to find out!
