

Administrative Philosophy Statement

Every student has the right to learn in an environment that is conducive to and promotes high levels of performance. The role of educators is to provide students with opportunities to demonstrate their learning in ways that are meaningful and authentic. Students and educators should be held to high levels of ethics and integrity and be allowed to exercise and experience personal liberty and responsibility. Given the right circumstances, every student can learn and demonstrate high levels of proficiency. Educators should endeavor to provide or create those circumstances.

As an administrator, it is my responsibility to create and foster a climate and culture within my building where educators have the support and liberty to provide meaningful and authentic standards-based experiences that promote high levels of student learning. It is also my responsibility to see that the school, including all faculty and staff, maintains high standards of professionalism that are founded upon principles of honesty, integrity, and excellence. I have the obligation to provide for the safety and security of the school and to see that the expectations of all school stakeholders are met.
