Police had to ride on all trains in philly between 3pm and 7pm because of a fight at race and vine train station. The fight involved 10 teens which several were caught stomping 2 teens. Early March about 100 students had started a crazy mob. Kids were getting arrested and even police officers were being injured. March 22nd in west philly a fight broke out and ended with a girls hair being lit on fire.

This shows how cruel these kids can be after school. Even the police have a hard time controlling the students. There are only so many police in one place so they stand no chance. Philly becomes a war zone after school dismissal. You can walk out of Olney Transportation Center and see a huge brawl go down. Who knows there were about 100 students what makes you think you won't be the next target.

In Philadelphia student say even having a good looking girlfriend can get you shot.

Students are saying anything goes down on philly streets. Even having money on you can get you shot if someone wants that money. A student at 13 watched his brother shot and killed right in front of his house.

In Philadelphia the students just don't care. The violence is getting outta hand and people are dying. Love one's; family are being killed and it's still going on today. Guess what they still don't care this is why I wanna get my topic on youth violence noticed. It;s gonna be hard to make a change and make people care if they don't want to.

No one feels safe when riding septa. After school all passengers don't feel safe when the middle and highschool students leave and ride on septa. There's been many cases where students have assaulted or cause a disturbance in the peace. Parents are more scared for their children more than themselves.

It's crazy because my mom was the same way. She never let me take the train to school because she was scared of my safety every day after school there's a fight. There's a saying down at my train station; when it get's hot the kids don't know how to act. It's true for the most part because their are days where people get jumped for no reason. This needs to be noticed.

Schoolers." YouTube. YouTube, 15 Jan. 2016. Web. 16 May 2017.

This is a news story with video evidence of a police pepper spraying a crowd of students after he got hit in the head while he was arresting an 8th grader for trespassing and refusing to leave. His sister got involved and a crowd swarmed around his swat car and a student threw a rock at the officer's head. He then took out his pepper spray and the students scattered with burning eyes and throats. This officer is right for this he was just doing his job and the students need to stop and mind their business. This is police brutality this is students starting a flash mob and started violence with a police officer because they have the numbers to get away with it. This is what I'm against and I want to stop. This event right here is broad evidence of what goes on in the youth community and this isn't the first of last time this had happened.

Realraplifestyle. "Young Kids Fighting in NYC Streets Goin in [DAMN #2014]."

YouTube. YouTube, 13 July 2014. Web. 16 May 2017.

<<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cXeyYpfv7eg>>. Two girls fighting out on the streets of NYC and this is just sad how a group of people just surrounded and watched these two girls fight. Throwing each other on the floor grabbing hair and just watching the blows.

The girls were teenagers fighting with pajamas in the middle of the street. One brave adult stepped in and stopped the fight. That woman is exactly what I hope I want everyone to be. To believe there should be peace. Why do we have to fight why don't we just be friends or just walk away from a problem.

Staff, CBSNews.com Staff CBSNews.com. "Youth Crime Rate Down." CBS News. CBS Interactive, 14 Dec. 2000. Web. 02 June 2017.

<<http://www.cbsnews.com/news/youth-crime-rate-down/>>.

The youth crime rate is lowering when it comes to violent crimes. Crimes like rape, assault, battery, etc. It's getting better than the 90's but it's still not over. The violence is still going on and it still needs to be noticed. People are still killing and still committing crimes.

Murder has gone down 68% but what about the other 42% That's still a lot of people killing. Most of this could happen everyday and these murders are mother, fathers, sons, and daughters. A lot is being done but not a lot of people notice this crisis that's going on in youth crime and violence. People aren't gonna stop and people still don't care. If they see something they like they will take it from you and won't think twice. It's crazy how cruel people can be to each other.

<<http://6abc.com/news/hs-football-star-charged-in-murder-of-15-year-old-girl/319447/>>.

A 15 year old girl was killed by a 19 year old man at broad & olney at Olney

Transportation center. She had nothing to with a big fight that happened moments before the shooting. A travelling bullets flew past a crowd and hit the girl in front of Einstein Hospital. The hospital was on lockdown for 6 hours until they cleared that the violence was over. The 19 year old turned himself in to police.

This is the most cruel and sad event I've seen on the internet. Why do they kill and fight for no reason. Do they wake up and say I'ma fight someone because that's how it feels every day. The violence needs to stop and people need to stop shooting. That girl didn't deserve the die and so does no one else. I wish the family the best of luck.

"Youth Violence." Telephone interview. 8 May 2017. I asked a police officer that a student knew various questions. Like have you ever witnessed youth violence he responded yes. Then I ask does the home and education affect our youth he responded yes. Then I asked about genders and how they play a role he responded both genders were equally causing the violence. He also Responded that our community isn't safe after school dismissal. After my interview I learned that most police witness youth violence. I also learned that from a police's point of view our community isn't safe. Boys and girls are the cause of everything that goes on. The home environment and the school life of a student is also effect. I know now we need to fix how safe the environment is after school
