

THESIS INFORMATION PAGE

Title of thesis: Social security policy in Ho Chi Minh City

Major: Political Economy

Major code: 62310102

Name of researcher: HO DIEU MAI

Student's code: 015102004

Training course: 2015

Scientific instructor:

Instructor 1: Associate Professor, PhD. Nguyen Van Trinh

Instructor 2: Associate Professor, PhD. Nguyen Hoang Phuong

Training institution: University of Economics and Law,

Vietnam National University, Ho Chi Minh City

1. SUMMARY

To achieve the thesis research goal, using methods such as dialectical materialism and scientific abstraction methods; Marxism-Leninism, Ho Chi Minh's thoughts on human rights, the right to live and be protected; Besides, combined with applied methods, including: document analysis research method, analysis method, policy impact assessment method, in-depth interview method, observation method and processing techniques. Analyze data to refer, analyze, interpret, evaluate, and point out the causes of inadequacies and limitations in the process of implementing social security policies, thereby identifying the effectiveness and efficiency, results of social security policy in Ho Chi Minh city. On that basis, the thesis is structured into 4 chapters: chapter 1, Overview of research on social security policy in Ho Chi Minh city; chapter 2, Scientific basis of social security policy; chapter 3, Current status of social security policy in Ho Chi Minh city; chapter 4, Orientations and solutions to improve the effectiveness of social security policies in Ho Chi Minh city.

2. NOVELTY OF THESIS:

Firstly, identify the theoretical framework and approach of the science of political economy in research on social security policy, which proposes a number of new concepts such as the concept of social policy, political social security policy, concept of implementing social security policy, structure, function, role of social security policy, ...

Second, evaluate and analyze the current situation, thereby pointing out the inadequacies of social security policy in Ho Chi Minh city, including: (1) policies and laws on social security are not synchronized, not timely and slow to amend, lacking flexibility and not appropriate to the actual situation and especially being passive in the process of applying and implementing social security policies in unusual contexts, leading to a number of people falling off the policy coverage floor;

(2) regulations on social assistance norms are not consistent with the actual situation and development trends; (3) the coverage of social security policies for the people is still limited, especially the rate of lonely elderly people with no support, orphans without support, and women in difficult circumstances, difficulties, people suffering from psychological shock, etc. falling out of social assistance; (4) The legal corridor regulating socialization policies for the process of implementing social security policies to attract the companionship of non-state individuals, organizations and enterprises is still limited. institutional; (5) slow innovation and digitalization in the process of implementing social security policies; (6) Policy regulations and the main implementation mechanism of social security are still implemented according to the ask and give mechanism, reflecting the passivity in policy design rather than the demand-stimulating nature of the policy.

Third, the thesis proposes a number of solutions and directions to overcome limitations in social security policies in Ho Chi Minh City, including: (1) Completing legal documents on social security policies socially appropriate to the economic and social context in Ho Chi Minh City; (2) Solutions to improve the organizational structure for building, promulgating and implementing social security policies; (3) Solutions to improve the capacity of officials, civil servants, and social workers in organizing and implementing social security policies; (4) Solutions to strengthen inspection and examination of the process of developing, promulgating, and organizing the implementation of social security policies; (5) Solutions to strengthen communication activities, mobilize the masses, and disseminate policies and laws on social security policies; (6) Solutions to enhance financial, economic, physical facilities, and equipment conditions for the implementation of social security policies.

3. APPLICATIONS/ THEIR POSSIBLE USES IN PRACTICE or ISSUES THAT NEED CONTINUED RESEARCH

The thesis contributes to perfecting the theoretical framework for social security policy research, proving arguments about the inadequacies of social security policy in Ho Chi Minh City, pointing out the scientific basis for the inadequacies. access; suggests some solutions for state management activities in planning, building, promulgating and organizing the implementation of social security policies in Ho Chi Minh City; The thesis's research results are an additional source of material, serving the process of researching and learning about social security policies. Research results can be used as reference materials for research and teaching at training institutions in Administrative Sciences, Public Management, Law, Political Economy, Public Policy, ...

From the research results, the thesis suggests the following research directions:

- (1) Legal regulations on social security are not synchronized, not timely and slow to amend, lack flexibility and are not appropriate to the actual situation, and are especially passive in the process of operation. applying and implementing social security policies in unusual contexts, leading to some people falling out of the policy coverage floor;
- (2) regulations on social assistance norms are not consistent with the actual situation and development trends;
- (3) Develop and promulgate socialization policies on social security policies;
- (4) Evaluate the effectiveness of socialization in providing basic public services;
- (5) State management of funding sources for the implementation of social security policies aimed at ensuring the security of people's material and spiritual lives./.

STAFF OFFICER

POSTGRADUATE

Nguyen Van Trinh

Ho Dieu Mai

Nguyen Hoang Phuong

CONFIRMATION OF TRAINING ESTABLISHMENT

PRESIDENT