- My parents perceive me as a son they can be proud of and be at the edge of their seats to tell their friends about me.
- People see me on the street and wonder ‘wHo iS tHis MAN?’
- Women see me and WISH they could be my wife.
- Men see me and wish they could have done what I DONE.

Day In The Life

Make it as vivid as possible. What does he FEEL like as he goes through each part of his day? Add images vision board style. Use the first person and present tense, i.e. “I walk through the streets...”

I wake up early in the morning before the sun rises above the horizon and start with my Fajr prayer. I feel a sense of gratitude as I have been given another day by Allah SWT do prove why I DESERVE to exist.

I do my G work sessions as my beautiful amazing wife makes me a nutritious breakfast that I am grateful for. This is my starting fuel for the day to make my dreams into a reality.

This is where I become step by step better in EVERY realm of human endeavour.

- PHYSICALLY better.
- MENTALLY better.
- FINANCIALLY better.

I leave my big villa and roam the streets of miami as I get all kinds of looks in the streets. Astonishment by women and bewilderment by men. They ask themselves ‘wHo iS tHis MAN?’. Women wishing they could be my wife and men wishing they could be in my position.

I am a BORN LEADER who sits at the top of a table and dresses extremely well.
