

AMOGURU

AMOGURU invites Kommo integrators to cooperate.

Increase your sales by receiving 50% of each transaction of our solutions for the entire period of use by the client.

Benefits of partnering with us:

- We work with legal entities, individual entrepreneurs and the self-employed
- We provide you with free tools - powerful widgets, available without restrictions if you have active clients.
- Your clients stay with you: after the partnership agreement is concluded, we do not interact with your clients directly.
- We provide you with free tools - powerful widgets, available without restrictions if you have active clients.

Becoming our partner is very simple, you just need to:

- write to us in any convenient communication channel
- conclude an agreement,
- provide a Kommo partner certificate
- indicate the partner account ID.

Legal entities must:

- provide details

Individuals:

- passport details.

To assign your client to yourself, you must write to us, specify the ID of the partner account and the ID of the client account

After signing the agreement, you will be able to offer our solutions to your clients and gain access to installing widgets in your partner account for training.

We provide lifetime royalties of 50% of sales, complete freedom from our marketing, free tools and comprehensive support.

Join AMOGURU and build a successful business!

We have developed transparent rules for working with partner clients: account assignment, financial terms and settlements, as well as assistance channels.

All new accounts are assigned to the partner who provided the information.

We create a company in the system and assign it to you.

The affiliate commission is 50% of the sale and renewal of our products.

You configure the widgets yourself.

For questions, contact your personal manager, technical support or the Telegram channel.