Listening Comprehension

Meeting Other Students

Teacher: So, now you've got the important information, it's time to meet each other. Everyone turn to the people next to you and introduce yourselves.

Cara: So, hi. I'm Cara. And you are?

Robert: Robert.

Selim: Selim.

Cara: Nice to meet you!

Robert and Selim: You too.

Robert: Nice accent. Where are you from?

Cara: I'm from Glasgow.

Robert: Oh, really? My mum's from near Glasgow, so I'm half Scottish.

Cara: Cool. Do you live in Scotland?

Robert: No, we live in England, near Manchester. My dad's from there. What about you, Selim?

Selim: I'm from Leeds originally but I grew up near London.

Cara: Are you both doing history on its own?

Selim: No. I'm doing history and German.

Robert: I'm doing it with maths, actually.

Selim: History and maths. That's different!

Robert: Yeah, I couldn't decide between arts and sciences. Maths doesn't help with remembering dates, though! And you?

Cara: I'm doing history and French.

Selim: I wanted to do French but German was easier, so I took that.

Cara: German is so hard!

Reading Comprehension

Travelling

Read and do the tasks.

- Hi, Peter. Have you already planned your summer holidays?
- Yes, I have, Nick. I'm going to London. It's great! But I remember you wanted to visit Paris.
- Well, I wanted to go to Paris at first, but my pen friend Henry from the UK invited me to spend a week with him.
- Have you decided yet what means of transport you are going to travel by, Peter?
- I wanted to travel by bus because it is the cheapest way of travelling but this trip will take a lot of time. So my parents advised me to go to London by plane. You know it is the fastest means of transport. I have already booked the ticket.
- What sights are you going to see in London, Peter?
- I hope to see Westminster Abbey and have a ride on the London Eye. But most of all I want to visit Buckingham Palace because this is the Queen's home in London.
- Would you like to visit any museums? There are a lot of them in London.
- To tell the truth I'm not fond of visiting museums. I haven't decided yet.
- When are you leaving, Peter?
- In two weeks, on the 14th of June.
- Will you bring me a souvenir from London?
- Of course, I will.
- Have a nice trip, Peter!
- Thanks, Nick.
