

Conservative College Opening and Keynote Speaking Engagement

- The Conservative College, led by Professor Toto, teaches the principles of the Republic and educates true Patriots.
- The college aims to expose lies and promote truth, similar to the puppy from The Wizard of Oz.
- Professor Toto welcomes the class and announces that the Conservative College is officially open.
- The monologue for the evening is anticipated to be enjoyable and filled with good news.
- Professor Toto reveals that he will be the keynote speaker at an upcoming event in Tar, California.
- The event will include a concert and a VIP section where photos can be taken with attendees.
- The speaking engagement will take place on Saturday, March 16th, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

Church Updates and Donald Trump's Nomination

- The church is looking forward to a great weekend and will be having Bible study this Saturday morning. Participants are encouraged to join the live Bible study by clicking on the provided QR code.
- There will be three more Bible studies taking place across the nation, particularly in Michigan, North Carolina, and Pennsylvania, where people will physically gather together for the study.
- On Saturday, Donald John Trump officially became the Republican candidate for the presidency after receiving all the necessary delegates.
- Trump's victory was a surprise to many, as media outlets had doubted his ability to win the Republican nomination.
- Trump celebrated his nomination and spoke about his record-breaking victories in the recent primaries, including Super Tuesday. Winning these primaries led to the Republican National Committee officially declaring him as the party's nominee.

Hypocrisy and Doubt in the Media Regarding Trump's Election Chances

- The country is in serious trouble with millions of people flowing in and no respect on the world stage.
- The media's credibility is questioned, as what they say doesn't hold importance anymore.
- An announcement is made declaring that those who believed in Trump's return were right.

- The media's hypocrisy is highlighted, as even CNN admits that Trump could win the general election.
- The pointless efforts of spending millions to bring Trump down in the primaries are mentioned.
- An article from the Orange County Register is mentioned, claiming that Trump cannot win a general election.
- A clip from CNN recognizing Trump's path to victory is shared, contradicting the Register's claim.
- The media is criticized for being false prophets who continue to be proven wrong.
- Nicki's statement that Trump would not win a general election is mentioned as an example of doubt in the media.

Donald Trump's Takeover of the Republican National Committee

- Donald Trump's State of the Union address did not receive a bounce in the polls, with four out of five polls showing that the president is still underwater.
- The New York Times also reported that Biden did not receive a bounce from the State of the Union address.
- A presidential bounce usually helps the president's image, but Biden's speech did more to divide America, according to Forbes Harris's poll.
- It was observed that Biden appeared as an angry man during his address.
- Donald Trump's takeover of the Republican National Committee indicates his intention to "drain the swamp" if he is reelected.
- Trump has fired 60 people at the RNC and reshaped its leadership.
- Trump has hired former Trump attorney and One American News Network reporter Christina Bob as the RNC's senior Council for election Integrity.
- Bob was involved in the plan to overturn the 2020 election and plot a coup against the United States government.

The State of the 2020 Election and Legal Action Taken

- The appointment of Christina Bob, a central figure in conspiracy theories regarding the 2020 election, as officer of election integrity at the RNC, is seen as a deliberate and shameless move by House Speaker Mike Johnson.
- There is no confusion about how we arrived at the current situation in the country, as it can be traced back to one man who has been spreading a toxic combination of anger, fear, and lies for at least 16 to 20 years, successfully inflaming the political and social culture of the nation.
- The impact of this poison is evident in the persistent negative perception of the country's direction, as reflected in polls on whether the country is on the right track or the wrong track.

- The discussion now shifts from Russia to Germany, with comparisons being made between Donald Trump and Adolf Hitler, as expressed by John Kelly.
- A recent legal action taken by the RNC, led by Lara Trump and Donald Trump, involves a lawsuit against Michigan's Secretary of State, Joseline Benson. The lawsuit claims that Michigan's voter roll is inflated with ineligible voters, with 53 out of the 83 counties having more registered voters than residents.

Notes on the Provided Text

- The text mentions that 23 counties have a voter registration rate of 90% or higher, which is suspicious compared to the national average.
- A lawsuit has been filed by the new Republican National Committee (RNC) regarding this issue.
- There is mention of a winner of a Donald Trump pure silver coin, with the website gods.money.info being mentioned as the source.
- The winner of the coin is Orpa Dunlap.
- It is mentioned that anyone can enter to win a coin by visiting gods.money.info every Thursday night.
- The text reports on the New York Fire Department chief's plan to penalize individuals who booed Letitia James, but conservative lawyers have volunteered to represent the firemen, and the chief has withdrawn his threat.
- A hypocrisy alert is mentioned, with the case of a nonbinary individual named Dagny Nex Benedict who tragically committed suicide on February 8th.
- The text does not mention who sent a statement to Dagny Nex Benedict the day after her death.

Hypocrisy and Misinformation in the Media

- Lak and Riley, a 22-year-old nursing student, was abducted and murdered while jogging on a campus in Georgia.
- The accused killer is an illegal alien from Venezuela, who was pardoned and paroled by the Biden Administration.
- The President took days to release a statement about Lak and Riley's death and mispronounced her name.
- The media initially reported that Lak and Riley was beaten to death by transphobic individuals in a bathroom.
- They blamed the general public for her death, claiming it could have been prevented if people affirmed ignorance.
- Later, it was revealed that the initial reports were false and that Lak and Riley survived the attack.
- Lak and Riley had interactions with the accused killer and a person named TR before the incident.

- TR mentions that Lak and Riley didn't provoke any harassment; they were targeted for being transgender.

Incident involving Transphobic Remarks and Confrontation

- The speaker describes an incident where they were in class and someone made transphobic remarks about their group's laughter.
- The speaker confronted the individuals by pouring water on one of them.
- In response, all three individuals approached the speaker, threatening to take them to the boys' bathroom.
- The speaker criticizes Joe Biden and the media for misrepresenting the incident.
- The speaker emphasizes that the act of pouring water was not motivated by hate and that the violence that ensued was not justified.

Incident of Assault and Transgender Suicide

- A plastic water bottle was thrown at someone, hitting them in the head.
- The person who threw the water bottle then lied about what happened.
- There was a physical altercation, with hair grabbing and throwing someone into a paper towel.
- The speaker mentions being accustomed to getting beaten up growing up.
- The speaker's friends attempted to help, but the speaker blacked out.
- The incident happened around lunchtime.
- The speaker refers to the transgender individual involved as a "young creature" and expresses belief that transgenderism is a mental illness.
- The transgender individual allegedly took their own life the day following the incident, overdosing on medication.
- The speaker criticizes society for not taking control of their children's lives and allowing them to live as transgender individuals.
- The speaker blames the media for promoting and normalizing transgenderism.
- The speaker refers to the transgender individual as a "young lady" regardless of their gender identity or expression.

Noteworthy Points in the Provided Text

- The loss of a life due to lack of protection and love is heartbreaking.
- There is mention of hypocrisy and the importance of reviewing evidence.
- The President's memory is questioned regarding a recorded statement and the presence of classified material.
- The assessment of the President's memory is deemed necessary, accurate, and fair.
- The writer clarifies the rules regarding the preparation of their report.

- The importance of avoiding prejudice and political motivations in an investigation is emphasized.
- The credibility of individuals like Robert Mueller and Jack Smith is contrasted with criticism towards someone named Swallow.
- The writer clarifies their role in testifying and addressing the report.
- President Biden is mentioned in relation to a verbal slip during an interview.
- The outcome of the interview seems to have resulted in Mr. Her being exonerated.

Claims of Exoneration, White House Involvement, and Hypocrisy

- The speaker claims that President Biden was completely exonerated by a lengthy and expensive investigation, but they believe this is not true.
- The word "exoneration" is used, implying the clearing of any wrongdoing by President Biden.
- The speaker questions the sufficiency of evidence and expresses doubts about the possibility of convicting President Biden.
- The White House reportedly requested edits and changes to the draft report of the investigation before it was made public.
- There is a discussion about the alleged sharing of classified information by the President with a ghostwriter, which the President denies.
- The speaker accuses the investigators of lying in their report and points out inconsistencies regarding the filing cabinets in their home.
- A new video is mentioned, which allegedly shows FBI agents cheering on the crowd during the January 6th events.
- The speaker claims that there will be a reckoning and suggests that Donald Trump made promises related to this issue.

Legal Proceedings and Potential Consequences for Fulton Fanny

- Trump promises to set all political prisoners free in office, with a specific mention of November or January 20th.
- Uncertainty about the outcome of Fulton Fanny's case. The judge dropped six charges against Donald Trump, which some believe may be a token gesture.
- Concerns about the judge's handling of the case. He allowed Willis to have an aggressive performance in court and did not intervene.
- Acknowledgment of the judge's potential vulnerability due to his upcoming election against a Jesse Jackson-appointed opponent.
- Potential media backlash if the judge tries to check Willis' behavior, portraying it as an act of white supremacy.
- Possibility of the judge acknowledging that Willis deceived the court but still allowing her to remain on the case.

- Mention of Congress' involvement, as Jim Jordan threatens Fulton Fanny with contempt of Congress due to missing a subpoena deadline.
- Comparisons drawn to Peter Navarro's situation, who is facing contempt of Congress charges.
- Anticipation for the outcome of Fulton Fanny's situation.

Church Tax Exemption and 501c3 Requirement

- A church does not need a 501c3 to be tax exempt and for donations to be written off.
- A local example: Sent secretary to pay for the community center and was asked for a 501c3.
- Sent the nonprofit registration with the state instead, which is sufficient.
- City Hall insists on a 501c3 or paying the full rental price.
- Clarified that a church cannot be discriminated against for not registering as a 501c3.
- Sent an updated IRS regulation for religious organizations to support the church's stance.
- Emphasized that the church has been in the community for 50 years.

The Age of Fakeness and the Great Awakening

- The IRS document states that the church is automatically tax-exempt and does not need to apply for recognition.
- The city clerk suggests using the Community Hall at a nonprofit rate of $900 per day.
- The speaker urges against letting governments take advantage and emphasizes the importance of not being ignorant.
- The world is described as being filled with fakeness and a new world order of wokeness.
- The current time is referred to as the fake age, characterized by fake news, fake elections, fake genders, etc.
- The Great Awakening, symbolized by a shofar on the screen, is emerging and challenging the fake existence.
- The speaker believes that history will remember this time as the age of fakeness.
- Society is criticized for promoting fake progress, fake liberalism, and fake education.

Fake Education and Fake Religion

- Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson initiated the development of a big government that provides.

- The speaker shares an experience at Remnant Ranch where they faced opposition from individuals determined to destroy Pastor V's church.
- Haters called the county, claiming the church was installing a septic tank without a permit.
- The county sent the speaker a list of people who called to shut them down.
- Even though pictures were shared on Facebook, the speaker did not respond as they knew the truth.
- The truth was that when they first bought the land, a meeting with the county determined that if everything was already there, no permit was needed.
- The septic tank was already there but malfunctioning, so they had to replace it.
- Five government cars came to inspect, prompted by the speaker's enemies.
- The health director acknowledged the need to repair the septic tank if it was unhealthy.
- The speaker emphasized knowing their duty and the health director eventually agreed there was no issue.
- Meanwhile, the community was building a roof and porch for one of their widows, which required a permit.

Government Regulations and Individual Liberty

- Before Hurricane Katrina, there were few regulations regarding building permits in the area.
- After receiving federal money, the government imposed guidelines and codes, making it necessary to obtain permits for construction projects.
- Failure to comply with the regulations would result in penalties imposed by the federal government, including potential drone surveillance.
- The government's involvement leads to a loss of individual autonomy and ownership of land.
- The speaker criticizes the notion that a strong centralized government is necessary for progress and prosperity.
- The New Deal, introduced by Franklin Delano Roosevelt, resulted in the creation of new laws, programs, and regulatory agencies that limited individual freedoms.
- The government's control extends to laws governing personal safety, such as seat belt laws for highway funding.
- The speaker emphasizes the importance of individual liberty, private property rights, and free speech as defining features of America.
- The speaker suggests that freedom of speech in the United States is restricted to "right speech" rather than encompassing all forms of expression.

Fake Education and the Longing for Truth

- Hate speech is defined as anything said against sexual orientation. This includes religious preaching against certain practices.
- Many people are unhappy in the world despite having access to technological advancements and entertainment.
- Humans across countries are reported to be dreadfully unhappy.
- The constant presence of celebrities and trending causes does not seem to make people happy.
- People may be wired by God to seek something real and authentic, which they cannot find in the current world.
- Some people watch the speaker because they believe they are hearing unadulterated truth, which their souls long for.
- The world is driven by hoaxes, frauds, and sham investigations, leading to a search for a meaningful life.
- The speaker values realness and points out the realness of their family, ministry, and church members.
- People are desperate for truth and reject fake authority and information control.
- In the age of revolution, fake education is one of the first things to be rejected by people awakening to the lack of purpose in academic institutions.
- There is a rise in awareness of fake liberalism and progressivism in education.

The Importance of Education and Knowledge in Society

- Education was seen as the great equalizer during the time of our Founding Fathers.
- Our Founders understood that education would equalize society and combat social inequality.
- Benjamin Franklin started the first library in the colony, demonstrating the value of access to knowledge.
- Thomas Jefferson established the University of Virginia, highlighting the importance of higher education and intellectual growth.
- James Madison and Marquee de Lafayette were present at the inaugural banquet of the University of Virginia, showing their support for education.
- The Declaration of Independence, United States Constitution, and Bill of Rights were created by highly educated individuals who promoted individual liberty through education.
- Knowledge is not merely obtaining a degree.
- Smart and highly educated individuals, such as Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Edison, shaped our country without formal education.
- Abraham Lincoln, with less than one year of schooling, was considered highly educated due to his deep understanding of the Bible.

- Abraham Lincoln's belief in and knowledge of the Bible allowed him to inspire and lead during the Civil War.
- The Bible is considered the most important book, providing knowledge that brings peace and joy to the soul.

The Importance of the Bible and True Knowledge

- The Bible is seen as God's word in printed form by the writer.
- The writer emphasizes the importance of reading the Bible to know God.
- The writer believes that the Bible is flawless and written by 40 different authors.
- The writer argues against the idea that the Bible is merely written by men, stating that it is actually written by the Holy Ghost through men.
- Abraham Lincoln understood and believed in the miracles of the Bible.
- The writer criticizes the pursuit of false knowledge and argues for the importance of obtaining true knowledge.
- People are drawn to the writer's church for the truth it offers, rather than for its size or entertainment value.
- Abraham Lincoln viewed the Bible as the best gift given by God.
- Lincoln was familiar with and deeply knowledgeable about the Bible, quoting from it in various settings.
- The reader is urged to wake up and pay attention.

The Awakening and Education

- Lincoln's love for the Bible did not translate into attending church. He believed that churches were teaching lies about the Bible.
- There is currently an awakening happening, with more people waking up and becoming educated about the truth.
- Degrees that are earned without rigorous education are considered fake and meaningless.
- Homeschooling is growing as more parents want to provide alternative education for their children.
- Overpriced colleges prioritize woke nonsense over Western scholarship, which leads to intellectual prisons.
- Marxist indoctrination camps disguised as classrooms promote racist and sexualized curriculum.
- Americans are realizing the negative consequences of giving away their values and are seeking awakening.
- Fake degrees will eventually become expensive and entrepreneurs will prioritize practical skills over climate change ideology.
- Vladimir Lenin believed that teaching children would result in a lasting impact. Geniuses are currently destroying America.

The Awakening of a Freedom-Minded Movement

- The harm caused by the lack of critical thinking and dependence on the government will not be quickly undone.
- A nation that is taught not to think for itself, but to rely on the government, will only know obedience as their course of action.
- When the control mechanisms become too outlandish, the population will gradually awaken and rebel against fake premises.
- Just as Central European countries rebelled against Communism, freedom-minded people in the West are rebelling against various fake narratives and control attempts.
- The awakening of this movement is led by the spirit of Yahweh and signifies a call to be the voice of truth in a fake world.
- The audience is part of this movement and has been called by God to be the clarion voice of truth in the darkest hours.
- By answering the call and following the chofar, they will be the salt that saves America.

God Bless the USA

- The text is a collection of lyrics from the song "God Bless the USA".
- The song expresses love and patriotism for the United States of America.
- The lyrics mention various locations across the United States, such as Minnesota, Tennessee, Texas, Detroit, Houston, and New York.
- The author mentions being proud to be an American and appreciates the freedom and rights given by those who sacrificed their lives.
- The lyrics express a desire to stand up and defend the country.
- The author refers to America as a land that they love and asks for God's blessings.
- The audience shows their appreciation with applause and by saying "God bless".
- The lyrics highlight the importance of America being guided and protected, especially during the night.
- The author refers to America as their home and expresses love for the country.
- The text ends with a reference to "Hallelujah" and a final blessing.