- Brandon:

- Jakub Voracek

- 2 points in 1 GP

- Nolan Patrick

- No points in 1 GP

- Mikhail Sergachev

- 2 A in 3 GP

- Cam Talbot

- Didn't play :e

- Esa Lindell

- 1 A (shorthanded EN) in 3 GP

- Unsustainably high:

- Gambi:

- Brandon:

- Alex Tuch

- Not getting much done on the PP, could move down. High oiSH% at 12.2, high sh% (for him) at 14.8%.

- Evgenii Dadonov

- Still relatively high on him, but with Trocheck out, being top line is a big difference. He's still top PP and doing well there (PPP in 5 straight), but eventually that will level out and he's going to have to find a way to score on a pretty bad second line (McCann, Vatrano)

- Jacob Trouba

- Ride it while it lasts, but I don't think he'll be worth much after Buff and/or Morrissey returns

- Mathieu Joseph

- We've been here. Be wary with guys that play 9-11 min TOI

- Adin Hill

- Relax, he's not that good

- Unsustainably low:

- Gambi:

- Brandon:

- Jason Zucker

- Not enough about his situation has changed. sh% a little low at 10.5% (for him), minutes increasing from last year, oiSH% kinda low (9.2%)

- Might not get THAT much better

■ Brad Marchand

- Bergeron being out shouldn't be messing with him quite this much. One of the best snipers in the game can't score despite plenty of rubber on net

■ Brandon Montour

- Still have very high hopes for him while Fowler is out. PP TOI has gone up, though somewhat low in the last couple of games due to the top PP unit not being deployed much for some reason

■ Devan Dubnyk

- He's too good for this streak of mediocrity. Due for a change.

• Sustainably high:

◦ Gambi:

■

◦ Brandon:

■ Elias Lindholm

- Seems to have solidified top line

■ Anze Kopitar

- His points rebounding a bit is nice. Yes, no points in the last two (possibly 3 depending on the ARI game), but he's picking up the pace at least. His periphs will always be bad

■ Jonathan Drouin

- Seems to be a much better winger than a center

■ Ryan Reaves

- Great for bangers, but I'm liking the uptick in shots. PP exposure is helping, and he's rarely positive corsi for (first time since 2012-13). As long as he has PP exposure he has an added bonus for role players

- Oscar Klefbom

- Sure looks interesting under Hitchcock

- Sustainably low:

- Gambi:

- Brandon:

- Chris Kreider

- Still has bounce back potential, still good periphs. Needs to be with Zibanejad.

- Tyler Toffoli

- 30% is too high ownership for him. Higher on Kings in general, but not Toffoli

- Will Butcher

- RIP. PP specialist who isn't making it happen on the PP lately.

- Jaroslav Halak

- The time was coming, the time is now
