

Hey there,

I hope the new year is treating you well.

Like most people over the holidays, you probably engaged in small talk. Sometimes it's fun, but other times, not so much.

Inevitably, the topic of work finds its way into the conversation, "What do you do?"

You've heard it all. It usually starts positive, then the complaints are peppered in. You might be thinking to yourself, "Why do they put up with that?"

A majority of the time we stay in our jobs because it feels safe.

Would you agree that a "safe job" is an oxymoron?

It doesn't exist. Layoffs are more common than ever.

Maybe it's gatekeeping or no one wants to share it... but being an entrepreneur is truly the safer option.

Who's going to lay you off?

No one.

Who decides your pay raise?

You do.

What about leaving early to watch your kid's baseball game?

You can do that.

I've personally been there, dreading my workday and feeling stuck in my job.

It's what motivated us to franchise. We want to equip you with a newfound sense of freedom, success, and purpose.

You can single-handedly flip the repair industry on its head (and make a great living doing it!).

Homeowners are tired of dealing with contractors, paying hand over fist for repairs, and receiving little to no return on their investment.

All of these downsides are ripe with opportunity.

Preservan is 90% cheaper than the competition, repairs are completed in as little as 24 hours, and our work is backed by a 10-year guarantee.

Better yet, Preservan has proven itself to be recession-proof.

Is entrepreneurship your goal for 2024?
