Foreword

As I'm sure is obvious, this is a compilation of evidence regarding Nin of DissociaDID and the issues I and many others have with her and her content. Many links are from KiwiFarms and I want to implore anyone reading this to not be afraid of KiwiFarms. Much of the valuable information we see on Reddit and Twitter come from the site. Don't be a pussy. Read the links provided. They won't eat you.

I'm also aware that KF may be nuked pretty soon. I intend to keep tabs on when it will actually be nuked, if it is, so that I can re-link some of the links so that this doc can stay online.

This document also speaks in the tone that Nin does have DID. I, as well as many others, think she's faking to some extent (Munchausen's or otherwise), but for the sake of this doc reaching more people, much of the information is presented in the context that Nin does have the disorder.

This document was created in the summer of 2020 while I was on summer vacation and in quarantine. As things pick up with school and work, I'll be able to update this doc less often, but I'll do my best.

Everything Before April

- See Chloe's Timeline on KiwiFarms.

April

- April 8: Nin announces via Instagram, YouTube, and Twitter that she had a "very close call with a suicide attempt," which begins her hiatus.
 - Nin tells her fans to ignore false claims and defamation, and peppers in "We'll try to stay alive" in her post.
- April 10: Nan goes live and addresses their situation with the weird art and problematic behavior
 - Nin can be seen in the chat, coaching Nan through their apology saying things like "You can stop now babe", etc.
- Week of April 13-April 20: Nin's Socialblade shows a -5.2 million view count for the week. This indicates that she privated a bunch of old videos.
- April 14: Nin takes a break from her break to retract her support from Nan/TP.
 - Nin wanted to give Nan the benefit of the doubt, but they couldn't endorse Nan after more CP allegations came out.

- She tearfully tells her audience that she is sorry she didn't know and tells them to stay safe.

May

- Week of May 4-May 11: Nin privates more videos as her Socialblade shows a -1.3 million view count for the week.
- May 9: Fabricated screenshots surfaced on Twitter that show "Chloe Wilkinson" implying that harassing skeptics and trolls is an okay thing to do.
 - Nin breaks her hiatus to denounce the screenshots as someone pretending to be her.
- May 10: An admin of the chat that the fake Chloe was in confirmed that the conversation never happened.
 - Nin posts that the person who created the screenshots did so with intentions to doxx them.
 - Nin informs her audience to not engage with hate accounts.
- May 11: A then-fan of Nin's comments (notably young, 13 years old if I recall correctly) on a DissociaDID Instagram post asking her to address the racism allegations
 - Nin says that none of her alters have an Indian accent despite Amira very much having one
 - Another example of her contradicting herself here; Nin did claim the Indian label for Amira.
 - Nin also claims to have echolalia, which is why she picks up accents. This isn't what echolalia actually is.
 - Echolalia does not cause accent mimicking. It mimics speech or sounds. It is a spontaneous symptom of disorders like Tourette's and autism in the form of tics. See also: echopraxia, which is mimicking movements. Still not accents.
 - Nin says she'd like to keep her content as educational about DID as possible.
 - There is absolutely something to be learned about race and DID. Personally I don't understand how making a video about it wouldn't be educational, especially since Nin has a lot of non-educational videos anyway.
 - The thirteen-year-old ex-fan asked Nin why she deleted the apology to her.
 - Nin seemed to only delete the response to the original comment rather than both the original comment and the response. This caused fans of Nin's to attack the ex-fan for several hours after the comment was posted. The ex-fan was then removed from following Nin on Instagram
- May 11: JoansSherlock on Twitter, a POC system who spoke to Nin last year regarding racial issues, says that Nin said she'd make a video covering the topic.
 - She never did. Instead she ghosted everyone trying to educate her.

- Week of May 11-May 18: Nin privates more videos; her weekly view count for that week is -3.8 million.
- May 12: Evidence of Nin filtering YouTube and Instagram comments surfaces
- May 13: People start to take notice that Nin is deleting Tweets.
- May 14: Nin declares herself inactive on Instagram.
- May 21: An example of another DissociaDID fan being nasty and racist.
- May 23: Entropy speaks up on Nin's silence.
 - These pictures were deleted from Entropy's Twitter soon after they were posted. Apparently Nin and Entropy had discussed privately. See June 27.

June

- June 1: Nin takes to instagram to post about the Black Lives Matter movement in the wake of the murder of George Floyd. It is subsequently confirmed that Nin is deleting, or at least filtering out comments that are from actual POC that are critical of her.
- June 7: Nin's parents' address is leaked on KiwiFarms
- June 9: Bobo&Co uploads a video catching her viewers up.
 - Not much happens in it, but she implies that she isn't friends with Nin anymore, or at least doesn't want to talk about it.
 - Implied that she had read the KF thread: "We've been reading the KiwiFarms, we've been seeing everything, you know... we were very close to Nin."
- June 13: In a now-privated livestream (archive here), Moxie of Axolotls in a Trenchcoat gave a take on the drama. Some notable quotes (some timestamps from kiwifarms may be off by a few seconds because of time discrepancies in the original stream and the archive; they're there, just skip back a few seconds):
 - 35:08 - "It's an issue [for Dissociadid] to ignore past grievances or past things that may have not been socially, morally, ethically, or whatever, acceptable."
 - 38:06 - "Having a mental health disorder doesn't absolve anyone from being racist or problematic."
 - 39:30 - "From when this was initially bought up a couple months ago [...] in our small friendship circle group, and this isn't trashing on anyone this is literally my experience of it, DissociaDID asked us. They were just like 'hey, y'know, should we film a video or should we make a tumblr post?' ... [I said to] make it on Tumblr so people won't get more aggressive and call them out more than they already had been"
 - 42:48 - "We were having a discussion and that's basically what we thought as well ... I was like 'Hey, I heard there were comments being deleted, what's the deal with that?' and pointed out that silencing black voices in a post about BLM negates the point of making the actual post. [Chloe was] just like 'yeah but we've posted links' and stuff like that, 'deleting a couple comments or blocking a couple people that got aggressive-' - now I didn't personally see any aggressive comments. I was just like 'hey, this is problematic' and I kind of got to the point of going around in circles with Nin about it. I was just like 'Look', [...] 'it's your content, you can do what you like. You asked for my opinion but we seem to be going around in circles'. [...] She was saying it should be okay to censor/restrict her comments. I even said this: 'you may as well just take the BLM post down, because black lives clearly don't matter if you're going to be silencing them'"

- 47:26 - "This is kind of where it got me really agitated, because again, we'd been going around in circles for the past hour about why silencing black voices isn't an appropriate thing to do on a post like that, let alone in general when speaking about racial issues involving black people. In response to me saying that, she said "our life matters too""
- 1:00:35 - "I said 'I can't keep these friendship ties with someone okay with racist behaviours. I don't feel heard, loved, nor respected. It's invalidating as hell, this is my last message here.'"
- 1:01:40 - "We had multiple accounts in the group chat because a couple of alters in the system have individual accounts. We exited the chat with our main but there were two other accounts still in there, one of which was mine. The message after we left the chat was 'JFC' - Jesus Fucking Christ - that was written by DissociaDID. What we said was 'writing Jesus fucking Christ is rude, unnecessary and invalidating as Hell.' ... 'This is my last message here, I can only hope that you wise up in the future.' . "
- 1:03:40 - "They went through their settings and realized that some things were being restricted. ... The other day they sent another message that they were talking to someone else ... and basically getting advice on how to be a better ally and how mental health shouldn't get in the way of that ... and was asking whether they could call us to apologize properly."
- 1:05:00 - "... [They said they are planning on] doing a video featuring POC systems on their channel when they come back from their break ... and [asked if] we wanted to be involved."
- 1:06:02 - "[It was] very performative allyship, that type of thing, like I was just very annoyed."
- 1:45:40 - "If we were to say something about the racism issue ... we would be manipulated with ... what she had said about Kai and we would be made out to be sexual abusers or sexual predators."
 - This situation above was told a few minutes prior to the timestamp. Essentially, Nina and Kai bantered and flirted a bit, but nothing explicit. When they got home, Chloe was coming to the front. Kai whispered something into Chloe/Nina's ear, wanting Nina to come back to front to continue flirting. Moxie acknowledges that this wasn't right and Kai had apparently apologized for this later.
 - DissociaDID's account of things was that there was non consensual touching and dirty things being whispered into Nina's ear and even accused Kai of pinning Nina/(Chloe?) to the couch.

- Kai reflected on this and did indeed apologize for overstepping any boundaries, but neither Moxie nor Kai remember anything about pinning Nina(/Chloe?) to the couch. Moxie says specifically that it didn't happen, rather than "I don't think that happened"
- TLDR FOR ABOVE QUOTES: Nin "All Lives Matter"d Axolotls and accused them of sexual assault
- June 14: Nin comments on VangelinaSkov's video covering Axolotls' live stream.
 - She recalls her side of things, saying that there were multiple overstepped boundaries, many of which are things that Kai said didn't happen.
 - Following this, Axolotls posts a screenshot of Kai's apology from May 28 of this year.
 - Axolotls' channel was eventually deleted.
- June 15: Nin makes two Instagram posts.
 - The first post is a six-part post titled "Race & Our Comments Policy."
 - The post re-addresses Nadia calling herself Native American and Black. An apology post was made on Tumblr last year, but the apology along with the whole Tumblr was deleted.
 - She reflects on her experiences talking to POC and researching the issue.
 - She also claims that her behavior "was immediately amended and has not been repeated." She "continue[s] to listen to constructive feedback on how to be more sensitive to the topic of Race within DID."
 - She claims that the reason her Tumblr account was deleted was due to hacking threats.
 - She addresses the BLM post, saying that she deletes comments that are inflammatory/hateful/nonconstructive from anyone, no matter the race (see link above; this isn't true).
 - She apologizes for not being better informed.
 - The second post opens with a description of a "dedicated campaign against those with DID and OSDD."
 - Nin details how she has been doxxed and claims that she never had any malicious or manipulative attempt behind any of her actions. She says she will not address things in detail because it is too complicated and there is too much.
 - She withdrew from the TOI EntitleDID conference and announced her departure from the online DID community.
 - She thanks her supporters and she hopes that "what we once dedicated our lives to will still be useful, supportive, and inspiring to those who need it."
- June 16: Nin confirms via Patreon that she is not actually going to stop making videos, unlike what many on Twitter have said.
 - She says she'll make DID and other mental health content. She's stepping away from the community but still feeding into it.

- June 16(15?): Ed from Multiplicity & Me goes live, explaining that they were the ones that were meant to be in the Anthony Padilla video.
 - *UPDATE - SEE HERE FOR MORE DETAILS ON THIS SITUATION
 - There were concerns about M&M travelling in from Europe due to money and their baby, so they gave up their spot for some American systems to take instead.
 - Rather, Nin swooped in and offered to pay for all of the travel costs.
 - Bullshit ensues, see the link above. Jess explains that the situation was resolved privately with Padilla. Padilla has since stopped working with the casting agency that he worked on for the DID video.
- June 17: The Entropy System goes live (and eventually talks on her Instagram story) about how Nin posted about her suicide attempt because she felt that trolls needed to know the consequences of their actions.
- June 18: Nin addresses Entropy's claims on Patreon from the previous day and said she never meant any ill will in posting about her suicide attempt.
 - She reduces Entropy's live stream as drama-stirring and apologizes on behalf of Entropy if what Entropy said upset anyone, pushing the blame away from her.
 - She wants to keep her Patreon free of drama.
- June 18: Entropy posts a screenshot of a conversation on Instagram with Nin
 - "People need to know how serious this harassment is. ... This is public. The people doing this don't get to assume we're fine and that their actions don't have knock on consequences" says Nin about her post back in April announcing her suicide attempt and break.
- June 23: Fragmented Psyche has a "tell-all" livestream/upload, but it's ultimately just a video trolling everyone hounding everyone else for drama.
 - People get pissed over this for causing them anxiety over Internet drama.
- June 24: The Entropy System goes live and talks about how she was in on FP's trolling and talks a little about Nin.
 - Entropy draws comparisons between Nin and Shane Dawson in how they react to drama.
 - Entropy talks about how they have spoken to Nin on multiple occasions about her unhealthy behavior, confirming that it's a pattern rather than an isolated incident.
 - They also say that Nin "stirred up every piece of drama that came her way for views and sympathy"
 - Following Entropy's live, they post on their Instagram story about how they "lost their channel" and "got betrayed by two friends ... Nin and Nan" because of the drama.
- June 26: After making a YouTube video speaking out against Nin, The Others posted on their Instagram about how DissociaDID stans were sending hate.
 - The video on question "called them out for misinforming their audience [and] for exploiting their disorder for personal gain." The Others did not mention any other controversies, but rather just expressed their own thoughts about the situation
 - The Others implore Nin to break her silence.
 - Nin responds by telling people to not try to send hate. Thanks Nin very cool

- June 27: Bobo&Co goes live to talk about the drama.
 - Bobo expresses fear around speaking out, but she wants to share her side/experience.
 - “This is obviously about Nin. This isn’t about Pinata really, it’s about Nin. Because she was my best friend for a long time.”
 - Bobo has apparently felt uneasy about Nin for about a year
 - Bobo asked the others at the DID Sleepover if she could bring Chloe to the sleepover after Chloe asked to come.
 - At the sleepover, there was a tea party and at that tea party Chloe got switched and Omega came out.
 - Bobo wanted to calm Omega down and brought her aside, but Omega starts wailing, sobbing, and grabbing at Bobo.
 - Bobo already had trauma surrounding suicide, so this wasn’t something that was easy to witness
 - Upon arriving home, Bobo had “a complete breakdown,” but going forward neither Bobo nor Nin addressed it any further.
 - Bobo also addresses the assault allegations against Axolotls
 - Bobo didn’t see anything that was happening during the livestreams
 - After the livestreams, everyone went and hung out in pairs (Chloe and Axos were one of those pairs) and Bobo recalls hearing Chloe storm off
 - Chloe tells Bobo to keep her away from Axolotls, saying that Kai kept trying to come onto her during the livestreams and that Kai had pinned her to the couch; it apparently took Jade switching in to get Axos to stop
 - Bobo agreed to help Chloe keep her distance from Axos, but the night went on as if nothing happened. Chloe woke Bobo up early in the morning, saying that she wanted to go home
 - Bobo says that she has never felt uncomfortable around Axos. She had always felt safe around them and thinks that what happened was a misinterpretation, if anything happened at all.
- Bobo details the Plymouth visit, which is the first time Bobo ever felt hurt by Chloe
 - Bobo prepares her house for Chloe and Nan’s stay, but Chloe said that she got an Airbnb
 - Day 1: Bobo offers to meet Chloe and Nan at the train and to get something to drink, but Chloe turns both offers down in favor of resting after traveling
 - Day 2: Bobo asked again if they wanted to meet up, but Chloe rejected Bobo again

- Day 3: Chloe and Nan met up with Bobo in the afternoon, brushing off their late meeting as flashbacks and anxiety problems (despite vlogs just showing Chloe and Nan in bed)
- Day 4: Bobo and Chloe & Nan did not meet up
- Day 5: Chloe and Nan meet with Bobo again, briefly. For the 5 days that were meant to be for Bobo to hang out with Chloe and Nan, they hung out for 2 of those days
- Bobo felt like the trip was a Plymouth visit with her as a cameo; she “felt like a collab tool” and that she was just there to be in the vlogs
- Bobo visiting Chloe was apparently “so much worse”
 - Bobo felt like she was not wanted, as Chloe and Nan would go to bed around 7-8pm and giggle and laugh in bed without Bobo no matter who was fronting on Bobo’s end.
 - Jeremy and Kyle would apparently give snappy comments to/about Toast
 - Lots of money was donated by livestream watchers, but despite this, Chloe asked Bobo for 20pounds for the Thai food they bought; Bobo had 60pounds to last her the whole month.
 - Nan left Chloe and Bobo alone at one point to exist as best friends, but after 20 minutes, Chloe notices that Nan “had gone missing”
 - Chloe had to run after Nan and Bobo was left alone again
 - One of Bobo’s littles, Layla, was treated badly
 - Layla has bad separation anxiety. Casey(Bobo’s partner? I don’t know anything about them) tells Layla to knock on the door upstairs and see if Chloe is there.
 - Layla opens the door and Jeremy shoots out of bed and pushes Layla out of the room, asking Layla what she was doing. Layla asks to see Chloe, but Jeremy says “no, you have to go to bed”
 - Layla notices a spider in the kitchen, goes upstairs again, and Jeremy chucks the spider out the door and goes back upstairs, once again leaving Layla alone. Layla spends the rest of the night awake and scared.
 - Chloe and Nan were apparently screaming at Toast to break up with Casey after a fight. Toast said that it wasn’t his choice and reminded them that he was twelve
 - When Chloe had therapy, Bobo and Nan went out shopping but Nan seemed terrified of Bobo the entire time, “like she had just murdered their cat”
- Bobo wanted to meet with Chloe before Nan came back to the UK, but Chloe bailed on her. That was the last time Bobo saw Chloe
- “She doesn’t care about any of us ... She probably only became friends with me because I could get her to the sleepover. Once I was no longer helpful, I was gone.”

- Bobo has messaged Chloe reaching out for help when she was in a bad place on several instances, but would get no response until days later, so Bobo stopped trying.
- “She’s not gonna friggin’ answer me”, says Bobo when people ask her if Nin is okay since the doxxing. Bobo clarifies that this is not just pre-integration Chloe, this is up until now.
- Bobo was hesitant to speak out because she cares about Nin. She doesn’t say any of this for drama, but she wants to be brave and put out what has been happening for years - “this has been years.”
- Bobo knew nothing about the situation with Pinata - she always had a weird feeling/didn’t like them because of personal experiences, but never knew about the CP.
- “They were so praised. They could do no wrong, neither of them.”
- Bobo then takes questions
 - Bobo did not get any of the livestream donation money after the stream.
 - The reason Bobo has been away from YouTube is because of the Nin drama; the farms was right when they said Bobo knew something
 - Chloe and Nan were already dating when Bobo met Chloe at the DID sleepover, so Bobo doesn’t know if Chloe was “like that” before dating Nan
- TLDR FOR ABOVE STREAM: Bobo talks about several instances in which Chloe made her uncomfortable, upset, or excluded. This included Omega having a very intense and stressful flashback in front of Bobo (Chloe pushed responsibility for everyone onto Bobo) and treating Bobo like an afterthought when they were supposed to be “best friends” (treating a little badly, her and Nan going to bed early and ignoring Bobo while she was visiting, barely interacting with Bobo when Chloe and Nan visited, etc.) Bobo was afraid to speak up because of the power Nin had
- June 27: Entropy goes live on Instagram and explains why they left YouTube
 - Nin refused to change the title of her Trisha Paytas: The Impact video despite wishes for her to change it to avoid drama. People continued to panic on her behalf
 - When the Nan situation happened, people were flocking to KiwiFarms and got upset in defense of Nin. In the background, Nin keeps defending Nan despite everyone saying to stop defending them.
 - No one was comfortable living with Nan for the weekend for the EntitledDID to Life conference. Nin ignored everyone’s wishes and told everyone to not say anything to anyone publicly.
 - Following the above, Nin leaves her infamous suicide Tweet and vanishes.
 - Entropy and some other systems were hounded by people asking whether Nin was okay

- Nin ignored all of the advice Entropy gave and left the drama at an emotional peak.
 - The fanbase was overdrawing their bank account making sure Patron money went through; Entropy wanted to comment on what was happening, but they were scared.
 - Nin was beloved by all, so Entropy was afraid of the backlash that would come with her denouncing Nin. Entropy hated seeing her channel's name next to Nin's
- Entropy then talks about how her description of Lito brought her under fire; nothing new here, she had conversations on Twitter that included both helpful advice and violent threats.
 - Entropy did not leave because of this; she left mostly because of the Nin drama, but the violent threats on Twitter did not help
 - She goes on to talk about diversity; not important for now because this doc is about Nin
- Nin fans are included in why Entropy left because the fans wanted answers. Fans kept hounding Entropy for answers, so Entropy called Nin out on Twitter
 - Nin messaged Entropy after the Tweet was posted, saying that Entropy put Nin's life in danger
 - Entropy explains to Nin that they and the other DIDTubers felt betrayed and hurt. Nin responds by attacking Entropy and saying that Entropy sounded like she was straight out of KiwiFarms, accusing Entropy via voice message that she was only in this for the money and the views and wanted to support the trolls
 - This makes no sense because Entropy quit YouTube days earlier
- Now that Entropy doesn't have her channel, she's floundering and in a bad emotional space
 - Thinking about going back to her channel made her break down crying because of the backlash she thought she'd face
- Entropy will now respond to as little drama as possible; she will still be on IG and will still be at EntitledDID.
- The livestream is no new information but it was important to take notes on
- TLDR FOR STREAM: Entropy gives a timeline of events that led up to her parts of the Nin Drama™ including telling Nin not to milk the Trisha situation. The situation with her alter Lito was not the sole reason (or really a reason at all) for Entropy leaving YouTube. Rather, it was a combination of how Nin treated Entropy, reactions from Nin's fans, etc.
- June 28: A protector from The Rose System, a (now former) Patron of Nin posted on Nin's Patreon.
 - Rose is the same Patron that appeared afraid and confused with regards to Entropy's livestream on June 18. Younger members of their system were usually the ones to use Patreon, and the post from Rose on June 18 was posted by one of these younger members.

- According to Rose, the post stayed up for a few hours and then was subsequently deleted. No hate was left on the post; in fact, it got a couple of likes.
 - Posters on KiwiFarms also allegedly left a comment under The Others' comment on Nin's YouTube community page. This comment disappeared similarly to Rose's post.
 - Rose also sent me screencaps of a DM conversation they had with Nin previously regarding drama on their Patreon.
- June 30: Trisha Paytas apologizes for the DID drama in her podcast.
 - Trish explains that what she saw in Padilla's video resonated with her in some way, explaining that she experiences blackouts and gaps in her memory.
 - She apologizes for being ignorant on the subject and not getting a diagnosis, etc.
- June 30: Nin responds to a comment on her community page
 - She claims that she hasn't deleted anything off of her community page
 - She also claims that any fan who is sending hate her way is "not a true follower" of hers
- June 30: A buried comment from Multiplicity&Me surfaces on r/DissociaDiscourse
 - Not all of this is new information, but some notable things:
 - M&M said that "if needs must because it was so last minute, we would be happy to come over and use our own funds and/or suggest other systems" when a system known to be "endogenic" (a system without DID/OSDD), but they were uncertain because:
 - They'd just gotten over being sick
 - They didn't want to take more time off from work
 - They didn't want to leave their baby
 - M&M outlined this in a group chat that Nin was also in, and then Nin reached out to the casting agent, who responded with "MultiplicityAndMe were handling it"
 - M&M reached out to the casting agency (that Padilla isn't working with anymore) and they replied that "they would pass this on and for us to enjoy our interview" leaving Ollie excited
 - Nin eventually sent the group chat a screenshot of an email that M&M was supposed to get. Here's where it gets snakey
 - The scout that Nin reached out to originally said that M&M was handling things, Nin "found an alternative email address to someone in the team and wrote to them instead, saying all the things we'd said about funding our own travel, etc. Although never speaking or interviewing prior, they were given that email."
 - Despite claiming being able to fund her own travel, Pinata did say that it was "a quiet winter" for them financially...?
 - When Ollie confronted Nin about this, Nin said that "it was just business"

- “They told us we had to apologize to them for blindsighted them by asking for an apology to begin with... they knew how much we at least wanted that opportunity to decide for ourselves, they knew we’d put hard work in, they knew we wanted it to go to another smaller system if possible with the time constraints”
- “The fact that our decision was removed and Nin sought out another way to get in despite being told by the agent that we were handling it... it just felt very... un-friend-like.”
- M&M gives thanks for allowing her to express closure. She doesn’t want to cause issues, rather, she wants to share her experience like others have.
- June 30: A buried comment from Entropy surfaces on r/DissociaDiscourse
 - This comment essentially summarizes how Nin handled the whole Nan-Drew-CP issue
 - The woman running the EntitledDID event held a Zoom call for everyone to voice their concerns regarding Nan. Nin chose not to participate in the call, “only showing up for a minute and saying she hadn’t had the time to give the pinata issue any thought because she was preoccupied with her parents being doxxed”
 - “Nin tried to shut down the conversation by saying we shouldn’t have any discussion about it publicly and it was better if all of us said nothing.”
 - “The exact thing she said over voice message was ‘I said once that the same thing that’s happened to them is what’s happening to you and Fragmented Psyche. They’re taking things out of context and twisting it. They’re using triggering words and triggering terms to try and force a reaction out of the community that they know will be confused and hurt and scared’”
 - “I don’t know if they’re still together but Nin comparing me to Pinata and playing off their actions like it was all a misunderstanding was baffling to me”
- June 30: Violent threats that have been received by DissociaDID critics surface.
 - Note - previously there was a Reddit link to these screenshots, but for some of the victims’ safety at their request, names have been blurred out.

July

- July 1: Nin claims that she never deleted The Rose System’s post.
 - Those in the comment section confirm that Rose’s other few posts are there, but the most recent one is not.
 - Even Sergio Costa (if you’re new here, he’s a hardcore Nin Simp™) said that Rose’s post was deleted

- Rose's past posts prove that they are very clearly not a troll and was in Nin's Patreon well before the drama hit
- July 1: Nin posts on her YouTube community page and says that she is going to take a "firmer approach" to dealing with hate
 - She announces that there will be an email for people to send documentation of hate, DDHateControl@mail.com
 - Upon further inspection, it seems like this email address is sketchy, as is DDHateControl@gmail.com (in case there was a typo in Nin's post). People begin to speculate if the email address is real.
 - I decided that the only way to check to see if the email exists or not was to see if the mail username was already taken. It was, so the address exists.
 - Eventually, people note that emails are bouncing.
- July 2: So many people have been without Patreon perks that there is now a post on the DissociaDID subreddit guiding people on what to do about it
 - Accounts of things like this are found in another post from the DissociaDID sub.
- July 2: Nin replies to a comment and says she'd already responded to the race issue last year (keep in mind the original lengthy apology was deleted from Tumblr) and readdressed it on her Instagram
 - She fails to really acknowledge the rest of the comment, which tells her to take a serious break to regroup.
- July 2: Likely in response to Patrons coming out and expressing their dissatisfaction, Nin reminds her Patrons that her rewards are on hold for now
 - This does not address the Patrons who did not receive rewards pre-hiatus
 - Nin offers a refund to a dissatisfied Patron. Whether she will go through with any refunds is hard to say because she has not refunded anyone for Nan's visa.
 - It is important to note that Nin waited until the second of the month to post this. Patrons usually get charged on the last day/first day of the month
 - I don't really know how Patreon works so someone correct me if I'm wrong here
 - Axolotls also says that you can pause billing for your Patrons; this was always an option for Nin if she chose not to supply rewards for the month.
- July 2: Nin explains why she took Rose's post down from Patreon
 - The post was allegedly reported by some Patrons before she took it down
 - This contradicts what she said earlier about not deleting any comments other than one aggressive troll.
 - See also: Rose did not delete any Patreon comments of theirs.
- July 2: Several instances of emails bouncing from DDHateControl surface
 - It should be noted that not all emails bounced, but many did.
- July 3: Nin claims that the reason emails are getting bounced is because of "an attempted hacking"
 - According to Nin, mail.com allegedly shut the email down for a day due to the hacking. That's not how cloud emails work.

- Individual emails are not shut down even if an account is successfully hacked. Typically, an email will be sent to you if there is a suspicious login that requires you to confirm that it's you or change your password, etc. It doesn't stop the receiving of emails.
- Servers only shut down and bounce emails when a hack is attempted on the entire platform. It also wouldn't make sense to bounce emails being sent to the address if an email was hacked; it'd make more sense to block any emails that are being sent FROM that address
- July 3: Nin says that she has never had any intention to start or engage in drama, saying that all she did was correct scientific facts.
 - I'm gonna include my opinions and commentary here:
 - Nin did not have to respond to Trish's video. She didn't have to put Trish's name in the title, nor did she have to make a followup video with Trish's name in it
 - As mentioned earlier in the doc, Entropy and others told Nin not to put Trish's name in the title to avoid stirring drama. Nin ignored them.
 - People are blaming Trish 100% for Nin's suicide attempt when Nin has said multiple times that the attempt was because of several things, not just Trish. This is the impact that clickbaity namedrop video titles have. People miss the point and things get construed
 - I'm not going to question whether Nin's attempt was valid because to me, it doesn't matter. It doesn't make anything more or less okay.
- July 5: After some testing on r/DissociaDiscourse's end, it's determined that emails bouncing was an issue that wasn't on Nin's end. Rather, it was a server issue. There are still problems with the statements she put out, however:
 - While mail.com has a good filtering system as far as spam goes, it doesn't care if you get hacked. An anecdote told in the Reddit post linked above explains:
 - "Well, I got my friend in another country to hack in to my mail.com email, and not only did it not give me a warning someone on the other side of the world had gotten into my account, she was able to type in 16 random passwords without the site locking her out or questioning her, and I never got a single notification for it. This site has a really good filtering system but it does not care if you get hacked. We both accessed the account from different locations at the same time and nothing happened. Mail.com is not going to shut her address down for hacking reasons because it wouldn't register it in the first place (apparently). If you think you've been hacked, the site recommends you change your password and practice safe login procedures like signing out properly and not just closing the browser."
- July 7: Nan makes two community posts on their YouTube page. [\[Post 1 Imgur\]](#) [\[Post 1 Textdump\]](#)

- The first post is a long one. I'm going to summarize/include quotes to the best of my ability.
 - Riven is apparently authoring the post
 - Pinata has been advise to "reciaim [their] voice" by professionals
 - Riven talks about their YouTube journey including the two years where they weren't monetized
 - This YouTube journey fell apart because "a group of people wanted to see us and others with mental challenges get hurt" and claims that there are lots of fallacies
 - Pinata says that people's shift in opinions was because "they didn't understand what was being presented to them."
 - Riven vagues some other DIDtuber for being a snake
 - Pinata gets that people are triggered, but explains that when people with trauma are triggered, their brain doesn't function logically.
 - While this is true, I feel like seeing CP and being distressed over it is a very logical reaction. Maybe that's just me.
 - "How could people see ANYTHING sexual in the drawings they did of cartoon characters, fully clothes (sic), just sneezing? Sneezing isn't inherently sexual, only in specific circumstances. Fetishes aren't sexual all the time ..."
 - This one really got me. Nan literally said the only way they can get off is through sneeze fetishism in their little livestream back in April.
 - "Jer and Nan both freaked out, assuming that their drawings MUST be wrong, since so many people are against us"
 - Riven talks about how they were chased off the internet and how they've seen professionals since that chasing off.
 - Professionals have allegedly said that there's nothing wrong with Nan's drawings, nor should they be labeled as CP
 - Hate sites and critics were said to just be untreated narcissism
 - Not true but okay bud
 - The actual pornographic images that Nan drew were apparently from a "private, adult website"
 - "We have been assured by a number of professionals that Nan has drawn nothing wrong, and certainly NOTHING REMOTELY RESEMBLING actual CSEM. It's gravely disrespectful to people who've actually been part of CSEM, dealt with grooming personally, and have a long history with CSA to label something as benign as what Nan drew as 'cp'"
 - I told myself I would keep this doc as factual as I could, but I have to powerlevel here. As someone who was groomed growing up with fetish art of cartoon characters, I can say with confidence that it is way more disrespectful to survivors to say that they're overreacting to fetish art. It's fucked up and to think that it isn't is way more insulting and disrespectful than what Nan is bitching about

- Riven goes on about how children can't consent, but "a cartoon cannot be exploited. Sexual drawings of cartoon characters CAN be exploited to groom children, but there's nothing exploitative about a non-sexual drawing of a cartoon character itself. All the pictures of child cartoon characters Nan drew were non-sexual"
 - News Flash: The only way you can prevent these drawings from being exploitative to children in any context is to NOT POST THE DRAWINGS.
- Riven pushes blame away from Nan/Pinata altogether and pushes it onto the "hate sites" that are using "disturbing language that was purposefully and maliciously used around Nan's drawings, and posts in the past."
- Riven bashes KiwiFarms for targeting other members of the DID community and complains about not having a voice anymore.
- "Public advocates of this community, who are just traumatised people themselves, are being dehumanised, being forced to apologise for things over and over with no avail, and having to endure aggressive bullying and slander from people within their own community"
 - There's no way that this isn't about Nin
- Riven talks about childhood trauma and says that they aren't going to make DID advocacy their job again
- "We will not give emotional or mental space to a bunch of lies written by a group of self-proclaimed nazis and incels about personal stuff from our past which has been twisted"
- The post is eventually edited to address a rumor that Nan propositioned a 13-year old
 - They explain that the kid in question was an unnamed 15-year-old alter in an adult body and that Nan's 14-year-old alter was dating this alter long-distance and that Kit was never interested in sexual stuff
- Another, much shorter post is put up soon after with comments turned off.
 - Nan explains that they're embarrassed by the old porn posts.
 - "Nudity isn't something sexual to me, but I didn't understand at the time exactly what it meant to draw characters I liked nude."
 - Nan apologizes to people if the images they drew were used to groom/hurt others and to people who were groomed/hurt by cartoons in general
 - I'm not gonna accept that, thanks
 - "We never meant to hurt anyone. People were hurt though, and for that, we are so sorry."

- “There is nothing we can say that everyone will accept. ... I hope people can move on in their own healing”
- Nan says they’ll continue to work on themselves
- TLDR for these posts: TeamPinata comes out of hiding and says that people reacting badly to the CP drawings are not thinking rationally. Professionals allegedly have said that nothing Nan did was wrong and basically just apologizes if anyone was offended or hurt. Nan shifts the blame from them to those that are offended and labels anyone still critical of them as being from a hate site. Basically a huge slew of gaslighting
 - A thing to note here is that both of these posts use British English rather than American English. In an edit to the first (much longer) post, Pinata claims that the post has been peer reviewed.
 - “One of the professionals is a British Trauma Survivor Advocate, who helped us to write this in order to reclaim our voice”
 - There’s a ton of speculation that this advocate is Nin.
- July 7: According to Fragmented Psyche, Nin is still supporting Nan/Pinata.
 - Nin apparently asked FP if they’d ever consider befriending Pinata again, to which FP declined.
 - FP has remained friends with Nin in the event that she realizes what she did was wrong as she is still pretty young, but they “are about at our wits end of continuing a friendship with them, especially after their response to a text today”
 - FP is also “not confident that [Nin is] not still in a relationship with pinata (and as time goes on it’s feeling more and more like they are)”
 - “We figured that they were still together when dissociadid asked us if we would ever be friends with pinata again, because why else ask us? We know dissociadid has feelings towards us and that’s fine. However, not gonna stand by people who support and excuse pedophiles”
 - FP has also been posting on their Instagram story about the situation.
- July 7: A concerned fan posts on Nin’s Patreon about Nan’s community posts.
 - Nin responds by telling this fan to not bring negativity to the Patreon page and doesn’t want to be updated on other creators.
 - “We are independent creators and only want to focus on education. Please help us keep Patreon and our YouTube focused on that and that alone”
 - The fan notes that some people think Nin and Nan are still together. As of the last update to this doc, there has been no response to this.
- July 7: DDHateControl@mail.com is linked to a Twitter account.
 - @DissociadidC was created in July 2020, but whether this is Nin or not can’t be determined. All we know is that the email address is attributed to this Twitter account.
- July 7: DID and Me posts a response video to Pinata’s return post.

- DID&Me calls out Pinata's first post as "masturbatory, fuckin' excuse-ridden bullshit post that was filled to the brim with gaslighting and really boiled down to 'you guys overreacted.'"
- "Today, I am reaffirming that they should have zero room in this community, that they don't belong here, and that they need to leave forever."
- DID&Me references the sneezing video
 - "That was really just them fetishizing their entire audience because they got off on people being part of their little fetish without those people knowing. So every person who saw that video was victimized unwittingly."
- DID&Me alludes to a different situation that will be explained later
 - "This is the type of person who financially exploited somebody. Used one of their little sob stories to get money out of someone."
 - "They also proceeded to groom one of the child alters to engage in disgusting behaviors"
- DID&Me tells her subscribers to unsubscribe if they support TP because "this is a person who hurt someone who I care a great deal about"
- "KiwiFarms, eat your fuckin' heart out. I'm not gonna tell you who this person is. ... It's none of your business ... but I'm not gonna sit here knowing what I know ... they admitted that they lied about [the art being commissioned]"
- DID&Me says that "fetish" and "sex" are one in the same and they can't be differentiated.
- July 8: DID&Me makes a community post to address the previous day's video.
 - In this post, DID&Me shares an account of an anonymous system who claims that Nan groomed a young alter to send sexually explicit photos and $300 to them and then proceeded to ghost them.
 - "I don't say this because I want legal action taken, and I don't want to press any charges. This isn't even a letter intended to reach Team Piñata. This is a letter to reach other victims. Because as well all know, me and my system are not the only ones. I am an adult but other people who suffer from this disorder are not."
- July 10: Nin's Socialblade shows a 120,000 view loss, indicating more videos were privated.
- July 11: Team Pinata changes their mind about returning to YouTube via a community post.
 - Professionals have allegedly encouraged them to come back, but Pinata doesn't want to, now that the internet hates them.
 - Pinata also addresses the DID&Me video's claims:
 - "It's come to our attention that someone has impersonated us to harm a system. It's not in our code to disbelieve survivors, but certainly whoever hurt this system was not us. I would hope the culprit will be tracked down and stopped, and I think that can be achieved by a thorough look at the evidence."

- Pinata will not be making videos or appearing online anymore, aside from some interview on a different channel.
- “We are sorry for our part in the hurt you feel.”
- Pinata calls the community out for being toxic and dysfunctional “with all the drama and broken trusts”
- Pinata claims that they will pursue therapy and recovery offline.
- “At this point, there have been too many apologies disregarded for us to think another one will be productive. We ARE truly deeply sorry, and I hope the community can heal. Please take care.”
- Comments are turned off for this post.
- July 17: A Kiwifarms user posts a link to a bunch of \(many since deleted\) DissociaDID videos
- July 19: Nin reaches 1 million subscribers on YouTube
- July 19: Screenshots are found of two Instagram accounts:
 - One is ninamon_roll which many believe to be a Nin alt account
 - Another is wizardly.jaybird (formerly wizardly.jemmy), an art account that features an art style eerily similar to Nan’s.
 - Much of the content appears to be alters Jeremy and Kyle in romantic situations along with cutesy captions, etc.
 - Ninamon_roll follows wizardly.jaybird.
 - Ninamon_roll is private, but wizardly.jaybird was posting these arts through much of July
 - If these are indeed PinaDID (which in all likelihood they are given jaybird’s art style, etc), then this is evidence that they were still together despite what Nin said back in April.
- July 19: As KiwiFarms posts about these accounts, what is thought to be Nin allegedly edited the ninamon_roll account.
 - This serves as further evidence that ninamon_roll is indeed Nin
- July 20: Redditors point out that TP’s art signature and wizardly.jaybird’s art signatures are identical
 - Wizardly.jaybird is now a private account
- July 20: Some point out consistencies within ninamon_roll and Nin’s other accounts.
 - There are also some slight changes in that account’s numbers. Follower count goes down and post number goes up.

August

- August 16: KiwiFarms rediscovered a video from July of Bobo&Co’s that I’m putting in the August section because nothing fucking happens in August.
 - Bobo apparently has a lot to say about the “drama”, but won’t because KF is watching

- 9:30 - “I don’t know how 2 people, well, mainly one person, can fuck up so badly. And continuously so badly.”
- The rest of it isn’t important
- August 29: A Redditor claims that Nin has essentially copied parts of their inner world and/or trauma, etc.
 - Important to note that these are unprovable claims, but again, nothing fucking happens in August and it might be worth putting down.

September

- September 4: Commie uploads more of Nin’s since-deleted videos, fresh with summaries. Thanks king.
- September 4: Many theorize that DissociaDID called into an H3 podcast.
 - The woman in question that sounds much like Nin speaks at 24:08 in this podcast.. Lots of weird BDSM talk.
 - KiwiFarms discusses the possibility that this could be Nin.
 - All in all, however, this possibility is very very slim as the timelines in the H3 podcast and Nin’s relationship timeline don’t add up much at all. In the words of Commie, this is “not impossible but it is fairly unlikely” that this is Nin.
- September 20: Sam, Nan’s ex, spills some beans on Reddit.
 - He appears to confirm that Nin and Nan are still together at this time
- September 20: Screenshots are posted on KF of Sam’s AMA about Nan and their sneeze fetish channel. Archived here
- September 23: Another Sam AMA.
- September 25: Nin makes a community post announcing some plans for the following month.
 - She announces an Inktober-esque art challenge being done on her Patreon
 - Users will be able to suggest prompts for $5 and vote on them for $1.
 - Users then vote on their favorite art to be featured in videos or merch
 - Higher tier subscribers also get HQ downloads and a video of Nin drawing
 - Nin makes a disclaimer that she won’t be able to moderate well and that there are no other rewards offered due to uwu mental health bad uwu
 - Pieces must be trigger warned, etc etc
 - More importantly, Nin says she will delete any drama-stirring posts.
 - From the replies and such that Nin posts, this seems to just be a cash grab for new patrons.
- September 26: People are pissed about the cash grab.
 - More here.
- September 26: Nin addresses a comment that brings up many DD criticisms. Summary:
 - Claim to have never knowingly spread misinfo, this is why they cite sources

- (part of education is fact checking your sources, Nin, it's not enough to just find them. You should also probably read them)
- Says they've already addressed racism and won't claim racial/ethnic labels for alters anymore
 - (it's more than just that that you need to apologize for Imao, what about the 'our life matters too' that you dropped on Axolotls? deleting/filtering comments on BLM posts?)
- Says they're no longer in a relationship with TP and haven't been for a while
 - (doubtful, given other information presented in this doc, namely the instagram accounts from July)
- September 26: Another commenter probes more about TP.
 - Nin responds that it's complicated when alters are dating other alters in a system but ultimately, they aren't together anymore.
 - This leaves me to wonder how long they actually were in contact with each other and dating each other (or... alters dating each other????) after Nin's public denouncement.
 - Nin then deletes this reply to her response, that in essence agrees that she's in charge of what's on her channel but she can't just ignore the situation
- September 27: Nin makes another long-winded community post about her art challenge
 - TLDR, she's keeping this to Patreon because people could abuse the hashtag publicly and she's also donating to charity.
- September 27: Nin ignores this question about why SaniTEA is still up.
- September 27: Nin is overdramatic about legitimate concerns.
 - Just a thought, but if you're not ready to talk about it, don't come back to the internet.
- September 28: Someone comments on a community post and says DD still needs to apologize.
 - Nin responds. TLDR, Nin doesn't know what more the commenter wants and she values constructive criticism.
- September 28: Another comment on a community post, this time about the racial issues.
 - Nin doesn't feel like she's educated enough to speak on race and DID.
 - OP acknowledges this, but gives a suggestion to allow POC/SOC to post on her account and give them a platform. OP also notes that most people will actually see it if it's a video, not an Instagram apology or a community post.
 - Nin says it's too hard for her and she's busy advocating for her own life. Not sure what this has to do with just hosting other systems on your channel, but okay
 - Sounds eerily familiar to "our life matters too" to Axolotls

October

- October 3: After the first rounds of art prompts, Nin reveals a new alter, Mara.

- Mara has apparently been present since September. at least
- October 11: KF takes notice that SaniTEA underwent a name change after Reddit was talking a lot about it
 - The channel will apparently be deleted
- October 11: Axolotls references this doc when someone calls Nin's content educational. Many thanks
- October 20: The DissociaDID channel posts its first video in months.
 - Archive
 - The video is not of much substance. Nin talks about her art challenge with a fancy new intro even though the art challenge is nearly over.
 - A disclaimer at the bottom of the description of her videos is present in seemingly all videos subsequent:
 - "Disclaimer: This channel exists for educational purposes only and we make every effort to provide the most accurate and up-to-date information. However, we are not qualified professionals. DissociaDID acts as a hub for collating scientific resources, and we combine those with advice from our personal experiences of living with DID to create content that is accurate and easy to understand. While we hope it is helpful and provides access to essential resources, DissociaDID is in no way a replacement for the work and advice of practising professionals in the mental health sector."
- October 20: Bobo&Co tweets about Nin in the wake of Nin's return
 - Also some likes
 - Fragmented Psyche also nods to Nin mentioning the "DissociaDID community"
- October 29: Another vague from Bobo about Nin
 - See also: two more FP vagues about Nin

November

- November 6: Nin announces the charity that she will be donating the proceeds of her art challenge to
 - Rather than copyasting his entire post, just read what Commie has to say about this. If you're going to click on any link that leads to KF in this thread, make it this one. It explains what is wrong with the charity she's picked and its dubiousness.
- November 11: Nin talks about her new Patreon tiers
 - Screenshots of tiers in question:
 - \$1 and \$5
 - \$15 \(p2\)
 - \$30, \$100, \$300
- November 13: Nin returns to YouTube. I'll spare you all and summarize everything:
 - New intro with the subtitle "mental health education"

- Nin talks about how much her channel grew and discusses how the attention she got required her to step back and get therapy
- She needed a break because uwu mental health uwu
 - Valid reason to take a break, but like... come on, Nin
- Little quote box of her own quote at 1:50 that just says to prioritize your own health
 - There's a lot of these unnecessary graphics in her video
- She goes on to talk about "what she's learned in therapy" etc
 - Mentions her art challenge and the sketchy charity she donated to
- Talks about COVID and stuff, emphasizes in person support (nod to her fallout with her internet DID friends?)
- Makes her little disclaimer in video-form: she isn't a scientist, but she collates scientific information on her channel and explicitly states she isn't a professional
 - As such, mentions that she called herself a professional in the past, but this was in reference to doing mental health YouTube as a job and not being an actual professional in mental health
- Notes that she can't speak for everyone with DID/OSDD
- Yaps about Patreon
 - Elaborates a bit on why she couldn't fulfill her Patreon tiers in the past
 - This is scamming people, Nin
- After going on a long-winded rant about her mental health, she reveals her new upload schedule which "isn't weekly, but regular"
 - Implies that she will be doing things other than YouTube to "make a difference"
- Like/comment/subscribe
- November 15: Nin responds to some critics about her Patreon
 - With good reason, too - according to Patreon's site, Nin's patron hoodies are way overpriced.
- November 19: Nin uploads a new video: PSYCHIATRIC WARDS!? What are they like? | A Beginners Guide To Mental Health | DissociaDID
 - Archive
 - This video is sponsored
 - Nothing particularly interesting in this video; pretty dry, but does imply that internet drama put her in a psych ward
 - She's incredibly vague about whether she actually was in a psych ward over her break, but it's not unlikely that that's what she's implying. However, she does give some odd claims (being followed into the bathroom, this is usually only done with people with eating disorders who have eaten recently; 2:1 monitoring but also being able to have your phone; bringing your favorite pajamas and blanket while being... involuntarily admitted?)
 - Notable words from Commie, who has worked in an inpatient facility

- “It definitely was an inpatient stay flex but it doesn't align with what we know about her hiatus”
- “Find me a nurse or officer who wants to stand there and make eye contact with a shitting lunatic anyway. I would say she was exaggerating on that point - evidence of her inexperience.”
- “She is being very careful not to slip up and say something contradictory these days. She knows how easily her claims can be disproved.”
- Another anecdote, specifically about the UK mental health system that seems to disprove more of Nin's video
 - “Chloe is likely expecting her critics to disbelieve her, and I suspect she has a ‘gotcha’ card. She might never flash it, but it would explain the smugness.”
 - Many speculate that Nin was indeed admitted, but intends on using it to her advantage as she expects critics to disbelieve her. Personally, I'm on the fence, but I'm leaning towards her having stayed for 24h and using it as a gotcha
 - More from this user re: phones in hospital
- Disclaimer again about not being a mental health professional
- Like/comment/subscribe
- Note also that she's labeling her sources as ‘helpful resources’
- “She's scary..... she looks like an alien... always staring...” - my girlfriend on this video
- November 20: Some comments from Nin's video:
 - One \(rape ment.\) | Two \(abuse ment.\) | Three
 - It appears that filtered words do not include actually triggering things (like... y'know... rape and abuse), but do include buzzwords and TeamPinata mentions.
- November 24: Many commenters point out flaws in Nin's video:
 - Callout re: deleting criticism
 - Callout re: inaccuracies \(OP is from England\)
 - Callout re: Nin calling herself an educator, not having credentials
 - Callout re: more inaccuracies

December

- December 3: Nin uploads a new video: Life with ALTERS!? | Living a PRODUCTIVE life with Dissociative Identity Disorder! | DissociaDID
 - Archive
 - “gags.... I have such a visceral reaction to her voice” - my girlfriend
 - Sponsored by SkillShare, of course
 - Generic DIDtube advice about communication
 - Post-it notes, journals, planners

- Says amnesia is a good thing
 - ?????? What
- “When I was Nina...”
 - She talks a lot about how she felt about planning when she “was Nina” and....?????
- 11:00 - People say DID is like never being lonely and that’s not the case!! Except when it is and Sally can comfort me through a breakdown!! But also the alters hurt me!!
- Promotes own videos
- Like/comment/subscribe
- [pick up here later]
