Christmas Delight: We Love Christmas - Stuttgart, Germany - 13.12.2021 - NFT

Cast: Maximilian Mann, Roberta Valentini, Philipp Tobias Hägeli, Rafaël van der Maarel

Notes: Recorded at the back of the auditorium but the audio still turned out very clear and decently loud. Occasionally you can hear my friend and I laughing and whispering but it shouldn't be too distracting. Fair warning though: There were two very stubborn people in the audience who tried to clap along to a lot of songs whether it was appropriate or not and found it funny to sometimes comment on whatever was happening very loudly. Oh, the joy of German concerts. NFTF except through master!

Cast: Drew Sarich, Mark Seibert, Ana Milva Gomes, Nienke Latten

Notes: Outdoor concert including songs from Elisabeth, Robin Hood, Mozart!, Dear Evan Hansen, Tanz der Vampire and many more. Outstanding was the performance of „Heel alleen“ from Les Misérables sung by Nienke Latten in Dutch. Due to this concert being an outdoor performance there is rare chirping audible and sometimes the volume of the songs is fluctuating. Nevertheless, the audio quality is excellent for an outdoor production. Cast: Tom van der Ven, Veronica Appeddu, Nicolas Tenerani, Merel Zeeman, Thijs Kobes, Fleur Alders, Sander van Wissen, Anja Wendzel

Notes: These eight actors from the Tanz der Vampire tour have put together a little concert of about 100 minutes during which they are singing a bunch of their favourite Disney songs, mainly in German and English, but also with a few parts in Italian and Dutch (as these are the native languages of most of the actors) - while also doing some parts with a little twist, aka references to the show. Quatsch mit 3: Vol. 3 - Stuttgart, Germany - 30.08.2021 - NFT

Cast: David Jakobs, Maximilian Mann, Felix Martin

Notes: The show was livestreamed to Facebook so I didn't think I'd ever release this audio but turns out the livestream wasn't saved at all and I figured some might still want to at least hear this truly wild and fun show, which features a mix of musical theatre songs, pop songs, original songs, and games. However, since I only took this audio to practice it didn't turn out great. The show was in a variety theatre and I was sitting in the last row with my recording device lying on the table so the audio is kinda quiet throughout and you can sometimes hear people talking and eating (as well as my friend and me laughing). Sorry! But still, a bad audio is better than nothing I suppose. NFTF except through master!

The Grand Musical Afternoon Tea: Joke de Kruijf - Amsterdam, The Netherlands - 10.10.2021 - Matinée - NFT

Cast: Joke de Kruijf

Notes: Wonderful concept where the audience gets to enjoy a high tea at the gorgeous Sofitel Legend The Grand Amsterdam hotel, while a musical theatre artist provides entertainment. This weekend it was Joke de Kruijf's turn and she took us on a small journey through her career, with songs like Memories (Cats - in German and English!), Somewhere That's Green (Little Shop of Horrors) and of course Think of Me (Phantom of the Opera). Her voice is still as amazing as ever and it was a lovely afternoon. One small thing though: because of the set-up (high tea + live entertainment), there is quite a bit of background noise. The audio is still very listenable though.

Simone Kleinsma in Concert - Dutch Tour - 31.10.2021

Cast: Performer: Simone Kleinsma, Band and backing vocals: Menno Theunissen (piano), Maria Martinez Payà (everything else)

Notes: A lovely concert from Simone Kleinsma (the Grand Dame of Dutch musical theatre) about moving on after her husband's sudden passing a few years ago. While there is obviously some sadness when reminiscing about their time together, there is also plenty of humor in the stories she tells. Overall, a lovely concert with beautiful songs.

The Sound of Musicals - Dutch Tour, The Netherlands - 22.10.2022 - NFT

Cast: Tessa Sunniva van Tol, Suzan Seegers, John Vooijs, Tony Neef

Notes: One of the last shows of this concert tour. Most of the show felt very chaotic, with arrangements that didn't work and cringy dialogues. As a result, the audience was often confused and a lot of people didn't really get into the show. During the Mamma Mia medley, you can even hear someone audibly asking why everyone else is sitting still. John Vooijs looked and sounded like he was either ill or extremely tired, which was extra noticeable, because the others did sound great. And while I love seeing a bigger band on stage, this one was too big for this kind of concert and overpowered the singers. What the show was missing, aside from some good direction and better arrangements, was an alto/mezzo with a strong belt. Suzan and Tessa are great singers, but were clearly stretching their ranges to their limits and some of the songs were just not a good fit. If you're wondering why it's so quiet during the first part of the encore: they went with a medley of songs from 'On Your Feet!'. Unfortunately, that show didn't do so well in the Netherlands and Gloria Estefan isn't that popular here to begin with. So most of the audience was just awkwardly swaying and clapping along with the music. Lastly: it was incredibly uncomfortable to see Suzan, Tessa and the back-up singers in many extremely short and glittery dresses, doing sexy dance moves, while the men were just standing there whistling and gawking. Seeing poor Tessa pulling down her skirts and pulling up her tops to cover more skin on several occasions, was painful to watch. The audio is missing some bits from the West Side Story medley, because I was getting worked up about the singers using exaggerated Spanish accents. Sorry (but not really).

Notes: Recorded by a friend and released by MusicalTheatreLove. Includes a setlist. An amazing concert where the artists are all on top of their game. Especially Willemijn Verkaik, who gets to show off her range with more classical songs like 'If I Loved You' (Carousel) and 'All I Ask Of You' (the Phantom of the Opera), as well as her language (and belting) skills when she sings Into The Unknown (Frozen 2) in English and Japanese. The setlist is very diverse, with songs from so many different musicals. Notes: Fantastic concert with a star-studded cast and live band. The audience took a while to warm up but was thoroughly engaged by the end. J Harrison Ghee was SO sparkly, even while they sang The Confrontation as Javert. Willemijn joked that maybe she can try singing Defying Gravity in Japanese next year. Audio may be slightly muffled during Raise You Up and the final curtain calls due to phone being placed on the floor in order to give a standing ovation. During Raise You Up, all the performers came down to the audience and sang whilst walking through the aisles.

Willemijn Verkaik: Brightest Colors - Oberhausen (Stadion Niederrhein), Germany - 05.07.2021
- NFT except through me (Melovely)

Cast: Willemijn Verkaik

Notes: Open-air Solo Concert. The same she did last year with a few changes (Songs - Into the Unknown in 3 languages and Little Girls from Annie, talking bits, etc.). A really lovely concert!

Willemijn forgot her lines to Jetzt und Hier right before entering the stage in the beginning. Before Lass jetzt los she said: "If you don't sing (this song) with me...!". At the end of the song, she tried to make the audience sing a line, but everyone missed it (people start laughing). A few seconds later everyone joins in though.

File Info: Some whispering here and there from the audience but overall, very good quality. Recorded close to the stage.

Willemijn Verkaik: Brightest Colors - Oberhausen (Stadion Niederrhein), Germany - 05.07.2021
- NFT (1)

Cast: Willemijn Verkaik, Mark Kuypers (piano), Martin Verdonk (drums), Jurriaan Dekker (guitar/cello)

Notes: Willemijn's first concert since the Autumn Night concerts she was a part of in October 2020.

She sounded amazing during this open-air concert and was clearly thrilled to be performing in front of an audience again (though she did forget the lines to Jetzt und Hier right after she entered the stadion). The set-list was mostly the same as the one from last year. This concert has so many highlights, but my personal favourites are her trilingual (Dutch, German and English) version of Into the Unknown from Frozen 2 and Mein Sinn für Stil (My Strongest Suit) from Aida.

Melovely's Concert Audios

Notes: First show of Willemijns 25 jubilee concert. The woman is an absolute powerhouse and she blew everyone away. The crowd was amazing, cheering and clapping a lot. There were some minor technical difficulties in the beginning that caused cracking in the mic. Got better after a few minutes.
