Subject line - Congratulations Jeniffer, on getting.....

Hi Jeniffer,

First, I congratulate you on getting 10,000 followers in just five days.
It takes work to get views and followers at the same time.

I was also creating content for a few months, and what I noticed is that you never know if a post will go viral or not. You just post it at the right time, hoping to get views. But what's in your hand is the interaction section. If you use the right photo and caption for your content, you can nearly transform 45% of your views into followers, and yes, it's possible.

If you would like to create content that produces results similar to your recent post every time, then I could provide you with one similar Instagram ad for free. Just reply to this email with "yes." I have some more ideas for your business, like getting an opt-in page, cool fascinations for your sales page, and a brand new funnel idea to interact with your reader more efficiently, but only if you are open to working together.

If not, then no problem; have a nice day.

With regards,
Paul Dazz
