

The Ultra Girls

A team of female superheroes on Earth in the early Twenty-First century, organized in 2011 after Blakestone and Danielle Caponego rescued Belle Dormond. They are not associated with any government or non-governmental organization, but, when based in the 9th Arrondissement of Paris they had a good relationship with its civic government. The team broke up in early 2022, but reformed later that same year; they are currently headquartered in New York City, specifically in a Greenwich Village brownstone donated to them by the Morrison Institute.
