Panel Discussion	At 10:15 am we will hear from a group of dual enrollment students who participate in the TRiO program at Midlands Tech. Join us for an enlightening panel discussion featuring high school students as they share their unique perspectives on what makes learning in science engaging and impactful. This interactive session will delve into the various dimensions of their educational experiences, highlighting engaging learning experiences, challenges faced, supportive teachers, motivating classwork and encouragement for the future. This panel aims to foster a dialogue between students and educators, offering valuable insights into how to create more engaging and supportive science learning environments. Don't miss this opportunity to learn from the voices of the next generation! SC STC Panel Discussion Description
