

Here we go again, second time typing all of this up

Hello toybox, or friends or toybox OR random bypassers. After finding out my partners groomer was a mod for a pretty big system vtuber I thought it'd be good if my partner finally spoke up about this. Let me preface this with nobody is trying to "cancel" you but you should be held accountable for your actions, or at least apologize to him for it. Remove yourself from online spaces, and stop playing the victim. Nobody Believes it anymore.

Victim Statement

As a DID system this time line of events is very messy, but the best we can do to explain what happened. We split a subsystem because of them and our amnesia actively fights to block off alot of this stuff, and it has taken 3 years to even get to this point of recovery.

We met in the summer of 2021, days before my 15th birthday (August 17th.) It was on ponytown, and we were bonding over our shared south park ponies and the fact we were systems. The first red flag came when a bunch of other people started coming up and harassing them. We didn't know what exactly for, but one of them ended up messaging us to 'stay safe and away' from them.

Once they stopped harassing Toybox we exchanged discords and hopped into a call where we just talked. Everything seemed normal at first until we realized we had met them before. Back when they were 15 and we were around the age of 12 (rough age range) We had first met on the South Park amino where we had a brief relationship. It ended after they left us for somebody else and we bpd split on them, the first time we EVER had a bpd split. But we were young then, so I decided to give it another chance. Somewhere along the lines we ended up making a dm server, where most of these moments down below would happen.

The actual order of these happening aren't known to us by dates, but we'll try our best to chronical them by what we think/know happened first to last.

We remembered they'd send us South Park Child Porn (which included pedophilia, incest, zoophilia, and psuedosnuff) commisioned by and for them. These include things such as Pip being m-lested by a horse, several of the child "international" kids being m-lested or having sex with eachother, Gregory being sa'd by his dad (which was gifted to them as a fanart of one of their fics, more to come on that), Damien being sa'd by Saddam Husein, and Christophe/Ze Mole being r--ped by a dog, covered in cuts and blood and being forced in a cage.

They would also send us their fanfictions, which some of the art was based around. It included much of the same things, but was written by them and uploaded to ao3. This included underaged characters who were siblings in the fic molesting eachother, or being molested via their parents. The fics were only removed after they had been harrassed. They actively found these types of things hot, and at the age of 15, and as people who were already groomed into viewing these things as ok, we agreed.

The behavior dipped from just fiction, as they asked our Gregory alter, who was at the time in love with their Christophe, to roleplay raping them as bonding time. Us, again, at age 15 and with all of our prior grooming, complied. The relationship between this two eventually came to an end when Gregory was so exhausted that he couldn't maintain a conversation with Christophe, who begged him to mate and have kids with him. There was ultimately some confusion which lead to Gregory going dormant as a response.

Often times not being there enough, being busy, or even snapping back when we had enough would warrant an outlash of behavior by them. Which was not limited to, verbal abuse, being forced to rapid switch through gatekeepers to get one to apologize to them, death threats, suicide threats, etc. They excused this behavior by stating it was because we 'were their fp.' They also actively encouraged us to become sexual predators. They'd tell us how they'd let us rape them, abuse them, etc, and how they'd get sexual pleasure from it. (Again note the age difference as they were 17 and we were 15.) They'd also encourage us to groom and molest littles in our system and in their own. They even admitted to pimping out Littles in their system and to others, and had pedophilic alters as little caretakers.

There was an event, and I'll admit to this, where we split and alter and he acted on those urges after we had been encouraged and told it was ok. Our brain did it as a way to make toybox happy, and because we were a naive 15 year old who had, yet again, been through this type of grooming pattern before, didn't realize how disgusting it was till the after fact.

This type of behavior went on until the first time we left them, which resulted in them deleting everything nsfw because of our friend calling them out for being 17 and sending this stuff to a then fresh 15 year old. They would guilt us into coming back, promising change but never truly changing. They would also try and isolate us from our friend at the time because they kept calling them out on Twitter and they kept blaming their suicidal ideation and the fact their 'brand would be tarnished' on this. We did find a way around this, and told toybox that if we blocked our friend the harassment would get worse for them, which was true.

We continued like normal until our fp (OS) got into contact with them. Our relationship with them was NOT the best. I was struggling with my bpd and acted out in an abusive manner towards them whenever I'd split, as this was what I had been taught by others. I was 13-15, and while this isn't an excuse, I sincerely didn't know any better and didn't know how to control myself. Me and OS are now on good terms, and I have since learned what I've done was wrong, and have gotten better and no longer partake in these ways. I have owned up and apologized to them, and we could not be happier.

That being said, my fp confided in them about the type of behavior I had, and Toybox used that. They manipulated them into believing that I had abused them as well. This ended up in them asking us if we were single and wanted to date. I was dating our fp, but my brain, wanting to make Toybox happy, said yes. This ended in them both leaving me, until our fp came back months later. After these (I believe) one to two months they admitted that Toybox had alot went on to abuse them and share the same material. And not only that, but that they had more victims and their abuse spread to people them knew irl.

They ended up trying to excuse their pedophilic behaviors by saying they were an "ex-proshipper" which is. Yeah. But that closes the chapter on our relationship.
